TRUMAN SPEEDS UP EUROPEAN AID; 4 BILLION TO BE SPENT BY APRIL 2

Cannon Promises Swift Congress Action on Supplemental $1,250,000,000 to Last Until June 30.

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—President Truman has ordered full speed ahead on European recovery, authorizing use of the full four billion dollars in Marshall plan grants by next April 2.

The action, announced last night, shortens by three months the period for which the money was appropriated. It means that the new Congress will be asked for a supplemental appropriation — about $1,250,000,000, by estimate of Economic Co-operation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman—to carry ECA through June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Representative Cannon (Dem.), Missouri, promised swift action to fill the gap in the aid program. The veteran lawmaker is due to become chairman of the House Appropriations Committee Jan. 3, which will put him in a position to give a powerful shove to an expected Administration request for the additional Marshall plan funds.

Hoffman has stated ECA will spend at a slower rate in the next fiscal year, but so far has given no estimate.

The ECA administrator disclosed last month he would seek the speed-up and, in fact, has geared his spending to that expectation.

"Time to Hit Hard."

Hoffman told reporters that "substantial" progress now is being made in boosting European production and exports, and that "now is the time to hit and hit hard for recovery."

Congress last April 3 voted the four billion dollars for recovery grants plus another billion for repayable loans. It specified that the money should cover costs up to next July 1—or 15 months—except that the President might authorize its use in 12 months if he deemed it necessary.

The White House disclosed that Hoffman asked for the speed-up on Oct. 29. His letter declared it to be ECA's judgment that only such action would meet "the pressing minimum needs" of the 16 Marshall plan countries, the Allied zones of Germany and Trieste.

Truman's reply, dated yesterday, said:

"After considering your recommendation, I deem it necessary, in order to carry out the purposes of the Economic Co-operation Act of 1948, that the entire $4,000,000,000 be made available as recommended by you."

Does Not Apply to China.

Charles G. Ross, Truman's press secretary, said the speed-up did not apply to to the $275,000,000 China aid program, separately administered by ECA.

The Chinese appropriation was for 12 months. It therefore will run out simultaneously with the present European funds. Another $125,000,000 in a military aid fund for China is virtually exhausted; ECA does not control its spending.

ECA has been footing the bill for European purchases at an average rate of about a billion dollars a quarter, without counting loans to 13 countries which now total $837,000,000.

In his midyear budget review in August, Truman anticipated that

STRIKERS VOTING ON DOCK PACTS; SOME OPPOSITION

2000 in Brooklyn Oppose Agreement, but East Coast Leaders Expect Approval.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association, announced late today that enough votes had been counted to make official acceptance of the proposals to settle the dock strike certain.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP) — Waterfront workers began voting today on whether they will accept agreements that would free most of the nation's merchant fleet from the grip of strikes.

There were isolated criticisms of the new agreements. But at several port cities along the Eastern seaboard, local leaders of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association said last night they expected members to approve the new contract formula in balloting today.

Some of the 65,000 East Coast dock workers—on strike for 18 days—were expected to return to work tomorrow, and the others Monday, if the newly negotiated terms are approved.

Approval Likely on West Coast.

On the Pacific coast, prospects also appeared good that 27,000 striking CIO longshoremen would approve a new tentative agreement in voting today and tomorrow.

Acceptance of both pacts would release 515 strikebound ships and restore large segments of rail and indusrial operations shut down by the pier strike. It would also allow the movement of $30,000,000 worth of Marshall Plan commodities tied up at Eastern docks.

On both coasts, however, some friction arose concerning the proposed settlements.

In Brooklyn late yesterday, a crowd estimated by police at 2000 discussed the terms and voted to oppose acceptance in the official balloting today.

Leaders of the meeting said the group came from 13 Brooklyn union locals with a total of 13,000 members. A delegate from Boston was quoted as saying his port and workers in Philadelphia and Baltimore did not favor the new terms.

Ryan Discounts Session.

The whole session was discounted by Joseph P. Ryan, ILA president, as an "attempt by the Communist party to becloud the issues." He said many of those present are not actually union members, and would have no vote.

Statements made at the meeting were also contradicted by reports from Philadelphia and Baltimore.

In Baltimore, a meeting of longshoremen was reported to have expressed approval of the proposed contract. August C. Idzik, local ILA head, said he had notified employers the men will be back on their jobs Monday if

MISSOURI ARCHERS TRY AGAIN TO BAG DEER WITH ARROWS

2-Year Record of Misses Continues, but They Have Week to Go.

Missouri's bow-and-arrow hunters got a few shots at deer when the special archery season opened yesterday in Taney county, but they still maintained unblemished their two-year record of never having bagged a whitetail.

One archer almost broke precedent but his arrow, fired from only 20 yards at a buck, sailed too high. Another hunter had a shot from about 50 yards, but he, too, missed. Conservation Agent Fred Baker said the deer were plentiful.

Undaunted, the 46 archers, many of them from St. Louis, set out again today in the hilly, heavily-timbered public hunting area of 3000 acres near Mincy, Mo., just north of the Arkansas line. The weather continued good.

The bow-and-arrow enthusiasts have until next Saturday to get a deer. Today and tomorrow, they plan to have "drive" hunts, with a few archers taking positions on deer stands, while the others try to find animals to chase in their direction. If that doesn't work, it will be every man for himself starting Monday.

FOUR-CENT AIR MAIL POSTAL CARD TO GO ON SALE AFTER JAN. 1

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Plans for a new 4-cent air mail Government postal card were announced last night by the Post Office Department.

The new card will be issued in connection with the several postal rate changes which become effective Jan. 1 by act of Congress. Many of the rates will go up on that date, including an advance from 5 to 6 cents for air mail letters. However, air mail postal cards will be an exception, with the rate decreased from 5 to 4 cents.

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson said the new postal will have its first-day sale at the Washington post office on Jan. 10. It will be available at other post offices throughout the country a few days later.

The new card will be the same size as the present one-cent Government postal card, in cream color. The stamp will depict an eagle in flight.

NAVY MEN TEMPORARILY TAKE OVER TRUMAN'S BOX

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Navy took temporary possession of Harry S. Truman's presidential box today.

Some 200 midshipmen had trouble finding seats in the space alloted them. Finally a standee took an empty chair in the presidential box. The President immediately was surrounded by the white-hatted midshipmen.

Then the sailors brought a laugh to the crowd by unfurling a large banner: "Gallup Picks Army." The Army responded "rah, yea, Gallup."

TRUMAN FAMILY AND PARTY ATTEND ARMY-NAVY GAME

Go to Philadelphia on Special Train — St. Louisans With Margaret, Drucie Snyder.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27 (AP)—President Truman joined thousands of other Americans today in watching the Navy football team hold Army to a 21-21 tie. The President, Mrs. Truman and Daughter Margaret took their seats on the Navy side of the Municipal Stadium playing field almost unnoticed by most of the fans.

The Trumans came over from Washington aboard a 12-car special train loaded with nearly 200 families. (At the game, Truman sat between Mrs. Truman and Mrs. Fred M. Vinson, wife of the Chief Justice. The Chief Justice sat to the right of Mrs. Truman. Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, the President's chief of staff, sat next to Mrs. Vinson.

Margaret sat between two young friends of the family from St. Louis, John W. Morrison Jr. of 5296 Westminster place and Robert Lashly of Webster Groves. With them sat Drucie Snyder, daughter of John W. Snyder of St. Louis, Secretary of the Treasury. (Morrison and Lashly were the escorts of Miss Truman and Miss Snyder at the Veiled Prophet ball in October.)

Overnight rains let up early in the day and the sun was shining as the presidential party reached the scene of the forty-ninth service classic.

The special train is one of 37 operated to the stadium by the Pennsylvania railroad. It is the one on which he made his 31,500-mile campaign tour.

Shortly after it left Washington, Truman walked through all the cars shaking hands with practically everybody aboard. He was in a gay mood but he would not speculate on outcome of the game.

"No predictions," he said as he kidded reporters about their own forecasts in the recent campaign in which he won a stunning upset victory.

This is Truman's fourth Army-Navy game as President. He sat with the Navy rooters because he was on the Army side last year.

Other guests of the Trumans aboard the special train in addition to the White House staff were Mr. ad Mrs. G. E. Stewart, family friends from New York City.

Republican Gov. James H. Duff boarded the President's car as part of the official welcoming party. He was accompanied by Senator Myers (Dem.), Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Myers, and Senator Martin (Rep.), Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Martin.

Republican Mayor Bernard Samuel extended the city's welcome and Mrs. Samuel presented corsages to Mrs. Truman and Margaret.

LEAF-BURNER GETS OFF WITH NO FINE; BURNED AUTO, TOO

Alvin Weiss, 3045 Rolla place, told the court such a convincing story today about his hard luck that he was placed on probation by City Judge Thomas E. Hayes Jr.

Weiss told the court that on Nov. 15 he raked leaves from his front lawn, then piled them in the gutter and set fire to them. As soon as they began burning, his child, who was in the house, began crying and he went to investigate. When he returned, he discovered his automobile, which was parked a short distance from the leaves, was enveloped in flames. Weiss rushed to the house and telephoned the fire department.

The fire apparatus was accompanied by the police, who came to investigate the alarm. After he told the officers what had happened they presented him with a police court summons for burning rubbish in the street.

He was fined $5 and costs, the usual minimum being $50 and costs, and the fine was stayed. He told the court he had to sell his automobile for junk for $25.

U.N. ASSEMBLY BACKS UP CHARGE THAT 3 NEIGHBORS AID GREEK REBELS

Approves, 47 to 6, Resolution Condemning Soviet Satellites — Votes to Continue Balkans Border Watch Group.

By EDWARD CURTIS

PARIS, Nov. 27 (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly today condemned Greece's three Communist neighbors today for aiding Greek guerrillas. The delegates also rejected a Russian attempt to call off a U.N. investigation and to force the United States out of Greece.

The Assembly backed up its 58-nation Political Committee by approving, 47 to 6, a resolution submitted by France, Britain, Cina and the United States, condemning Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. Only the six Soviet bloc nations voted against it. Five nations were absent or not voting.

The Assembly approved, 53 to 0, a proposal that Greece and its neighbors establish diplomatic relations and try to settle their frontier problems among themselves. It also adopted unanimously a resolution recommending the return of Greek children to Greece if their parents or close relatives request the return. Many Greek children are classed as refugees in the neighbor countries.

Russians Take Drubbing.

Russia's resolution as a whole was turned down, 47 to 6. The attempt to end the work of the U.N. Special Committee on the Balkans (UNSCOB) was rejected, 45 to 6. The Assembly decision continues UNSCOB, whose investigation report denounced Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania for their roles in the Greek civil war. The committee was set up a year ago, and Russia has boycotted it and demanded its disbandment.

The portion of the Soviet resolution calling for withdrawal of all foreign military personnel from Greece was throw out, 41 to 6. By a vote of 43 to 6, on a show of hands, the Assembly rejected the preamble of the resolution which would have labeled the Greek situation "the result of increased foreign interference in the domestic affairs of Greece." This referred to American and British aid efforts.

A paragraph for removal of discrimination against Macedonians or Albanians living on Greek territory was turned down 37 to 7. The Philippines joined the Soviet bloc on this.

Assembly President Herbert V. Evatt, of Australia, said he regarded the resolution of the Political Committee asking him to mediate in the Balkans as still in operation and said he would continue such efforts. No Assembly action was necessary on this measure.

Dulles Lectures Slav Bloc.

In debate before the balloting, American Delegate John Foster Dulles addressed a lecture directly to the Soviet bloc. He told them the United States does not hate countries which have Communist governments, but:

"What we hate is the use of force, coercion and terrorism to make others accept your views. Abandon those methods and remove the only serious obstacle to world security."

Violent language used by Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky and other eastern European delegates, he said, "is confirmation that Greece's northern neighbors are helping the Communist attempt to overthrow the Greek Government. When men in high official positions assail their colleagues before the United Nations and use violent language, there are lesser followers to use violent deeds."

Dulles spoke after Vishinsky derided UNSCOB investigators as "amateur Sherlock Holmeses," and repeated his characterization of the committee's report as "gar-

TRUMAN CALLED POLLS INACCURATE IN '44, NOTE SHOWS

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Polls may come and polls may go, but Harry S. Truman didn't think any more of them in 1944 than he does in 1948.

A Chicago marketing research firm, Ben Gaffin & Associates, today made public a letter written to one of its staff members by President Truman when he was a member of the United States Senate. The letter, dated Sept. 21, 1944, was in response to a questionnaire on political polls. It read:

"Replying to your questionnaire regarding polls, I am not familiar with them, don't know anything about them, and have no opinion on them except that most of them are inaccurate.

Sincerely yours,
HARRY S. TRUMAN.

Leonard Rosenstein, chief statistician for the Illinois Poll, a survey conducted by Gaffin & Associates and dealing only with Illinois, said "We keep the letter around for laughs."

"I can't agree with him because polls are my business, but I can say the President has been consistent," Rosenstein said today.

(The Illinois Poll forecast that Dewey would carry Illinois and that the races for Governor and Senator would be "a toss-up," Rosenstein said. Truman carried Illinois and a new Democratic Governor was elected by the greatest plurality in state history. The new Democratic Senator-elect won by a thumping lead, too.)

NATIONALISTS BATTLE REDS 40 MILES FROM NANKING, CLAIM FORCE IS ENCIRCLED

Cool Reception for Mme. Chiang Likely on Aid Mission to U.S.

Trip Regarded by Some Officials as Move by China to By-Pass Policy-Makers.

By VINCENT BURKE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (UP)—American policy-makers were reported cool today to Mme. Chiang Kai-shek's plan to visit this country.

The forthcoming trip was viewed in some official quarters as a move by China to bypass the policy-makers and appeal directly to Congress and the American people for more military and economic help.

Though it was generally understood that no official invitation was extended to the wife of Generalissimo Chiang, the State Department refused to say so. This caution presumably was prompted by the belief that such a statement might constitute a "loss of face" for China's already hard-pressed Nationalist Government.

As though in response to China's frantic entreaties for more help, Secretary of State George C. Marshall told reporters Wednesday that the Administration is well aware of the critical situation in the Far East. He added that the United States is seeking the proper means of helping Chiang's Government.

However, Marshall made it clear that the Administration (1) considers the problem complicated and is proceeding cautiously; (2) is trying to determine just how deeply this country can, or should, get involved in the Chinese war; and (3) will have to balance China aid against available supplies and "cold war" commitments elsewhere.

Mme. Chiang said only a few days ago that she did not expect to come to the United States. Her sudden reversal of plans was taken here as further evidence that her husband is not satisfied with President Truman's reply to his own appeal for increased American help. The recent exchange of letters has never been made public.

Truman yesterday rejected a proposal that Chiang himself be invited here to discuss the Chinese crisis. The suggestion was made by Representative Sol Bloom (Dem.), New York, during a White House talk with the President. Bloom quoted the President as saying he did not believe Chiang could afford to leave China at this time.

The 50-year-old American-educated Mme. Chiang last visited the United States in the winter of 1942-43. During her stay, she addressed Congress.

FIGHTING SWEEPS NEARER CAPITAL IN HIT AND RUN SLUGGING MATCH

Chiang's Army Puts Communist Losses at 230,000, Own at 95,000 in 19-Day Battle—Figures Discounted.

NANKING, Nov. 27 (AP)—The battle for the approaches to the Chinese capital of Nanking spread today over a 100-mile radius south of Suchow.

Ten thousand Red troops were reported encircled at Changpaling, only 40 miles north of Nanking, one newspaper said.

Fighting in the immediate vicinity of Suchow was almost ended with the main forces of both the Reds and the Nationalists moving southward in a series of scraps.

A Government field general said the Communists have lost 230,000 men in the 19-day battle. Government losses were reported at 95,000 men. These figures customarily are distorted by the Chinese.

Frm brief reports reaching Nanking, it appeared that the Government troops had abandoned their old system of positional warfare and were slugging it out wherever they came upon the Reds.

Situation in North.

This same phase of the war seemed to be shaping in North China, where Gen. Fu Tso-yi's headquarters in Peiping said he was preparing to meet 280,000 Reds in Hopei province with Tientsin and Peiping as the prizes.

Fu's headquarters intimated that if the Reds did not attack his men, 4000 of whom were reported to have deserted to the Reds three days ago, they would seek them out and engage them in battle. Fu has seemed confident of whipping the Reds in the Peiping-Tientsin corridor, where scattered fire fights have been reported.

Tom Lambert, Associated Press correspondent, toured the front 12 miles southeast of Suchow. He said he saw a few Communist dead or captives in villages where the Reds have been repulsed. He said he and other correspondents saw and heard some artillery fire, but no close-range fighting.

Red Force Put at 450,000.

Field commanders believed the Communists still had 450,000 troops in the area and next would slash southward, trying to cut communications between Suchow and Nanking.

The railway town of Suhsien, 50 miles south of Suchow, was admitted to be still in Communist hands, and the line was cut at other points farther south.

Lambert, in his eyewitness account, said the villagers in the Suchow area displayed the apathetic misery of noncombatants who have found themselves first on one side of the war lines and then on the other.

Long columns of Nationalist infantry plodded across dusty fields towards the battlefront, driving supply-laden burros and horses before them, he reported. All roads were crowded with soldiers, some afoot, some on horseback and some in American-made trucks.

The Government air force was not in evidence, but an occasional shell from Nationalist artillery screamed across toward the Red positions.

Outside one tiny village just recaptured, some 20 dead Communists were sprawled. Nearby Nationalist soldiers toiled at digging trenches and foxholes, ignoring the dead.

Gen. Chiu 'Not Satisfied.'

The correspondents found Gen. Chiu Ching-chuan, commander of the second army group at the village of Liuchi. Chiu said government forces southeast of Suchow inflicted 150,000 casualties on the Reds. In the next breath he admitted he was "not satisfied" with the results of the greatest battle to date in central China.

Gen. Chiu said the Communists launched the battle with a night attack and always used "human sea" tactics. He explained this as the throwing in of wave on wave of troops against government positions in an attempt to overrun them by weight of numbers alone.

Lambert, with correspondents of the United Press and Reuters, witnessed one local action when the Nationalists captured "Three Straws mountain, 12 miles south of Suchow. A Communist regiment was dug in on the mountain when Nationalists, appearing on the slope at dawn, routed it in a bayonet charge. Stretcher-bearers bore the wounded back to Nationalist lines and bodies could be seen on the slope as the skirmish swept over the top of the mountain, Lambert said.

Reports to the Chinese press in Shanghai said the government had launched a diversionary operation out of Tsingtao, 220 miles northeast of Suchow and were already at Chiaohsien, 75 miles up the railway and meeting little opposition.

The government has four new new United States-equipped divisions at Tsingtao, anchorage for the United States western Pacific fleet.

JACK BENNY SHOW WILL SWITCH TO C.B.S. IN JANUARY

Network Refuses to Tell If Change Involves 'Capital Gains' Deal to Save Taxes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Sunday night Jack Benny show switches from the National Broadcasting Co. to the Columbia Broadcasting System next Jan. 2. Date for the move, which had been expected, was set yesterday.

N.B.C. and C.B.S. had been struggling for the comedian's show, and trade circles quoted figures as high as $4,000,000 involved in the deal.

It was not revealed in the C.B.S. announcement whether the move involved a "capital gains" lifetime transaction, under which Benny would get a big lump sum payment for sale of his services and his Amusement Enterprises, Inc., as a business. A C.B.S. spokesman declined to say whether it was a "capital gains" deal.

There has been recent criticism in Congress of such performer "capital gains" transactions, which make the payment subject to a 25 per cent tax instead of the higher personal income taxes from programs sold on a weekly or seasonal basis. Benny's show has been getting $25,000 a week on N.B.C.

Could Save 52 Pct. in Taxes.

By selling the show as a capital gains transaction, Benny could save about 52 per cent in income taxes. The purchase price ordinarily would be subject to 77 per cent income tax.

A capital gains transaction is legitimate, provided it is approved by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

SUBMARINE SEARCH IN GULF OF MEXICO ABANDONED BY NAVY

No Contract Made in All-Night Effort After Report of Sighting.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Nov. 27 (UP)—The United States Navy today discontinued search for an unidentified submarine reported to be cruising within 20 miles of the naval base here.

The base commanding officer told the United Press that he didn't care to talk about the episode, but referred a telephone call to his Chief of Staff, Capt. Ward Harrigan. Harrigan said the search had been discontinued because "we made no contact with the sub."

Asked whether he felt there was such a submarine in the vicinity, he replied: "Well, we have only a pilot's word for it."

The Chief of Staff said that the mysterious submarine, if there was one, had been sighted from the air at 3:55 p.m. yesterday, and that the Navy had conducted an all-night search in the area.

"However, today we gave up after failing to sight evidence of the submarine again," he said.

MRS. ROOSEVELT COMPARED TO FLY BY SOVIET PAPER

MOSCOW, Nov. 27 (UP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was compared to a fly today in a Paris dispatch in the Government paper Izvestia.

The paper reported her statement before the subcommittee on human rights in the United Nations in which she said that the Soviet constitution is "only of pure propaganda significance."

Izvestia said the Soviet constitution, with its broad human rights, is like the sun, which a person like Mrs. Roosevelt cannot darken.

"Can a fly eclipse the sun?" the paper asked.

Toy Thief Shares Loot.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Nov. 27 (UP)—Police reported today that a thief took $6 worth of toys from a drug store and distributed them to neighborhood children. Patrolman Francis Carroll said that parents returned all the toys except one—a white toy dump truck worth 50 cents.

Treating Rowdies as Babies Cures Them of Vandalism, Judge Finds

BOSTON, Nov. 27 (AP) — A little baby treatment—diapers and all—is the thing to curb rowdyism and vandalism. Judge John H. Connelly suggested the treatment might put an end to Thanksgiving day football brawls which were numerous in greater Boston over the holiday.

He explained that his court had excellent results with the treatment. It consists of sentencing the rowdies to live the lives of babies for 24 hours during which they wear diapers, drink from nippled bottles, and play in a baby-pen.

He said no one ever subjected to the "cure" came back to his juvenile court. The Boston juvenile court judge told a Boston Globe reporter that the offenders were placed in custody of their parents who co-operated in imposing the treatment.

A probation officer made the rounds to see that the "sentences" were carried out in full.

"I am very happy," Judge Connelly said, "that not one of those boys has been in any kind of trouble in the year since.

"It cured them of what we explained to them was stupid, unthinking mischief that only babies can be allowed to commit."

The boys were convicted of destroying school property.

8 M.I.T. Students Suspended in Attempt to Blast Letters.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 27 (UP)—Eight students at Massachusetts Institute of Technology have been suspended and another placed on probation as result of an attempt to blast the initials of their school in the turf of Harvard stadium last week.

Dr. Everett M. Baker, dean of students, did not reveal the names of those involved but said they would be required to pay "any costs incidental to their actions." Harvard officers declined to prosecute after satisfying themselves the action was only a prank.

Police said a possible panic among the 57,621 persons at the Harvard-Yale game was averted by discovery of the plot. One student was seized as he prepared to attach wires leading to explosives that would have blasted the initials M.I.T. in 15-foot square letters at the 50-yard line.

Heaviest Fog of Year Blankets City; Visibility Only 50 Yards for a Time

Dense fog, mixed with light smoke, blanketed most of the city and parts of St. Louis county early today. The poor visibility forced motorists, streetcar and bus operators to proceed at a cautious pace, and contributed to a number of minor traffic accidents.

The Weather Bureau, describing it as the worst fog of the year, reported that visibility was reduced to 50 yards from 6 to 7:15 a.m. An hour later visibility had improved to about a half mile, although in some low spots the dense fog had not lifted.

A light smog began to form in the city late last night, and the fog increased in density until this morning in the absence of any wind. The control tower at Lambert-St. Louis Field reported visibility there dropped to one-fourth of a mile for a brief period beginning at 7:25, but it did not interfere with air line operations because none was scheduled at the time. By 8 a.m. the ceiling had lifted to a mile.

The virtually impenetrable fog was heaviest generally in the midtown and downtown areas, and early morning motorists who found driving too hazardous parked their automobiles and continued downtown in taxicabs, streetcars or busses.

A number of automobiles locked bumpers or collided with only minor damage, and no serious injuries were reported. The most serious accident occured at 5:15 a.m. when Louis Koontz, 3517 Cambridge avenue, Maplewood, lost his way in the fog and knocked over a fire hydrant at Goodfellow boulevard and McLaren avenue. Water gushed from the break until repairs were made by city workmen.

Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said St. Louis now has had six fogs since Oct. 24, an unusually large number. Fog conditions were reported generally over a large Midwestern area, although at some points in the area the weather was clear this morning.

HOPE FOR BERLIN SOLUTION FADES, BUT U.N. GROUP REFUSES TO QUIT

Thorp Says U.S. Still Accepts Idea of Soviet Mark for City—Deteriorating Political Situation New Factor.

PARIS, Nov. 27 (AP)—Even as hope for a compromise settlement of the Berlin deadlock dwindled, Assistant Secretary of State Willard L. Thorp said today the United States accepts the idea that the Soviet mark should be used in all of Berlin.

Thorp, who advises the American delegation to the United Nations on Berlin currency questions, told a special news conference that the United States has in no way withdrawn from the agreement to accept the Moscow directives of Aug. 30. He said the Aug. 30 four-power directives were the basis for the Security Council resolution on Berlin which was accepted by the United States, Britain and France and vetoed by Russia Oct. 25.

One American source said the Berlin political situation is deteriorating fast, and asserted it is "very urgent" that a solution be reached over increasing difficulties. He said nothing was in sight except the apparently stalled effort by the Security Council's six neutrals to end the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Blockade the Big Obstacle.

The blockade still stands as the main stumbling block in the whole crisis. The Western powers have said they would not negotiate on the currency question while the blockade remains in force.

The American informant confirmed the view taken by the three Western powers in their replies, announced yesterday, to a questionnaire by Argentina's Juan Bramuglia, Security Council president, who has led the neutral effort for the last two months.

The West does not take the position that a solution is impossible, the American source said, but he added that the point is being approached rapidly where a continuation of the present trend toward two cities will make it impossible to introduce the Soviet mark as a single currency for the entire city.

He said Russian action in Berlin, aimed at further division of the city and its administrative operation, has introduced a new element into the picture.

While the United States and other Western powers still stand on the Aug. 30 Moscow directive as a possible basis for settlement, he said, it is almost impossible to consider an agreement until a unified city administration under four-power control is re-established.

Russia Stands Firm.

Russia in its reply to Bramuglia stood firm on the principles laid down in the tentative agreement reached among the four powers in Moscow last August. Western officials said this leaves the four more or less where they were when their military commanders in Berlin began their fruitless effort to translate the principles of the Moscow agreement into practice.

Despite this, Bramuglia continued his efforts for a settlement. He said he was certain a plan "would be on the move" by Dec. 1, when Fernand Van Langenhove of Belgium will succeed him as Council president. Bramuglia said he did not mean a solution for Berlin would be reached by then.

He was understood to be working on a draft which would create an expert commission including representatives of the neutrals as well as of Russia and the Western powers to try to settle the currency problem.

If Bramuglia's latest effort fails General Assembly President Herbert V. Evatt of Australia, and U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie were expected to seek a new approach to reconcile East and West.

WEST'S SUGGESTIONS TO GERMANS RESENTED

Delegates to Bonn Assembly Object to Efforts to Shape New Constitution.

BONN, Germany, Nov. 27 (AP) — Seven "suggestions" by the three western military governors have aroused resentment among delegates to the Bonn constitutional assembly.

The suggestions had the effect of warning the delegates against giving too much centralized power to the government they are forming.

A Christian Democrat (Conservative) delegate commented: "We always favored a federal (decentralized) system, but from now on we are in a difficult position because the German population will look at federalism as an Allied invention to weaken Germany."

Communist delegates went a step further by proposing the constitutional assembly dissolve itself because it now had been proven it is but "a creation of the occupation powers."

The Communist proposal was rejected when the Assembly decided to regard the suggestions as simply "an explanation" of the intentions of the six-power London conference which proposed the Bonn meeting.

The aide memoire sent by the British, American and French military governors, stated:

1. In a two-chamber system, one of the houses should represent the individual states.

2. The executive power to issue an emergency ordinance should be subject to quick legal and legislative re-examination.

3. There should be no central control in educational, cultural and religious affairs, local administration and public health. (With the exception there may be an agency for co-ordinating state health and public welfare programs. Central control of police should be restricted to functions agreed upon by the military governors. These functions were not specified.)

4. The states would have the power to collect taxes. The government could collect taxes only to carry out the functions for which it is responsible.

5. An independent judiciary should be established for examination of federal legislation and executive actions.

6. The powers of the government should be restricted to matters which cannot be transferred to the states.

7. The members of Parliament should not be permitted to hold other public offices.

ARRESTED IN CAR THEFT, ADMITS PART IN MURDER

CARTHAGE, Mo., Nov. 27 (AP) —Ted Botula, special investigator for the Allegheny (Pa.) district attorney's office, reported today Robert Leeper, 21 years old, of Huntingdon, Pa., had admitted participating in a Pittsburgh tavern holdup killing last Oct. 23.

Leeper was arrested here Tuesday on a St. Louis car theft charge. Held with Leeper on the car theft charge is Joseph Matechem, 23 years old, of East Pittsburgh.

Botula said Leeper admitted driving the car in which he and four other men made a getaway after the holdup of Matt's tavern. The special investigator said Leeper implicated four other men. Botula said he understood that the four have been arrested at Pittsburgh.

Killed in the holdup was Donald Schreckengost, 30 years old, father of four children. Two men were wounded by rifle shots in the scuffle during the holdup.

U.N. CONDEMNS 3 NATIONS FOR AID TO GREEK REBELS

bage." Vishinsky shouted that the report was based on "distortion, falsification and bad faith."

He addressed himself to Dulles and read a newspaper story which said the United States and Britain wanted a strong Government in Athens.

"That's a military dictatorship, isn't it?" Vishinsky asked. "That's what you want, isn't it?"

Vishinsky said the report he read was by Hollingsworth (presumably Clare Hollingsworth, London Sunday Observer correspondent in Athens).

Vishinsky said the accusations of border violations were pretexts for interference in Greece by the United States and Britain. He said Russia would have nothing to do with UNSCOB.

Tsaldaris Speaks for Greece.

Greek Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris told the Assembly "the very existence of my country is threatened." He said "there has been considerable assistance rendered to Communist bands by Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria."

If "the procedure of violence proves to be workable in Greece," Tsaldaris asserted, the international community may one day "bow under the yoke of violence."

Tsaldaris said Greece is co-operating fully in efforts, within the U.N., to mediate Greece's differences with its northern neighbors. He said he would be happy if the efforts are successful and that Greece ardently desires peace.

T. F. Tsiang of China said his country supported the work of UNSCOB. He asserted, "We know what imperialism is when we see it." Pointing out that after World War II, the United States gave up the Philippines and Britain gave independence to India, Pakistan, Burma and Ceylon, he said:

"If the world is menaced only by such types of imperialism, the delegates to the General Assembly can go home and present to their people the best of all Christmas gifts—world peace and world security."

Tsiang was applauded loudly as he finished.

Action on Memberships.

Meanwhile, the Assembly's Political Committee called on the Security Council to reconsider the membership applications of Italy and Finland. Jacob A. Malik of Russia announced he would veto Italy and Finland again and also Portugal, Eire, Trans-Jordan, Ceylon and Austria.

"To single out a series of states favored by the United States and Britain is discrimination," Malik said.

The committee adopted a Swedish resolution yesterday asking the Council to reconsider all the states which have thus far failed to win membership—including Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania, Albania and Outer Mongolia.

That, Malik told the committee today, "rejected the principle of discrimination" and made all further resolutions on the membership question futile.

A working group of the Political Committee completed a report setting forth points on which resolutions submitted in the Palestine case are in agreement. The committee is expected to resume debate on the Palestine issue Monday.

DEMOCRATS PLAN TO ASK WAGNER TO STAY IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) —Democratic party strategists plan to ask the veteran Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York to retain his Senate place for the next two years.

One party adviser who asked that his name not be used said yesterday Wagner, who has been in poor health in recent years, also will be asked to pass up chairmanship of the Senate Banking Committee.

A definite understanding on both these points is expected early next week when Robert F. Wagner Jr., son of the Senator, comes here for a series of conferences with Democratic strategists, including Leslie L. Biffle, staff director of the Democratic policy committee in the Senate.

The Democrats desire to retain their 54-52 margin over Republicans in the new Senate brought the agreement to ask Wagner to remain in office even if he is unable to attend sessions.

If Wagner should resign, his place almost certainly would go to a Republican because, under New York state law, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey would make the appointment. The junior New York senator, Irving M. Ives, is a Republican.

Wagner, now 71 years old, was one of the party wheel horses in the vigorous legislative era of the New Deal. Senate records show that his last vote in the Senate was on May 27, 1947. He has been absent from the Senate most of the time during the last two years.

WHY BIKINI REPORT WASN'T PUBLISHED

Forrestal Recommended It Be Withheld for Security Reasons.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) —The defense establishment said yesterday that Secretary Forrestal recommended that the final official report on the 1946 Bikini atom bomb tests be withheld from publication for reasons of national security. The recommendation was made to President Truman.

Bradley Dewey, a civilian member of the evaluation board which reported to the joint chiefs of staff, in an article in the Atlantic Monthly, called for publication of the report as a step to prevent a future war. He said the report "has been sleeping at the White House" for months.

In answer to queries by reporters, the defense establishment said in memorandum:

"The report of the joint chiefs of staff evaluation board for the Bikini tests, edited for publication, was submitted to Secretary Forrestal with the comment of the joint chiefs of staff that certain recommendations it contained were outside their province of purely military assessment.

"After consultation with the State Department, Secretary Forrestal forwarded the report to the President with the recommendation that it be withheld from publication for the present in view of the probable effect upon the national security."

The report was sent to the White House by Forrestal on April 6 of this year, Forrestal's aid said in answer to a question.

M'ARTHUR RELAXES POSITION SLIGHTLY ON WAR EXECUTIONS

TOKYO, Nov. 27 (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters, though still refusing to let newspaper men witness the execution of Hideki Tojo and six other convicted war criminals, relaxed his position slightly today.

Col. M. P. Echols, MacArthur's publicity chief, agreed, on the importuning of correspondents, to release a bulletin "as soon as possible" after the hangings are secretly carried out at Sugamo prison. Details will follow, Echols said, as soon as they can be "prepared in the form of a typed release."

The previous plan called for release of the news at 10 a.m., regardless of when the men were hanged.

MacArthur has refused to permit even one newspaper man to witness the hangings, although the Army, in the execution of top German Nazis, permitted a "pool" man representing the major news services to attend those executions.

Earlier, Col. Echols had said he did not think the executions would be carried out on Sunday. They are likely to occur any time after that, but the general opinion here is that the seven will be hanged on Wednesday.

Echols said condemned men usually are given a reasonable time to get their affairs in order. Their appeals were reviewed and denied last Wednesday by MacArthur.

$2200 SHOWERED ON CHILDREN CHASING CAT GOES TO PARENTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (UP)— Dr. and Mrs. Chester Myron will get $2200 next Friday morning because of a cat, the four Myron children and some old radiators.

Eight years ago, the Myrons moved into their present home. At the time, they had new radiators installed and the old ones stored in the attic of their garage. Last August, their twin boys and two girls chased the family cat into the garage attic. Suddenly, a shower of paper bills descended on them from between the radiator pipes.

The Myrons turned the money over to the police property bureau. The former owner of the house claimed the money belonged to his mther-in-law who had lived there. Then it was found she died in 1932 and the money was printed in 1934. Today, the bureau ruled that the Myrons could keep the money, and told them to pick it up next Friday.

TITO ASSERTS RED FOES FORCE SHIFT IN FIVE-YEAR PLAN

Statement on Revamping Because of Cominform's Trade Restrictions Given to Foreign Press.

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS

BELGRADE, Nov. 27 (AP) — Premier Marshal Josip (Tito) Broz says trade restrictions by Cominform nations have forced Yugoslavia to revamp its five-year plan.

His announcement, released last night to the foreign press, was made Thursday before the second Congress of the Croatian Communist party in Zagreb.

Tito declared the "regrouping" of Yugoslav industrialization did not mean a backward step. He said it would lead to the same ends of the five-year plan. A successful achievement of the plan will be Yugoslavia's answer to all slanders, he asserted.

Anti-Tito Letter in Pravda.

The Cominform—Communist Information Bureau—has accused Yugoslav leaders of deviating from the Marxist-Leninist line.

(In Moscow the Communist party newspaper Pravda ran the text of a letter assailing Tito. Pravda said the letter was approved by an "illegal meeting of Communists in Belgrade."

(A Sofia dispatch from the Soviet news agency Tass said the Bulgarian newspaper Rabotnichesko Delo first ran the letter. Tass said 104 Yugoslav Communists and non-party men attended the meeting.)

Lashing out at Yugoslav reactionaries and Communist critics alike, Tito promised a sharpening fight against capitalistic remnants and against those of the Yugoslav Communist party who support the Cominform resolution condemning Yugoslavia. "This minority must bow before us or disappear," he said.

He declared his Communist critics had "taken into their heads they were Marxist ideologists." He called them megalomaniacs (those possessing delusions of grandeur.)

Changes in 5-Year Plan.

Tito said the industrial changes simply would do away with too broad a program and mean the deepening of those efforts which will most quickly lead to a Socialist state. He said, "We are not decreasing the volume of the five-year plan though we are reorganizing and regrouping internally, taking what is most essential for our planned work."

Tito listed the first aim as concentration on heavy industry and capital construction. Yugoslavia, he said, will set out to build factories, foundries, oil drills, petroleum plants, and coke ovens. But before that, he declared, it is necessary to build apartment houses for the workers and to create comfortable living conditions for them so they will not change their jobs continually.

The Premier contended Yugoslavia is aiming toward the only kind of socialism he said can exist.

"There are not two kinds of socialism," he said. ". . . There are many roads leading toward . . . socialism and they are conditioned by special conditions of the country in question, by the stage of development in which the country finds itself, and even by the customs of the people created through long centuries in a country such as ours.

"That is why megalomaniacs are greatly mistaken. They are deceived in thinking they can create socialism better than the socialism we are creating.

"We shall see in the very near future whether they were right or we are right. They will see they were mistaken and we are not mistaken."

Warning to Opponents.

Tito virtually doomed both "capitalistic remnants" and Cominform sympathizers who, he said, refuse to "learn hw to behave in a country which is building socialism and who continue to obstruct the Yugoslav program."

He said Communist leaders should use two methods with opposition peasants: "the method of persuasion by words" and, if that does not work, then "by the method of persuasion on their backs." He added, "I think everyone knows what that means."

Tito warned that those who still support the Cominform against him "will get the same answer as the reactionary elements what attempted to oppose us."

The United Nations Economic Commission for Europe unanimously recommended in Geneva last night that Yugoslavia receive an additional 50,000 tons of metallurgical coke from western Europe in the first quarter of 1949. The allotment is partly to meet increased requirements and partly to make up for reduced imports from Poland.

Under previously existing bilateral agreements Yugoslavia is to receive 10,000 tons of coke from The Netherlands and 50,000 tons from Czechoslovakia during the first quarter.

21 ON PAKISTAN AIRLINER REPORTED KILLED IN CRASH

BOMBAY, Nov. 27 (UP) — Reports reached Bombay today that all 21 persons, including two Americans and seven Britons, aboard a Pakistan Airways C-47 were killed when it crashed yesterday 196 miles frm Lahore.

The Americans were crewmen. They were described as Capt. Geyser, the pilot, a native of Missouri whose home address was Los Angeles, and a radioman named Aphen.

Among the British victims was Sir William Grigson, former Indian civil service employe and leader of the House in the Hyderabad Legislative Assembly in 1947. Also listed among the passengers were Moir Maqbool Mahmood, former director of the Chamber of Princes, and John Betty, member of the Pakistan Ministry of Food.

GREEK PREMIER RALLIES AFTER DOCTORS GIVE UP HOPE

ATHENS, Nov. 27 (AP)—Aged Greek Premier Themistokles Sophoulis was clinging to life today, hours after doctors had abandoned all hope for him. He suffered two heart attacks, one Wednesday and one Thursday.

The 88-year-old Premier remains conscious most of the time but his heart action is weakening. A late bulletin said he had rallied slightly. Doctors said he might continue the same way for 24 or 48 hours. Earlier, he was reported sinking fast and received the last sacraments of the Greek Orthodox Church.

The doctors offered him an egg this morning but he declined, saying he preferred a glass of beer. He was given the beer.

ST. LOUISAN, 3 OTHERS HURT WHEN AUTO HITS LOCOMOTIVE

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 27 (AP)—Four persons were injured when their automobile collided with a Frisco railway engine at a grade crossing near the business district here last night.

Injured were James Flowers, Blytheville; Mrs. Mina Seagroves, Blytheville; Charles Cassidy, Steele, Mo., and B. U. Mayfield, St. Louis. All but Mayfield were being treated in a hospital and their conditions were described as fair.

VA Sets Up Minimum Standards For Houses Built With G.I. Loans

Code Covers Materials, Construction Details —To Protect Veterans, Not Stereotype Building Plans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)— The Veterans Administration today set minimum building standards for G.I.-loan houses.

They are designed to protect home-buying World War II veterans from shoddy construction or from being cheated by unprincipled contractors or salesmen, the agency said. They go into effect Dec. 15.

The rules specify the minimum quality of materials, construction techniques, workmanship, equipment installation and structural details necessary for veterans loan guarantees.

The G.I. standards parallel the minimum construction requirements of the Federal Housing Administration. The veterans agency emphasized they are not intended to standardize house plans or discourage builders from including extra features.

Earlier this year the VA set up an appraisal service to give builders a pre-construction price estimate of "reasonable value," based on the building plans. Periodic inspections by VA representatives, as the appraised houses were being built, assured the veteran-buyer that the property was meeting specifications.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray Jr. said the pre-construction appraisals hereafter will be given only when the plans and specifications meet the new minimum building standards.

Gray said in a statement that a veteran building a home of his own doesn't have to use the new building guide. Such a veteran needs only to meet the G.I. bill requirements that his house is "suitable for dwelling purposes" and that its cost does not exceed reasonable value as determined by VA.

Gray said his agency also is ready to aid in site selection and in architectural design and arrangement of veterans houses. These guides are not mandatory, but are strongly recommended, he said, and will be considered when new properties are appraised for G.I. loan purposes.

STALIN, MUSSOLINI AND HITLER ALL HAD HARSH FATHERS

Psychiatrist Asks Whether This Lay Back of Dictators' Cruelty.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP) —A psychiatrist said last night he has it from an eye-witness that Joseph Stalin, as a boy, was bossed around plenty by his old man—and didn't like it a bit.

Asserting that life with father was also rough on two other lads who grew up to be dictators — Hitler and Mussolini — Dr. Edward A. Strecker of the University of Pennsylvania posed these questions:

"Could it be that the cold, rigid father authority of their childhoods conditioned in the dictators a hatred of all authority other than their own?

"Could it be that, in their ruthless behavior toward the helpless, the leading motif is revenge for the indignities and pain inflicted upon them as children?"

In a lecture at the National Naval Medical Center, Strecker said:

"Perhaps it is a coincidence, but, if so, it is a highly suspicious one, that there is a similarity of pattern in the child lives of three dictators, Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin. At the hands of their fathers, they all suffered non-loving brutal authority and became attached, perhaps too deeply bound, to their mothers. It is noteworthy, too, that the rulers of Russia, the members of the Politburo, all suffered personally from the Czarist regime."

The doctor declared without amplification, "the author has access to a reliable eye-witness account of Stalin's childhood in his native village of Georgian Russia."

WIDOW ACCUSED OF KILLING OF NEGRO LAID TO MASKED MEN

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 27 (AP) —The widow of Robert Mallard, Toombs county Negro whose death was attributed to masked men, was arrested at his funeral today and charged with murder.

Lt. W. E. McDuffie of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, said two other Negroes and a white man were being held in Lyons, Ga., as material witnesses to the Mallard killing last week.

McDuffie did not comment on the motive for the killing of Mallard, but added: "I think the Ku Klux Klan has been wrongfully accused in this case. It is our belief they are not guilty of shooting Mallard."

The GBI officer said the witnesses being held are William Tim Carter, 18, a Negro, and his 13-year-old sister, Emma Lean Carter. The white man was identified by McDuffie as Frank Brinson, a farmer, the first man to reach the scene after the killing which Mallard's wife, Amy James Mallard, said was committed by armed and masked men from ambush.

CALIFORNIA BRUSH FIRE FANNED BY HIGH WIND

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27 (AP) —Gales roaring across the San Gabriel mountains fanned a raging brush fire high on the slopes of 10,080-foot Mt. Baldy today. By mid-morning, flames were a mile from the nearest settlement.

Sweeping from the north, the fire had chewed into 600 acres of the upper end of San Antonio canyon near picturesque San Antonio falls. It was burning largely in brush and manzanita in the sparsely-timbered area from which Mt. Baldy gets it name.

At its nearest point it was a mile from Manker Flats, settlement of about 12 cabins at the crest of the San Antonio canyon road. Farther down the canyon, and in no immediate danger, are the more heavily settled resorts of Snowcrest and Camp Baldy.

Winds were at 60 miles or more an hour during the night and showed no signs of decreasing this morning. Small-craft warnings were ordered continued for another 24 hours along the coast.

ATLANTIC TREATY DRAFT REPORTED READY FOR U. S.

Proposed Pact Drawn Up by Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP) — Authoritative diplomatic sources said yesterday the five nations of the Brussels Alliance have completed their draft of a proposed defense pact with the United States and Canada.

The pact may be submitted to the United States and Canada in Washington next week.

Representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg completed work on the document in London several days ago and handed it over to their governments for approval. Several suggested changes, mostly in phraseology, have now been incorporated, it was reported.

There has been no official disclosure on the terms of the draft, but it is believed to provide for a 50-year alliance without definitely committing the Western Hemisphere countries to go to war should there be an attack on one of the members.

There is no indication how far the document goes in providing for other European nations, such as the Scandinavian countries, Italy, Portugal or Spain, to join later.

Diplomatic officials said an attempt will be made in Washington to complete a treaty in time for President Truman to lay it before Congress on Jan. 20.

BRITISH BIOLOGIST RESIGNS FROM RED SCIENCE ACADEMY

LONDON, Nov. 27 (AP)—A British biologist has resigned from the Soviet Academy of Sciences because of what he termed attempts to "mutilate scientific truth" in the interests of Communist political creed.

Sir Henry Dale, in a letter published in the Times, attacked the theories of genetics advocated by T. D. Lysenko, director of the Lenin Academy of Genetics.

Lysenko, who teaches that acquired characteristics can be transmitted to succeeding generations, has had his view adopted as official in the Soviet Union. Dissenting Soviet scientists have been warned to fall into line.

In giving up his honorary membership in the Soviet academy, Dale said it had restricted by decree all research and teaching in genetics to a "politically imposed orthodoxy."

He charged Lysenko's theories were "a doctrine of evolution which, in effect, denies all the progress made by research in that field since . . . early in the nineteenth century."

Dale said there had been "many attempts to suppress or to mutilate scientific truth in the interests of some extraneous creed but none has had a lasting success; Hitler's was the most recent failure."

COAL STRIKE ENDS IN FRANCE, REDS ORDER MEN BACK

Communist-Led Walkout Cost Country 9,000,000 Tons in Output.

PARIS, Nov. 27 (AP) — The management of the nationalized coal industry said today it considers ended the long Communist-led miners' strike which cost France almost 9,000,000 tons of coal.

More than 90 per cent of the miners are back at work. In the big northern fields, the management said, miners who do not return within six days will be regarded as having quit.

Strike leaders conceded late today that the walkout is over. They ordered all miners back on the job Monday.

Communist leaders of the General Confederation of Labor called the strike Oct. 4. Violence erupted a number of times, but a back-to-work movement gained strength after police and troops drove pickets from pitheads early in November.

SHARP ELECTRICITY CUT MADE IN SOVIET ZONE OF REICH

BERLIN, Nov. 27 (AP)—Use of electricity in the Soviet occupation zone of Germany was ordered cut sharply today, reflecting the pinch of the Western Allies's counter-blockade of the zone. The curtailments affect industrial, commercial and domestic users.

Power for homes will be cut off five hours daily and use of electricity for cooking was forbidden where any other means are available. Power to stores and offices is to be cut off nine hours each day. Among the industrial restrictions is a weekly "power saving day" in addition to Sunday, which might mean a total shutdown on that day.

Meanwhile, the American commander in Berlin, Col. Frank Howley, warned Berlin Communists he would tolerate no further removals of railway equipment from the United States sector to the Soviet sector.

6TH-FLOOR WINDOW WON'T LET IN CAB AS EVIDENCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (UP)— Plans to hoist a full-sized taxicab into a sixth-story courtroom as evidence in a murder trial failed today, but the prosecution won't give up.

The vehicle was to have been lifted through a large window in the Central Courts Building, but the window is too small. The taxicab's owner, Maurice Braunstein, is accused of using the taxicab to run over and kill a Chinese mess boy, Yong Hong Keng. Braunstein is accused of pushing the mess boy out of the taxicab, running over him and robbing the body.

The district attorney's office will either dismantle the car and bring it into court piecemeal or take the jury outside.

ENVOY TO U.S. FROM OUSTED VENEZUELA GOVERNMENT QUITS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)— Gonzalo Carnevali, the Venezuelan Ambassador to the United States, has resigned. The Government which appointed him was overthrown this week.

Carnevali said last night that the resignation of its representative in Washington was necessary "to avoid wrong interpretations on the dignity of his position here."

However, Carnevali said, as long as the United States still recognizes the old Government in Venezuela no new envoy can be chosen. Therefore, "I will remain as Ambassador," he said, "until my successor is named."

LEFT-WING FARM EQUIPMENT GROUP ORDERED BY CIO TO JOIN AUTO UNION

Executive Board May 'Act to Implement Decision' if Merger Is Not Arranged in 60 Days on 'Sound' Basis.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 27 (AP) —The CIO executive board today ordered the left-wing Farm Equipment Workers union to take "immediate steps" to affiliate with the United Auto Workers.

The board adopted a resolution introduced by UAW President Walter Reuther. If the amalgamation is not arranged on a "sound" basis in 60 days, the executive board may "act to implement this decision."

CIO President Philip Murray said Grant Oakes, president of the Farm Equipment Workers, spoke against the resolution. Murray said it carried by a "very substantial majority"—he didn't know the exact vote.

The UAW, which has nearly a million members, many of them in the agricultural implement field, has engaged for years in a bitter jurisdictional feud with the smaller Farm Equepment Workers Union.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 27 (AP) —The CIO executive board prepared today to launch what Philip Murray calls "the mightiest organizing crusade" in American history.

Starting his ninth year as CIO president, Murray demanded a campaign of this size yesterday as the CIO convention adjourned. The first step was up to the executive board.

The convention gave to the board the power to take whatever action may be "appropriate and necessary" to organize workers in fields where CIO unions have failed to do the job.

Many CIO leaders expected the board today to hand this enormous power over to Murray, Secretary-Treasurer James Carey, and the nine CIO vice presidents. All those officers were re-elected yesterday without a peep of opposition.

Murray Names Three Fields.

Murray has already named three of the organizing fields, and the unions that have "failed" in them, as follows:

1. White-collar workers (United Office and Professional Workers' Union).
2. Governmental employes (United Public Workers).
3. Retail clerks (Retail and Wholesale Union).

Murray, during the convention, pounded leaders of three other small unions with scornful criticism. They are the Food and Tobacco Workers, the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, and the American Communications Association.

Leaders of all six unions, with the exception of the Retail and Wholesale Union, were in the left-wing opposition to Murray's policies in the convention debates. Murray told them forcefully that he will not protect "cliques" of men whose interests are promoted by the Communist party.

Re-elected by Acclamation.

Yesterday, the convention delegates re-elected President Murray by acclamation. They put on a screeching, banging, parading, band-playing, confetti - throwing demonstration that lasted 39 minutes. The small, unhappy minority of Communists and their associates stood quietly by their chairs.

Carey got the next longest ovation—13 minutes. Albert J. Fitzgerald, one of the nine vice presidents, got the shortest—one minute.

Fitzgerald is head of the United Electrical Workers, which has been accused of being Communist - dominated. Fitzgerald bolted CIO policy to support Henry Wallace in the last campaign.

Murray hurled a final thunderbolt at the Communists, rounding out a week when he has attacked them every morning and every afternoon. He said sternly that he will never permit "Communist infiltration" into the national CIO movement (that is, the activities carried on by the CIO itself, as contrasted with those of the individual CIO unions).

He asked CIO unions that are spreading "Communist doctrines" —and he said there are only a few of these unions—to "cease and desist" such practices and tell their memberships what this convention did.

Replies to AFL.

Murray replied to the AFL's latest invitation to the CIO to return to the fold. He told the convention that the CIO is prepared to meet with AFL leaders to consider "plans of a social, economic, and political nature designed to advance the cause of the American people."

This was no change in the CIO's position, and no merger seems likely. Yet Murray's words were interesting for two reasons:

1. He didn't take the usual pokes at the AFL. At other conventions he has called AFL leaders "rusty-bottomed" and made the delegates laugh with his humorous references to "old Bill Green."

2. Because of the national election results, bringing a sudden upswoop in labor's political fortunes, there may be more basis now for political co-operation between the CIO and AFL than heretofore.

OFFICER OF TEACHERS' GROUP

Mark A. Neville, head of the English department at John Burroughs School, was elected first vice president of the National Council of Teachers of English, at a meeting of the group yesterday in Chicago.

Dr. Marion C. Sheridan of New Haven, Conn., was elected president. The council authorized appointment of a committee to study any incidents of censorship in instructional materials in this country.

EAST SIDE UNION MOVES TO SUSPEND 125 CAB DRIVERS

Inability to Negotiate Contract With Employers Is Given as Reason.

Action to suspend 125 taxicab drivers from the AFL Teamsters & Chauffeurs Local 729, of East St. Louis, has been started by the local's executive board because the union never has been able to negotiate a contract with employers, it was announced today.

The proposed suspension, which is subject to confirmation by the international union, follows the most recent dispute, in which 60 drivers of Checker Cabs went on strike Nov. 19. The union statement, issued by T. E. Hassell, business agent of Local 729, said the executive board authorized suspension action "due to the fact that in past years Local 729 has been unable to negotiate an agreement with taxicab owners."

"Taxicab drivers formerly were led by irresponsible members, who are not officers of the union," the statement continued. "This resulted in inability to negotiate an agreement with employers, and the union is not justified in accepting dues from members for which it does not negotiate." Dues are $3 a month.

In their dispute with the management of Checker Cabs, the drivers protested against an increase of 50 cents a day, to $8, in the daily cab rental charged the drivers by the company. Efforts to settle the dispute at a meeting yesterday failed. The 125 taxicabs drivers form a small group in Local 729. Drivers work for five taxicab firms in East St. Louis.

NEW POLICE PAY INCREASE TO BE URGED BY KAUFMANN

A new increase in pay for St. Louis police will be urged by Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann at a luncheon he will give Dec. 6 at Hotel Statler for members of the State Legislature from St. Louis and St. Louis county. He said today he would outline the city's legislative program, which includes higher police pay, at the luncheon.

St. Louis police, which are under state control, received pay increases averaging 11 per cent under a bill passed by the General Assembly last April. The Board of Police Commissioners had requested increases averaging 25 per cent, and the city administration supported that request.

The Mayor did not say how large a police pay increase he favored, indicating he probably will follow the recommendation of the Police Board in that regard. He pointed out he had urged a third round salary increase for city employes because their pay is lagging behind that of employes in private industry. The Mayor said he thought policemen are entitled to increased salaries for the same reason. The new Legislature convenes in January.

ONE SHOT, 2 HURT AS WORKERS AT MINE FOIL HOLDUP ATTEMPT

HARMARVILLE, Pa., Nov. 27 (AP) — Employes of a steel company coal mine routed three robbers yesterday and saved a $58,000 payroll after a fight in which two workers were wounded.

A mine plant guard was held briefly as a hostage during a wild getaway ride by the would-be robbers of the Republic Steel Corp. mine at nearby Indianola.

George Higgins, of Harmarville, mine accountant, suffered a gunshot wound in the leg. Ira Lacey, mine electrician, seized a pistol and began firing at the bandits during the melee, but hit none. He was beaten on the head with a revolver.

Mine policeman Allum Grim was forced to accompany the robbers in their auto. Grim was released about an hour later, 10 miles from the mine. He was dazed and beaten.

$7907 IN VALUABLES STOLEN FROM BRENTWOOD RESIDENCE

Mrs. Estelle L. Grooms, widow of William L. Grooms, vice president and secretary of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of St. Louis, reported to Brentwood police yesterday that $7907 worth of jewelry, furs and silver service was stolen from her home at 79 York drive, Brentwood, Wednesday night.

The fact that the home was broken into was discovered Thursday, police reported, but Mrs. Grooms was out of the city and did not return home until yesterday. The most valuable items taken, police said, were a mink coat and a silver tea service, each valued at $2500. Entrance to the home was gained by forcing open the rear door.

CHRISTMAS TREE SHOWN AS IT WAS IN EARLIER DAYS

Historical Society Exhibit Includes Gingerbread Decorations, Old-Time Toys.

A Christmas tree festooned with gingerbread cookie decorations more than 50 years old is a part of the Missouri Historical Society's third annual Christmas exhibits in the west wing of Jefferson Memorial, Forest Park.

The display includes ornate toy furniture of the Victorian era, corn shuck dolls from the 1890s and a set of wooden toys made in Holland in 1817.

Older visitors are amused by wistful mementoes of Yuletide sentiment in the last century such as lace-paper doily received with a corsage by a St. Louis girl in 1870. Young men-about-town of former days, in tight collars and bowler hats, have left a collection of Christmas calling cards bearing their likenesses.

Santa Claus himself appears to have undergone considerable change since the last century, as seen in old greeting cards on display. He was much thinner than the hearty present-day patron of the season, and had a sad and tender look.

COUNTY CIRCUIT JUDGES SPENT $2000 EACH IN CAMPAIGN

Two St. Louis County circuit judges have reported they spent more than $2000 each in their campaigns for re-election but two St. Louis circuit judges, who hold office under the non-partisan court plan, listed no expenditures. The reports were filed in the recorder of deeds offices in the city and county.

Circuit Judge Fred H. Mueller of St. Louis County said he spent $2056 in the primary and general elections, including $1100 given to the County Republican Central Committee. Circuit Judge Amandus Brackman listed expenses totaling $2047, including $1080 for the committee.

The St. Louis circuit judges who spent nothing are William H. Killoren and Francis Emmett Williams. Circuit Judge Joseph J. Ward listed 3 cents spent for a postage stamp to file his declaration of candidacy.

Other campaign expenditures listed in the city were: Congressman Frank M. Karsten (Dem.), Thirteenth district, $1030; Edwin R. Wagner, Republican, defeated for coroner, $2882; Excise Commissioner Arthur H. Bader, defeated for circuit attorney, nothing.

WOMAN HELD FOR GRAND JURY IN HUSBAND'S DEATH IN ALTON

Mrs. Ruth Cole, 36-year-old housewife, was held today for the Madison county grand jury, following a coroner's verdict of homicide naming her in the shotgun killing of her husband, William The inquest was held last night at Alton.

Cole, a mechanic at the Shell Oil Co. refinery, was shot in the chest Wednesday at his home, 2319 Washington avenue, Alton. His wife called police, saying she had killed her husband.

Mrs. Cole fainted at the inquest after refusing to testify. The principal witness was her father, Edward Martin of Mineral Springs, Tex., who was in the Cole home on a visit when the shooting occurred.

NEW POLICEMAN SUSPENDED AFTER TRAFFIC QUARREL

Had Acted as Unauthorized Bodyguard — Revolver Lost in Scuffle, Fired in Air.

Thomas C. Arms, rookie policeman, was under suspension today because of a series of incidents yesterday when he acted as unauthorized bodyguard for a tavern owner and lost his revolver in a scuffle following a minor automobile accident at Lindell boulevard and Spring avenue. His revolver was discharged in the air in the scuffle.

Arms, on duty and in uniform, was driving the automobile of William Gipson, proprietor of the 1121 Club, a tavern at 1121 South Grand boulevard. He had accompanied Gipson to two banks to obtain cash for the tavern. When making a left turn at Spring avenue, Gipson's machine hit the rear fender of an automobile being driven east in Lindell by Wallace Short, 329 East Jefferson street, Kirkwood, a student at Missouri School of Mines.

Both machines stopped and the occupants conferred about the negligible damage. Short and his companion, Norman Leigh, 951 Edna avenue, Kirkwood, also a student at the School of Mines, reported that Arms failed to give his name. When Short made a note of the number of Arms' police badge and of the license on Gipson's 1947 convertible, Arms is reported to have grabbed both students. Short pulled away and Arms drew his service revolver. Leigh struck the officer's arm, and the revolver was discharged in the air.

Leigh grabbed the revolver from Arms and passed it to Short. Gipson then seized the weapon and thrust it in the waistband of his trousers as the scuffle continued. At this juncture Detective Sgt. Walter Ziegenhein drove up in a police car, stopped the fight and took the four participants to Lucas Avenue Station. Arms was examined by a police surgeon and pronounced suffering from "a mild form of alcoholism." He was immediately suspended by Capt. William Pleitner, which means that his salary stops until the Board of Police Commissioners decide his case. There were no changes against Gipson, Short or Leigh.

Arms reported that he made the trip to the banks at the request of Gipson, whose tavern is on Arms' beat. He denied having taken any drinks. Department officials said it is against policy for officers to accompany merchants on trips to banks, and Arms had no permission to do so.

Arms was appointed to the force last July 5 and was assigned to Magnolia Avenue District. He is married and lives at 3963 Burgen avenue. His father is Sgt. Cody Arms, a motorcycle policeman.

POST OFFICE URGES EARLY MAILING OF CARDS, PACKAGES

The lackadaisical attitude of St. Louisans about mailing Christmas cards and packages has the post office authorities in a dither. The post office has an ample supply of Christmas workers, but no work for them.

"In the past years," Postmaster Bernard F. Dickmann said plaintively, "our Christmas mails started shortly after Nov. 15. We thought it would be the same this year and accordingly swore in and bonded thousands of people to work as temporary Christmas workers. They are ready and waiting to start work, but there is no work for them because there has been no Christmas mailing."

He urged "postal patrons" to mail at once, especially parcels and cards destined for distant places. He added that there would be no bottleneck just before Christmas, if everyone "will please mail promptly."

POLICEMAN KILLS BOY, 15

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 27 (AP)—A 15-year-old boy was shot to death yesterday by county policemen in South Park. The boy was one of four who fled when police answered a burglar alarm attached to a telephone pay station at the park pool. He was Thomas Wright of suburban Knoxville.

Two of the boys later where taken in custody and police said the identity of the fourth is known. No charges had been filed either against the boys or Patrolman Gerard Mills, who was reported to have fired the fatal shot.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27 (UP) —An airplane was involved in a collision yesterday with a ferryboat. William Walsh was taxiing a small seaplane along the Delaware river when he collided with the boat. A crash crew rescued Walsh.

Wife Cites 'Ingenious Indignities'

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27 (UP)— Mrs. Florence Heller, 38 years old, filed suit for divorce yesterday, charging her husband, Otto, 35, poured water on her while she slept. In addition, Mrs. Heller said, there were "other ingenious indignities too numerous to mention."

ONE HUNTER KILLED, FIVE OTHERS HURT IN BOAT EXPLOSION

Helena (Ark.) Group Was Preparing to Leave on Duck-Shooting Trip.

HELENA, Ark., Nov. 27 (AP)— One man was killed and five others injured, two gravely, when a river cabin cruiser was demolished by an explosion here yesterday.

Occupants of the craft were preparing to start up the Mississippi river on a duck and goose hunt when the explosion occurred.

E. E. Askew, West Helena lumber dealer, was killed.

J. C. Campbell of Oneita, recently appointed to the Arkansas game and fish commission, suffered fractures of both legs and other injuries.

Dr. W. R. Orr, Helena, a retired physician, suffered from shock and a compound fracture of the right ankle. Physicians feared he might lose his right leg.

E. B. Hicks, of West Memphis, a district game warden, suffered cuts on the face. Wheatley Cook, Barton, Ark., farmer, suffered a few cuts.

The pilot, C. R. Graves of Blytheville, an employe of the game and fish commission, suffered fractures of both ankles.

DEAN OFFERS HOME AS BOND FOR CAT AND DOG SELLER

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27 (AP)— The medical dean's house is bond for a man arrested while delivering dogs and cats to the Johns Hopkins medical school.

John S. Tuck, 31 years old, of Hershey, Pa., was charged with cruelty to 60 cats and 20 dogs he purchased in Hershey and brought here on a truck. He was taken to court on complaint of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

When the magistrate fixed bail at $500, Dr. Alan M. Chesney, dean of the medical school, arose in the courtroom and offered his own home as security for Tuck's reappearance. After he signed papers to that effect, Tuck was released and the case bound over to the grand jury.

Yesterday's hearing was also attended by Harry C. Burgan, medical school business manager, who said the cats and dogs he saw "did not appear to be unhealthy or hungry."

The school uses animals for experimental purposes.

MAN WHO STEPPED ON TOES OF ANOTHER IS SHOT TO DEATH

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—A man who stepped on another man's toes in a restaurant was fatally shot today. The dead man was identified as Joseph Grzeda, 27 years old, of Chicago. Held without charge are Charles Tanthorey, 26, and his brother-in-law, Raymond Fassett, 40, both of Chicago.

Police said the shooting occurred after Grzeda stepped on Tanthorey's toes in a restaurant. Witnesses said Grzeda apologized and left with a friend, Frank Holub, 47, but that Tanthorey and Fassett followed them from the restaurant.

Police said Tanthorey accosted Grzeda, saying: "So you think you're smart." He then drew a .32 caliber pistol and marched Grzeda and Holub to a nearby alley, witnesses said. Grzeda was shot in the left arm and chest.

A passing squad of detectives heard the shots and arrested Tanthorey at the scene of the shooting. Fassett was seized nearby. Police said Tanthorey and Fassett had been drinking.

ARKANSAS GAZETTE BUYS ALLSOPP FAMILY'S STOCK

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 27 (AP)—Purchase of the Allsopp family's interest in the Arkansas Gazette by the Gazette Publishing Co. was announced last night by J. N. Heiskell, president of the company and editor of the Gazette.

The announcement said the company has acquired the common stock owned by business manager William C. Allsopp, who is retiring, and his mother, Mrs. Fred W. Allsopp. Hugh B. Patterson Jr., Heiskell's son-in-law, has been appointed chief business executive of the Gazette with the title of publisher.

The Gazette, founded 130 years ago by William C. Woodruff, is the oldest newspaper west of the Mississippi river.

OFFICIAL WHO WAS FOUND DEAD HAD FILE ON MRS. PATTERSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)— The late Charles B. Porter, former Washington Times-Herald treasurer, had collected hundreds of newspaper clippings and memoranda on almost every phase of the life of Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, it was disclosed yesterday. Details of the collection were set forth in a deposition by C. F. R. Ogilby, attorney for the Porter estate.

The deposition was filed in United States District Court in connection with the suit of Mrs. Felicia Gizycka to break the will of her mother, Mrs. Patterson, Times-Herald publisher, who died July 24 leaving an estate estimated at $16,500,000.

Mrs. Gizycka contends her mother was of unsound mind when she made a will leaving the Times-Herald to seven employes. The will left Mrs. Gizycka $25,000 annual income for life.

The will made no mention of Porter. An earlier will named him as one of eight Times-Herald employes to receive the newspaper. Porter had left Mrs. Patterson's employment at the time of her death. Six weeks after she died, Porter plunged to his death from a Clarksburg (W. V.) hotel window.

Mrs. Gizycka's attorneys obtained court permission to question Ogilby to determine whether Porter's papers contained anything in the way of evidence to support their suit to break the will.

NEW YORK TO PUT DOCTORS ON CITY AMBULANCES AGAIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (UP)— Seven city hospitals will resume their pre-war practice of having doctors on all their ambulances starting Wednesday, it was announced today.

Dr. Edward M. Bernecker, commissioner of hospitals, said the move had been made following the case of Mary Grey of San Francisco, who was erroneously pronounced dead by a Bellevue ambulance attendant, and later was revived by a policeman.

Persistence Doesn't Pay.

DANSVILLE, N.Y., Nov. 27 (UP)—Lynn Perry set out on a deer hunt and was struck in the arm by a stray pellet. He went ahead and got a deer of his own. Shortly after he had stored the animal in his garage, fire destroyed the building and the deer.

1949 OLDSMOBILE PRICES UP, SOME MODELS DROPPED

Increases on One Series Range From $360 to $370 Over 1948s.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 27 (AP) —General Motors Corp. last night boosted prices on some of its 1949 Oldsmobile cars and announced that production of two "Olds" series—the '66' and '68'— would be discontinued for 1949. The '66' and '68' were the least expensive of Olds' 1948 series.

The Oldsmobile division became the third General Motors unit to increase the price of its new vehicles, Buick and Cadillac previously took similar action.

Increases on the biggest Olds model—the Futuramic series '98' —ranged from $360 to $370 over the 1948 prices, ranging from $1940 to $2460. The new figures included as standard equipment the new 'Rocket' engine, hydromatic drive, directional signals and windshield washers.

The latter three items were offered as optional equipment on the 1948 Olds but are included as standard equipment on the new '98' model.

Price increases in the Olds '76' series—which will be the lowest price Olds in 1949—were $45 to $60 over 1948 prices, which ranged from $1610 to $1820.

S. E. Skinner Jr., General Motors vice president and general manager of the Oldsmobile division, said the new '76' will have "an entirely new body design and a 105-horsepower big six engine." Hydromatic drive will be offered as optional equipment.

The first public display of the new Oldsmobile models is slated for late December or early January.

LINDBERGH BUTLER ARRESTED FOR BRANDISHING TOY PISTOL

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—A man identified by police as the butler for Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and the butler's brother-in-law were arraniged early today on disorderly conduct charges after a lark in a Lindbergh automobile.

Police said a toy pistol was brandished at persons on the street, first in Manhattan and later in Brooklyn.

The defendants, booked as Patrick G. Earles, 38 years old, butler for the Lindberghs at their Darien (Conn.) home, and John A. Harkness, 33, of Brooklyn, pleaded guilty. They were paroled for further police investigation and sentencing on Monday.

Police said the automobile is registered in the name of the flyer's wife, Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh, and that Earles said he had her permission to drive it. Police said the two men admitted they had been "silly," but gave no explanation of the alleged brandishing of the toy pistol.

GETS WIFE TO MAIL LETTERS TO SWEETHEART, GETS DIVORCED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27 (AP) —The moral of this story is: If you want to write love letters to a sweetheart, don't have your wife mail them.

Mrs. Thelma Tapscott got a divorce yesterday from Robert A. Tapscott of Decatur, Ill., on just those grounds. She said the envelopes were addressed to a former fellow officer of Tapscott's in the American Army of Occupation in Germany. But inside (she opened one) she said were letters speaking ardent love to a German miss known only as "Maria." The letter, she added, read in part:

"Maria, I want to go with you to the moon — not for some months, but for always."

To which, Mrs. Tapscott said, in effect, bon voyage.

CHEST CAMPAIGN TO END TUESDAY; $648,926 LACKING

$4,136,074 Pledged Thus Far—Workers in Drive Are Urged to Redouble Their Efforts.

The St. Louis Community Chest campaign for $4,785,000 will end officially with a report meeting Tuesday at noon at Hotel Statler. Total pledges so far reported amount to $4,136,074, or 86.3 per cent of the goal.

A plea to the 15,000 volunteer workers to make this a "Community Chest Weekend" by getting in all available pledges in time for the final meeting was made by division leaders, who pointed out that only $648,926 was needed to meet the campaign goal.

Arthur C. Haas, chairman of the employe division of the campaign, sent bulletins to his workers yesterday, urging them to "redouble your efforts to increase contributions and report them" at the meeting. The employe division has reported $350,862 in pledges, or 78 per cent of its $450,000 quota.

Some of the contributions in the employe division total include 311 pledges from employes of the Wohl Shoe Co. totaling $5166; at Alvey Conveyor Manufacturing Co., 200 employes pledged $2705, and 183 employes of the Graham Paper Co. have pledged $1558.

Nine more teams in the employe division have met or gone over their quotas, Haas announced. These are headed by Arthur Dixon of the St. Louis Medical Depot, 161 per cent; James Mueller, manager of the E. B. Jones Motor Co., 118 per cent; E. H. Gravel, Big Four Auto Co., 112 per cent; Leslie R. Wilson, United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 105 per cent; John M. Max, E. D. Jones & Co., 104 per cent; Barrett Weber, Barret Weber, Inc., 103 per cent; C. F. Forcade, Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co., 101 per cent; William A. Borders of the same bank, 100 per cent, and Comdr. G. P. Callahan, Navy Recruiting Station, 100 per cent.

Edwin C. Jones, chairman of the small firms division, has reported a pledge of $1224 from the 34 employes of the Godefroy Manufacturing Co., 3510 Olive street, representing a $3 donation for each of the employes for each month of the coming year. Jones urged all workers in his division to give the campaign that "finishing sprint" this weekend.

TRUMAN GETS PAPER THAT CAME CLOSE ON PREDICTION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (UP)— President Truman was presented yesterday with a copy of the Lewistown (Mont.) News carrying its pre-election day prediction that Truman would win with 308 electoral votes. The paper was presented by Senator James E. Murray (Dem.), Montana, and his son, Charles.

The younger Murray reported that Truman received the newspaper with a chuckle and a comment that its publisher must be a good editor. Truman received 304 electoral votes.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Mr. Chadeayne on a New Charter

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Everyone who wants good government in St. Louis is indebted to you for your vigorous editorial Tuesday stressing the need for charter revision.

As I see it, the two essentials for efficient government are (1) competent personnel, and (2) an effective organization structure in which to operate.

In adopting the merit system some years ago St. Louis took a long step toward assuring us of competent personnel. In delaying needed changes in the structure of government we have, to no small degree, limited the benefits of the merit system.

People, no matter how well qualified, cannot discharge their duties efficiently if hampered at every turn by an archaic organization structure.

As the report of the Citizens' Tax Commission pointed out, revising the city charter is more difficult than writing a new state Constitution because the framework of our city government must conform in all respects to the state Constitution and to the enactments of the state legislature.

With new legislation needed, as Henry J. Schmandt emphasized in his letter Tuesday, it becomes vitally necessary that a start be made at once. Each day's postponement means that we wait that much longer to find a solution to our pressing problems, financial and otherwise.

A new charter is no cure-all for all the city's ills. Careful, prudent, competent management will still be needed in every department of the city's affairs, but an adequate and satisfactory government structure is at the very heart of good government. It is the only foundation on which we can operate our city efficiently. It offers the only assurance to our taxpayers that they will receive their money's worth for their tax dollars. Economical operation is impossible in the welter of administrative monstrosities found under the present charter.

By all means let us proceed with the election of a Board of Freeholders, and by all means let us appropriate at once the $15,000 required to engage the Governmental Research Institute to assist with expert advice. St. Louis needs a new charter and it must be the best that we can devise.

HENRY F. CHADEAYNE.

Dangerous Minds

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

How long must we be exposed to the criminal philosophy, "He's harmless?"

An appalling number of cases have become a matter of public knowledge in which individuals to whom that term was applied have perpetrated horrible crimes against the weak, the young and unprotected.

Individuals with obviously dangerous weapons are ruled off our streets. For our own safety, can't we do the same with dangerous minds?

D. H. GOLDENHERSH.

McCollum Case and Galileo

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Congratulations on your fine editorial about the McCollum case.

Anyone who knows history should realize that our public schools have made our way of life possible. When the school separated from the church it gave man an opportunity to become an individualist and a freethinker without fear of retribution.

One has to refer to Galileo, who knelt before the church and stated that all of his great scientific discoveries were untrue, not because they were contrary to the Bible but contrary to the church.

Our Constitution guarantees freedom of worship, and to teach it in a public school would be a violation of democratic principles. Religion is a personal thing and should not be forced upon an individual. Leave religious training and instruction to the church and home where it rightfully belongs.

INDIVIDUALIST.

Oblivion for Taft

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The writer read your editorial, "A Word for Senator Taft." Again you are trying to save a name from many of those who received their fate election day. The future for this man, it just can't be. He must be placed with the forgotten, never to return.

W. A. KRUG.

Found: An Hour a Day

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In order to exercise my democratic rights I feel I must have my say on the subject of "radios on busses." I VOTE FOR RADIO. I am one of a great many people who cannot read on a bus, streetcar or train, it makes me ill. Going to and from work I sit like a bump on a log and twiddle my fingers. Thirty minutes, twice a day, wasted, but music and news help me salvage some of that time. Yes, I have ridden radio busses on the Tower Grove, Cherokee and Delmar lines, and I enjoyed it.

We have been given to understand that radios will be self-supporting and will have no relation to the increase in fares the Public Service Co. is preparing us for. I hope this is true, but I wouldn't mind my fares' supporting it.

"Corporations have no souls"—Hah! I was interviewed on the subject on the bus and one of my neighbors was interviewed in his own home on whether or not we liked radios on busses. We expressed our opinion as I'm sure many others did. It seems to me the Public Service Co. has been very human about it.

It's my guess that the letters the Post-Dispatch have printed are from those who haven't ridden radio busses, or else they're just the usual vocal minority who don't like cake because it's frosted.

VETERAN.

The Army and the Springs

The Army Engineers have verified in a letter to the Post-Dispatch that Alley, Round and Pulltight springs and most of the town of Eminence would be submerged by one of their proposed dams and reservoirs in the Pick-Sloan plan. They deny, however, that their proposed construction would flood Big Spring at Van Buren so much of the time that this scenic wonder would be virtually destroyed.

The authority for the statement that Big Spring would be virtually destroyed is Edward L. Clark, director of Missouri Geological Survey and Water Resources. Mr. Clark said the spring is never flooded in its natural state for more than two or three days at a time and would be flooded as long as months at a time under the Army Engineers' plans.

The Army Engineers' report differs from Mr. Clark's on both these points—natural and intended flooding. From 1922 to 1940, Big Spring was naturally flooded 94 times, and the average duration was 26 days, according to Col. T. A. Lane, engineer in charge of the Little Rock district. If the proposed construction had been in existence, Big Spring would have been flooded 109 times and the average duration would have been 28 days, he says. This does not seem to be enough difference to complain much about. If Mr. Clark has different figures, he should bring them forward.

In any event, the State Government should keep its eye on the Army Engineers and make sure that no proposed dam and reservoir that would adversely affect Big Spring is allowed to go to Congress without ample publicity and opportunity for protest well in advance of action on it.

As for the other springs, Col. Lane verifies their intended destruction under the Pick-Sloan plan. All of them are in Shannon county, and while Pulltight is almost inaccessible except by boat on the Current River, Round and Alley are among the most easily accessible, the largest and the most beautiful of the mammoth springs of Missouri. At both these springs the beginnings of a state park have been made, and they ought to be preserved.

Dams and reservoirs are essentials of flood control. Disastrous floods can't be curbed by soil conservation measures alone, though some conservation extremists like to argue otherwise. Such talk only weakens the cause of soil conservation by pretending that it can do what it cannot do. Furthermore, it blindly ignores what dams and reservoirs can do and are doing.

There is enough place, and enough credit, for both methods, and they belong together. But there is also a place, in the engineering design for the development of Missouri and the Missouri valley, for natural beauty to be weighed along with other things of value like flood control, and electric power, and irrigation, and navigation and water supply.

We are going to need to be shown that whatever plans are made, sufficient weight is given to the natural beauties of Missouri's springs. And Missourians obviously will want to give them more weight than the Army Engineers have given them so far.

Unfair Auto Dealings

On grounds of "adverse publicity," General Motors has withdrawn the sales franchise of Kearney Oldsmobile Co., the Washington dealer whose profiteering was studied by a congressional committee. The dealer's attorney protested that "they're making the Kearneys scapegoats for the whole country. Every dealer is doing what they're doing."

This statement is too sweeping as to the nation's dealers, but it applies very well to the big automobile makers. The factories have shown marked tolerance, if not tacit approval, for profiteering dealers so long as their offenses do not draw too much notice. The cult of "public relations" has displaced the rule of fair dealing with customers.

So the automobile industry has fallen in very bad odor, and many citizens and members of the next Congress are in the mood for an enforced fumigation.

Building Code Amendments

The St. Louis building code bars the Lustron all-steel house and wood-frame houses. Mayor Kaufmann has announced that he will ask the Board of Aldermen to adopt amendments to legalize them.

A demonstration Lustron house in St. Louis county has attracted parades of visitors. It is efficiently and attractively designed. The Federal Government has expressed confidence in the Lustron enterprise by lending it $25,000,000 to develop moderately-priced, factory-fabricated steel houses. St. Louis, which is acutely short of such housing, should change the building code and make steel houses welcome.

As to wood-frame houses, St. Louis has become something of a byword for monotonous adherence to masonry construction. "When it comes to political preferment," Edward Angly wrote in Collier's, "St. Louis' love is like a red, red brick." This preference was valid so long as frame houses were substantial fire hazards, but processes have been developed that make wood highly fire-resistant. The building commissioner and the fire marshal have tested fire-resistant lumber and found some of the processes satisfactory. Therefore, the building code is due for amendment here, too.

New building materials and methods are having troubles in some parts of the county as well as in the city. It behooves every municipality in the area to take another look at its own building code.

The CIO and the Reds

When it comes to fighting Communists, the CIO may have a lesson to teach. Perhaps because it has had to cope so long with these persistent borers-from-within, it has learned a few things. One of these seems to be not to mention them by name when it really goes after them.

Its Portland convention, for example, empowered Philip Murray and the other members of the CIO executive board to take appropriate action wherever a CIO union has failed properly to organize the workers of an industry. Everybody at the convention knew that this meant authority to replace Communist-dominated unions.

This fight goes back to the CIO's constitutional convention in Pittsburgh a decade ago. Then Sidney Hillman offered a preamble which said that there were to be no religious or racial tests for CIO membership. The Commies realized at once that the way had been left open for a political yardstick. But they couldn't plug the loophole.

The Red brethren have a way of denying their affiliation with the Communist party. But the CIO leadership has found many deft ways of identifying them. A vote on a resolution in favor of the Marshall plan, for example, works very well these days.

The point of all this is that these CIO tactics are effective and that they avoid the usual hysteria of Red-baiting. They give the Commies little chance to pose as martyrs or to evoke unwarranted sympathy. Ostensibly, they never are singled out for punitive action. But they are put on the spot just the same. Sauve is the word for Murray.

Judgment in the Stemmler Case

In pronouncing "severest censure" on City Counselor Stemmler and eight assistants for soliciting and making political contributions, the city Civil Service Commission has done justice. In deciding not to order their dismissal, it tempers judgment with leniency and shows wisdom for the larger interests of St. Louis, which would suffer from a wholesale firing in the Law Department.

Mr. Stemmler solicited campaign funds, and he as well as the eight others contributed. They freely admitted this, but argued that the civil service amendment permits political gifts by city employes so long as they are made voluntarily.

The commission destroys this contention with a satisfying decisiveness. It reasons that when political gifts are tolerated on any terms, employes fear not to give, so that the word "voluntary" finally becomes a fiction for the salary assessment or "lug." It also cites the letter of the law, which bars giving as well as soliciting.

Mr. Stemmler and the others may find it especially humiliating to read the judgment that they, lawyers all, could not read the meaning of a plainly written law. And certainly the verdict should put an end to Mr. Stemmler's face-saving proposal to ask for a court ruling on the status of voluntary contributions.

The case of the nine men was the first solid test on political contributions, and any future violator may expect sterner punishment. The Civil Service Commission's handling of the case has given the merit system a heightened authority and prestige which should go far to prevent any recurrence of the offense.

Money and Music

A permanent endowment fund to support the varied activities of the Boston Symphony is being created in honor of the orchestra's retiring conductor, Serge Koussevitsky. An effort of such magnitude should be an example to St. Louisans who just now are being asked to raise $150,000 for their orchestra's annual maintenance fund.

The virtues of the St. Louis Symphony have been recited frequently enough. Even when it plays old war-horses instead of breaking into new ground, it is one of the great orchestral organizations of the United States, the second oldest in fact. Especially when on tour, it speaks most effectively for St. Louis as a cultural center.

One would rather not mention art and money at the same time. The fact, however, remains that it is money which enables the fiddler to play. St. Louisans, we are sure, will keep this in mind as they enjoy their orchestra.

Behind a Routine News Item

There is often much more in a news announcement than meets the eye on a quick glance. Take, for example, the statement that "H. Eliot Kaplan has resigned from his post as executive director and counsel of the National Civil Service League to become Deputy State Comptroller for New York."

This sounds routine enough. Yet what it actually says is that Mr. Kaplan is retiring from an important work in which he has been engaged for 35 years in the public interest. In that time, much progress has been made in the civil service field. Laws have been passed and test cases brought and won, as the merit system has been extended in federal, state and city governments.

Writing their appreciation of Mr. Kaplan's work, Nicholas Kelley, president of the Civil Service League, and Charles Burlingham, head of the New York Civil Service Reform Association, say: "You have given to civil service inspiration, guidance and accomplishment that are outstanding and a model for all civic organizations."

And why is Mr. Kaplan leaving the Civil Service League? Only to put into application some of the precepts he has been teaching. As New York's Deputy State Comptroller he will direct the administration of the $350,000,000 New York State retirement system which covers 125,000 state, county and city employes. His new post will be a logical extension of his career in advancing the merit system in government.

Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Charles Evans Hughes and others who have been officers of the National Civil Service League would be proud of the work of their organization and the distinction and achievement of its veteran director.

New Interest in Trial Rights

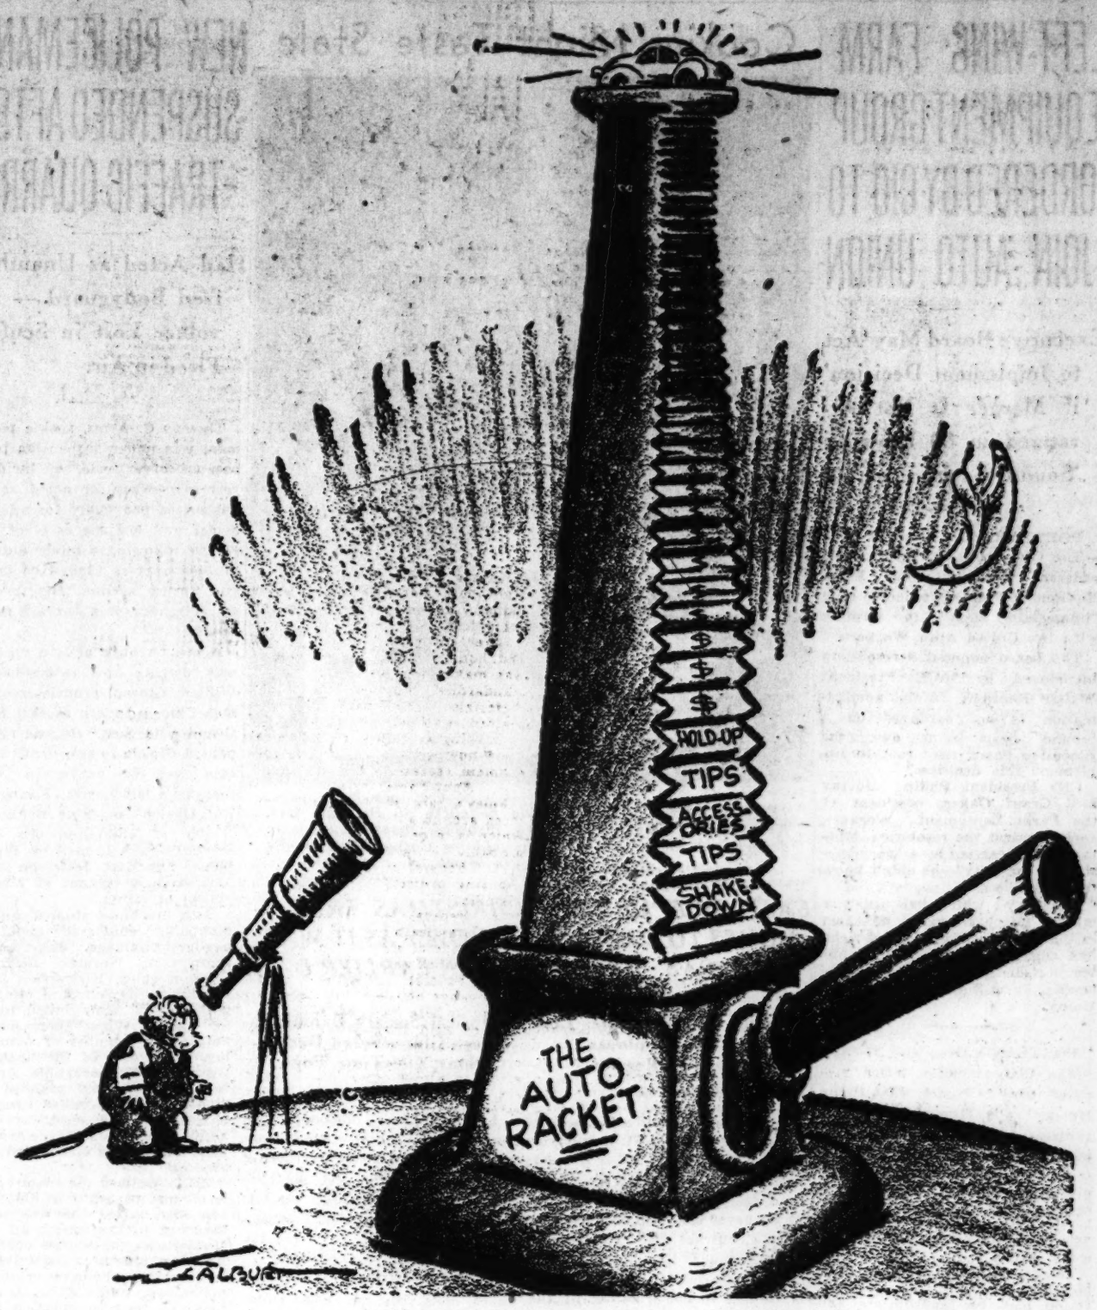

Inmates of Illinois prisons, who contend that they were sentenced without protection of their right to be represented by a lawyer, will be interested to know that the Illinois Legislative Council is studying a report on the criminal appeals procedure in Illinois, in anticipation of the 1949 legislative session.

The study, which was proposed by State Senator Barry, Chicago Democrat, was undertaken after Justice Rutledge and two other Supreme Court judges, in the Marino case, described Illinois procedure as "a labyrinth of blind alleys."

It is to be hoped that the possibility of legislative action will not disincline the State Supreme Court from issuing a post-conviction companion rule to the rule, issued last May, which guarantees right to counsel in all new cases.

The new rule takes care of the future but provides no relief to persons who were sentenced before it went into effect, Sept. 1. The best solution would be first for the Illinois Supreme Court to issue a companion rule, charting a clear course through the maze of conflicting remedies. Next, the Legislature could affirm this in law.

The result would be that Illinois, after having overlooked the security of trial rights in recent years, would give them double protection. Illinois ought to like that idea.

LATEST MODEL—NOW ON DISPLAY

Laws Against Reducing Prices

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Prices fell sharply in 1920-22 and 1929-33, but today the so-called "fair trade" law operates in most states; it forbids selling branded items below the manufacturers' fixed minimum resale prices; about half the states also require stated markups above cost.

Bertram Benedict in Editorial Research Reports

The cut-price war in Indianapolis by means of coupons has died down, but it served to focus attention again on retail price-fixing. The coupons were mailed to Indianapolis families, with each coupon worth 10 cents on a purchase in certain chain stores. Inevitably, other stores also honored the coupons at 10 cents each as long as the supply held out.

The Indianapolis incident recalls the price wars following World War I and during the depression of 1929-33. In those two periods, depression and unemployment or part-time employment had reduced the spendable income of a great many families.

Today, family incomes are high but so are prices. Retail price-cutting has been relatively scarce because commodities have been scarce, and supplies rather than consumer resistance to prices have been the chief worry of most retailers.

Senator Tydings

Now, however, supplies have become adequate in many lines, and retail sales have suffered because of high prices. One men's clothing chain has reported increased sales after a recent percentage price cut on its suits. Similar cuts may be postponed by the Christmas shopping season; post-Christmas "sales" cutting deeply into pre-Christmas prices are predicted.

Unlike price-cutting in 1920-22 and 1929-33, the situation today is complicated by resale price maintenance laws in effect in all except two or three states and the District of Columbia. These laws allow manufacturers to set minimum prices at which their products—if distinguished by a brand name, trademark, or otherwise and if in competition with similar products—must be sold at retail. Retailers who sell such products at less than the established price are subject to legal action, whether or not they have signed price-fixing contracts with manufacturers.

At first these laws applied only in intrastate transactions. Any price-fixing on an article originating in one state and sold in another was contrary to the federal anti-trust laws.

Certain large manufacturers got around the anti-trust laws by making retailers their agents, shipping products to them on consignment, retaining title in the products until sold at the specified prices. But that arrangement was impracticable for smaller producers.

Then, in 1937, Congress passed, without a record vote in either house, the Miller-Tydings Act (technically a section of a District of Columbia tax bill). This legalizes the fixing of minimum resale prices on brand products in interstate commerce, when sold in a state authorizing such price-fixing by its own law.

Today legalized price-fixing is probably most prevalent in drugs. It is largely inoperative on foodstuffs; the chains have their own brands, prices mean more than brand names, competition is sharp among processors.

Pressure for the state laws and the Miller-Tydings Act came primarily from small independent merchants. They argued not only that small business needed protection against the merchandising chains, but also that the latter would cut prices on certain products ("loss leaders") to attract customers. These would buy other products at prices inflated to make up for the loss sustained on the cut-price products.

Approximately half the states have enacted also minimum markup laws. These forbid sales at less than the prices paid plus costs of operation. Such laws cover both wholesalers and retailers, unbranded as well as branded goods (sometimes certain categories are exempt), and do not require price contracts nor other agreements.

The New Look of a Crisp Fall Morning

From the Portland Oregonian

The little brown woods rabbit hopped out of the hazel into a morning all burnished by frost and by sunshine. There were chickadees clowning in the alder. The smoke from the cabin beside the west fork was tall and straight.

The woodcutter in the cabin doorway, taking a chaw of tobacco and blinking at the brightness, scratched his gray head as he yawned. He said to himself that we don't get such a morning without a hard frost. Pretty as a calendar picture it was, with the weeds in the clearing thickly silvered, and the cottonwoods golden and still—but you had to have a frost first. A man needn't be looking for parables to sort of sense that there's a kind of lesson in such a morning. For the morning was so pretty that it ached in a man's whiskered throat. Almost he swallowed his chaw.

This takes longer, much longer, to tell than it took to happen, because the fact is the bright windless air beside the west fork was chill as the dickens, so that the woodcutter shivered and didn't stay long at the door. But it is amazing how much a man will feel, and think, and remember in a moment or so on such a morning.

The woodcutter thought of squirrels barking 50 years back, and of snow in the hills, and of steelhead trout coming up from the sea, and of the fir he must fall pretty soon and just where he should drop it, and of many such matters as these, while all the time he stood there thinking of how pretty the morning was—pretty as a calendar from the hardware store. It made a man feel like a youngster, and him going on 70. But you got to have a frost first—you got to have a hard frost.

Then the woodcutter closed the door and went inside to fry flapjacks. And he thought, as he fed the fire, that the stifling warmth of the cabin was good—by Godfrey, it was!—but so had the brisk bite of the bright frosty morning been good, too. About seven or eight flapjacks, he reckoned—thick ones to stick to a man's ribs—and then outdoors and to work. And him a-going on 70 but still looking forward to swinging an ax and swaying a crosscut!

The woodcutter paused in beating the batter. He grinned. It had come to him that the pretty morning was what made a man eager. You just got to have a hard frost first.

Between Book Ends

The Gagster's Anthology

SHAKE WELL BEFORE USING, by Bennett Cerf. (Simon & Schuster, $2.95.)

Frederic Babcock in the Chicago Tribune

Mr. Cerf was once the boy wonder of the publishing business. Now, at the advanced age of 50, he has become the wonder of the story telling business. I don't know which is the more profitable, but I think he's equally good at both, and, book publishing being in the state it is at present, I suspect he'd rather write a book than print one.

Some columnists and commentators, hearing or seeing a story or a wisecrack for the first time, immediately claim it as their own, and resent it when anybody else retells it or reprints it. Mr. Cerf makes no pretense of originality, he grabs his humor as he finds it, gives due credit wherever possible, and then spins the yarn in his own way. To this observer at least, that way is unmatched by any other raconteur now in circulation.

* * *

As was the case in his best-selling "Try and Stop Me," his latest collection includes many of the gags, anecdotes and observations first appearing in his columns in various current magazines. Some of them are therefore already fairly familiar, but others are as new as tomorrow's newspaper. And nearly all of them are tops.

The author—or anthologist—has divided "Shake Well Before Using" into the classifications found in a big city Sunday paper. Front page, comics, the theater, the films, sports, society, financial, travel, book reviews, and the like. As he says: "Only a 'Help Wanted' section is missing and that may become necessary after the reviews appear." His literary section appeals most strongly to me, but that, of course, is for personal reasons. Other readers will find plenty of hilarity and entertainment throughout the opus.

Bennett Cerf

If, in the month's Christmas shopping ahead of you, you're looking for a heavy tome that will gather dust, but little perusal, in your favorite relative's library, pass up this one. But if you wish to present him or her with something that will be read, and appreciated, and chuckled over, "Shake Well Before Using" is your candidate. I predict it will win by a landslide.

Our Native Writing

AMERICAN LITERATURE: AN ANTHOLOGY AND CRITICAL SURVEY. Selected and Edited by Joe Lee Davis, John T. Frederick and Frank Luther Mott. Volume I, From the Beginning to 1860. (Charles Scribner's Sons, 1120 pgs., $5.00.)

The special attractiveness of this new anthology of native literature is the "unusual space and attention" given the eight American writers "now recognized to have contributed most conspicuously to the great stream of world literature"—Poe, Emerson, Thoreau, Hawthorne, Melville, Whitman, Mark Twain and Henry James. The volume here noted (Volume II will presumably be published shortly) includes works by the first five "which should form a part of every American's educational experience."

These are embedded in a rich matrix of selections from the less great and from numerous minor figures. The work as a whole shows no radical departure from the plan and substance of comparable anthologies, but special praise is due it for the clarity and comprehensiveness of its critical and historical surveys, and for the concise but quite adequate biographical and bibliographical information.

This compilation is meant primarily for students, obviously, but any American wishing an up-to-the-minute means of orienting himself in a literature all too often underrated or imperfectly understood, can buy and use the Davis-Frederick-Mott work with assurance. It weighs five pounds, costs five dollars, and is worth at least five times as much as the average historical romance of the silks, swords, and sex school.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Bad News for Movies and Radio

WE have a new television set at our house. Whether it is just another complex toy or the revolution in entertainment and communication many proclaim it to be, we haven't yet been able to decide.

No one can doubt the potentialities. They are breath-taking. But then, so were the potentialities of radio and too often they seem to have been drowned in the strident laughter of studio audiences cued to respond to the umteenth repetition of a joke that wasn't very good the first time it was used.

Childs

Much of what comes over television today is radio with sight added. That is, to be sure, pretty startling. The news reels on video, for example, sometimes show in the evening news events that happened the same day.

For the most part, however, the kind of imagination required to take advantage of this amazing new technology has not yet been forthcoming. Or it may be more accurate to say that the viewer (we need a whole new vocabulary) sees little evidence of it.

100-Mile Reception.

Yet I am inclined to believe that the revolution is already in progress. Here is a small bit of documentation pointing in that direction.

The other day I met a pair of television fans. Their experience, I would guess, is typical of what is happening to thousands of people and what will happen in the next two to four years to millions.

This husband and wife live in a Pennsylvania town of about 50,000 which is 100 miles from Philadelphia. There is no television station in the town.

Last spring Mr. and Mrs. Jones became convinced, from the experience of a tavern keeper in their town, that they could get television from a distance of 100 miles. They went to Philadelphia to buy a set and there they were told not to waste their money, since the receiving range was at the outside 25 to 30 miles.

They persisted and last May a set was installed in their home, the first set in any home in the town. On one channel the image comes through as clearly and as distinctly as it does in Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Jones have made careful comparisons on visits to the city.

They, too, had thought it might be just a novelty of which they would soon grow tired. But seven months have gone by and they are just as eager to get into the living room after supper as they were the first week.

Personal Flavor.

Besides the good channel, they get images of varying distinctness and clarity on two other channels. Now and then they have successfully picked up Baltimore, which is nearly 200 air miles away.

They talk about the performers and commentators they see and hear as though they were personal friends. They are enthusiastic over programs like "Author Meets the Critic" and a popular science program originating in Philadelphia. They follow most sports except wrestling, which they find boring and repetitious.

And here comes the revolution. In the seven months they have had their set, they have gone to the movies twice. Normal for the pre-television era was about three times a month, or 21 times against two times.

What is more, the Joneses no longer have very much interest in the radio programs that used to be their favorites. Sound without sight does not hold them.

Public's Chance.

Word of the success of their experiment has got around. Today television sets are selling like hot cakes in their town.

Both on the technical and the program side, television is a squawling infant. But like the horseless carriage, it seems to be here to stay and it promises to work undreamed-of changes in our way of life.

We, the public, have it within our power to shape this instrument for good or evil if we will voice our likes and dislikes and voice them vehemently. Mere passive acceptance of whatever comes along is certainly not enough.

TRUMAN, FOLEY TALK OVER NEW HOUSING PROGRAM

Discuss Ways to Get Congress and Private Industry to Boost Output, Cut Prices.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—President Truman and the government housing chief talked over plans yesterday to get more roofs over American heads as quickly and cheaply as possible.

Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley said after the White House conference that they had discussed ways to get quick aid from both Congress and private industry to boost production and cut prices.

Later, the government's housing and home finance agency said it was making progress in a plan to standardize building codes and materials. This plan, Foley explained, is to help private industry by making available to it technical know-how worked up through government research.

Four-Point Program.

Foley's talk with Truman centered around a four-point program which is to be offered to Congress probably in January:

1. Federal aid for low-rent housing projects for low-income families.
2. Federal loans and grants for slum clearance.
3. Federal aid to farmers for rural homes and repairs.
4. Federal sponsorship of a long-range housing research program to help private industry.

Foley said that in addition to the legislative program, the government will make a nation-wide effort to win co-operation of builders, lenders, labor and other interested groups to stimulate more home construction at lower costs and rents.

The housing legislation being planned is similar to the twice-beaten Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill. Senator Ellender (Dem.) Louisiana has announced he will revive such a bill as soon as Congress meets.

Standardization Plan.

The government's standardization program depends on co-operation among technicians of private industry, contractors, builders, and even universities, Foley said.

One specific problem already attacked is the uniform plumbing code. A committee composed of representatives of the National Association of Master Plumbers, the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, the United States Public Health Service and the National Bureau of Standards has developed a uniform plumbing code for housing.

The housing and home finance agency is preparing three educational booklets explaining the standardization program. One will go to home buyers, the second to architects and designers, and the third to contractors and builders. Also, model building codes will be worked up for communities to adopt.

Republican Indorses Long-Range Housing Program.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (UP)—The Administration's long-range housing program yesterday won the qualified indorsement of another influential Republican.

Senator Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont said he would go along on a "proper housing program" and added "I think I can support" a bill proposed by Senator Ellender (Dem.), Louisiana. He withheld a definite commitment until he studies the bill.

Ellender said Senators Maybank of South Carolina, Sparkman of Alabama and Myers of Pennsylvania, all Democrats, have agreed to support his demand for prompt action when the new Congress meets in January.

TRUMAN SPEEDS EUROPEAN AID FUND SPENDING

more foreign aid money would be needed for fiscal 1949. He estimated the sum at $1,500,000,000—exactly the amount of his estimate of the Treasury deficit for the fiscal year. Hoffman since has told reporters the result will be about $250,000,000 smaller.

Cannon told reporters he will push the new measure as quickly as possible because "things seem to be moving pretty rapidly in Europe."

Grain Contracts to Stand.

American grain traders, meantime, breathed easier as the ECA revealed plans to honor some $50,000,000 in contracts between the dealers and foreign nations. The export orders were negotiated after Hoffman announced in September that all ECA grain would be bought through private channels after Dec. 1.

Truman reversed that decision Tuesday and ruled that the Federal Commodity Credit Corporation will continue to handle Marshall Plan grain exports.

ECA food chief Dennis R. Fitzgerald told newspaper men an order will be issued Monday which provides:

1. Payment to private firms for grain purchases authorized by ECA before Nov. 22, including contracts which may be signed after that date but for which money has been earmarked.
2. Continued purchase of flour from private sources, although foreign countries can ask CCC to buy for them.
3. Procurement of corn, rye, barley, oats and grain sorghums solely from CCC.

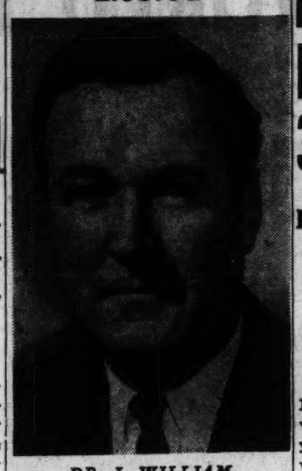

British Cotton Tangle.

Fitzgerald also was attempting to unsnarl a $30,000,000 cotton deal with British representatives who are seeking Marshall Plan funds to finance past purchases.

About $21,000,000 of that sum was spent before the ECA order May 21 that if European countries needed ECA financing they must get authorizations in advance before making cotton purchase agreements.

At that time Britain was reported to be planning to use ECA dollars. Now that the British Government has reconsidered, it has run into the ECA roadblock. Pending a settlement, the British have ordered a "temporary suspension in the movement of cotton."

Elected

DR. J. WILLIAM THOMPSON

J. WILLIAM THOMPSON MEDICAL SOCIETY HEAD

New President of St. Louis Group Is State Association Chairman.

Dr. J. William Thompson, chairman of the council of the Missouri State Medical Association, has been elected president of the St. Louis Medical Society, it was announced yesterday following tabulation of a mail ballot. He will succeed Dr. Llewellyn Sale on Jan. 4.

Other officers chosen were Drs. James M. Macnish, first vice president; Mary E. Morris, second vice president, and Sam J. Merenda, secretary. Dr. Sale and Drs. F. G. Pernoud Jr., Delevan Calkins and Raymond O. Muether were elected councilors.

Dr. Thompson, a surgeon, attended Washington University College of Liberal Arts and was graduated from Washington University Medical School in 1923. He received his postgraduate training at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

He lives at 92 Lake Forest, Richmond Heights. His offices are at 4952 Maryland avenue.

STRIKERS VOTING ON DOCK PACTS; SOME OPPOSITION

other ports approve the terms.

Work orders were being posted and accepted at union halls in Baltimore today. Idzik explained they are subject to ratification in the vote on the strike settlement. If the agreement is approved, the work orders will put some of the 7000 idle Baltimore stevedores to work Sunday morning. Idzik said as many as 20 per cent may be back on the job tomorrow.

The East Coast agreement provides for a 13-cent hourly increase in the basic pay rate of $1.75 hourly, and a 19½-cent increase in the night and overtime rate of $2.62½ hourly, plus other improvements in job conditions. The East Coast dock workers previously rejected a negotiated agreement calling for a 10-cent rise in the basic rate.

Demands Made by AFL.

On the West Coast there was some doubt that there would be complete maritime peace after the 87-day strike.

Doubt was caused by demands by Harry Lundeberg's AFL Sailor's Union of the Pacific, which was not among the striking unions, but whose members were made idle by the tie-up.

"The shipowners haven't settled anything so far as we are concerned," said Lundeberg.

He said his union would not go back to work until certain wage gains and cargo-handling rights were assured by the shipowners.

However, indications for a reopening of Pacific shipping appeared good, following ratification of the proposed contract by the Waterfront Employers' Association. The terms provide a 15-cent boost in the previous basic hourly rate of $1.67.

The terms were worked out by negotiators for the association and the CIO Longshoremen, key union among five involved in the strike, on Thanksgiving day.

Earlier the same day, negotiators for the New York Shipping Association and the ILU came to an agreement, following intervention by Cyrus S. Ching, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. Members of the employer group voted approval of the proposals yesterday.

Go-Ahead Sign by Ryan.

Meanwhile, Ryan gave the go-ahead for eastern dock workers to return to their jobs after midnight tonight, if they vote approval of the terms.

He signaled the early return to work—previously set for Monday—after Mayor William O'Dwyer and mayors of several New Jersey cities appealed for the workers to get cargoes of bananas and other items, facing spoilage, off strikebound ships as soon as possible.

New York's truck tie-up also was near a solution today. Supreme Court Justice Morris Eder said that representatives of 2300 members of the AFL Teamsters' Union and an employers' committee had agreed on alternative formulas to end the six-day walkout.

Members will choose tomorrow between an increase of 17½ cents an hour plus welfare benefits, and a flat increase of 22½ cents with no welfare plan.

Liner to Sail Despite Overtime Work Bar by Dock Men.

SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 27 (UP)—The Cunard White Star Lines carried on plans today for the Queen Elizabeth to sail for New York tomorrow despite a refusal of British dockers to work overtime.

The dockers' decision may result in the Elizabeth sailing without some of the passengers' baggage. They refused to work overtime, pending settlement of their claim for piecework rates for handling mail and other cargo.

Three hundred passengers with considerable baggage for the Elizabeth were due at Southampton this evening.

The delay in sailing is estimated to have cost the company $160,000 in extra docking charges, wages and fuel.

BIG STORES' SALES DOWN FROM 1947 3D WEEK IN ROW

Downtrend Over the Entire Nation—Drop of 4 Pct. for St. Louis Federal Reserve District.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Department store sales during the week ended Nov. 20 ran below a year ago for the third consecutive week, the Federal Reserve Board reported last night.

The unusual continued downtrend extended over the entire nation, the report indicated.

Continuance of the department store sales dip was taken in official quarters as a further indication of mounting consumer resistance to current prices, although that was not considered the only or necessarily even the chief cause of the dip.

Other Factors Listed.

Other factors regarded as influential included unseasonable weather in many parts of the country, and the possibility that the American public is returning to its tradition of waiting late to do the Crristmas shopping.

The Reserve Board report showed the dollar volume of sales for the Nov. 20 week was 6 per cent below the comparable period a year ago.

For the two previous weeks, there had been dips of 9 and 8 per cent, respectively.

Commerce Department Report.

The Reserve Board report followed closely one by the Department of Commerce showing total retail sales for October were slightly below September, after allowing for seasonal factors, and little changed from the level of the preceding four months.

Nevertheless, the Department of Commerce estimated October sales at $11,580,000,000 and said they were 6 per cent above October 1947, as well as 239 per cent above the 1935-39 average.

In comparison with a year ago, department store sales for the week of Nov. 20 were down in each Federal Reserve district by the following percentages: Boston, 7; New York, 8; Philadelphia, 7; Cleveland, 2; Richmond, 7; Atlanta, 4; Chicago, 3; St. Louis, 4; Kansas City, 4; Dallas, 7, and San Francisco, 10.

JACK BENNY SHOW WILL SWITCH TO C.B.S. IN JANUARY

The agency recently approved such a deal for the Amos 'n Andy show, which also moved from N.B.C. to C.B.S. A $2,000,000 lump sum payment reportedly was involved.

Revenue officials declined to comment on reports that they had been asked for a ruling in the Benny case.

However, one official emphasized that the Amos 'n Andy decision "certainly shouldn't be regarded as a precedent." "When you've stubbed your toe once," he said, "you don't turn right around and do it again on purpose."

Same Time, City, Sponsor.

The Benny program, which has been with N.B.C. for 17 years, will continue to be broadcast from Hollywood for the same sponsor, the American Tobacco Co., at the same time, 6 to 6:30 p.m. (St. Louis time) Sunday, C.B.S. announced.

(The United Press said there were rumors that the Phil Harris show, starring the bandleader and his wife, Alice Faye, and Edgar Bergen might follow suit. Harris and Bergen follow the Benny show at half hour intervals. Harris wasn't talking about any shift, and it was reported he would stay with N.B.C. but would participate in the Benny show on C.B.S. He is Benny's bandleader.

(There was also some speculation that Dennis Day, Benny's boyish tenor, might switch his Saturday night show to C.B.S.)

Dispute on Statement.

Regarding the Benny show, N.B.C. President Niles Trammell said last night in a statement: "Until the United States Treasury says such transactions are lawful, the National Broadcasting Co. will continue to refuse to purchase stock in so-called production corporations where the artists who control such corporations are performing on the N.B.C. network."

Trammell said "such arrangements are bound to lead to charges of discrimination between artists who are paying income taxes at the higher regular rates and those who are paying at the lower rates of only 25 per cent based on so-called capital gains."

Trammell's statement was called "unwarranted" by a C.B.S. spokesman, who said his name could not be used.

"If and when any deals are made for the purchase of radio production companies or radio properties," the C.B.S. spokesman said, "all details of such transactions will be submitted to the Treasury Department for approval or disapproval.

"Therefore, how by any stretch of the imagination can there be any question as to the propriety of such transactions?

"Mr. Trammell's statement is unwarranted, and reflects unfairly on many creative artists who have done no more than abide by our tax laws like any business man or corporation."

Benny had no comment on the transaction other than to say: "I wonder if you have to pay for parking at C.B.S."

Two Representatives Protest Against "Business" Sales.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Representative Curtis (Rep.), Nebraska, and Representative Priest (Dem.), Tennessee, protested yesterday against the practice among some highly paid entertainers of selling their services as a "business." They suspected steps to avoid payment of high income taxes.

Returns acquired through sale of services are classed as capital gains and subject to a flat 25 per cent tax. Normal income levies on salaries for such services would range up to three times as much.

Priest wrote a letter to George J. Schoeneman, chief of the Internal Revenue Bureau, voicing concern over the practice. He said it is costing the Government millions of dollars in tax revenue that will have to be made up from other sources.

Curtis, in a statement, indicated he believes the bureau has given tacit approval to the system. He agreed with Priest that it means the amount of taxes saved by anyone using the "incorporation" method will "have to be dug out of the pockets of thousands of small taxpayers."

Last Nov. 12, Senator Styles Bridges (Rep.), New Hampshire, announced he had asked the Internal Revenue Department for a full report on any "capital gains" transactions that might enable radio performers to pay lower taxes.

JESSE JONES MUM ON POKER, TAKES STAND IN COURT

Witness Shows Mock Concern Over Possible Loss of $420 in Appearance Fees.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—Jesse Jones, former head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, showed mock concern yesterday in United States District Court over losing $420 in witness fees, but shed no light on a $4000 poker pot he allegedly lost.

Earlier this week United States District Judge Samuel Kaufman ordered Jones to appear in court after an attorney said in an affidavit that Jones, reportedly too ill to testify, had played poker until 2 a.m. Nov. 17.

The affidavit, filed with Kaufman, said: "The stakes ranged as high as $4000 a hand and on one occasion the said Jones backed a straight in a pot involving approximately $4000 against four fours."

An earlier affidavit submitted to Kaufman by a Park avenue physician said Jones was suffering from a severe heart condition.

Called by Both Sides.

Jones was called as a witness by both sides in a $6,000,000 suit by James A. Moffett, former federal housing administrator, against the Arabian American Oil Co. Moffett claimed the $6,000,000 for services which he said led the British Government to lend $10,000,000 to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Jones, a pre-trial witness, was questioned for about an hour and a half yesterday about his knowledge of Moffett's attempts to get financial aid for the Saudi Arabian ruler from either the United States or the British governments.

He said his memory was vague about whether he mentioned to British representatives in 1941 the question of financial aid to Saudi Arabia. The British at that time were negotiating for a substantial collateral loan from the United States.

Jones said he kept no diary while in President Roosevelt's cabinet because he was "too busy."

"Besides," he said, "I didn't plan to write a book like Mr. Morgenthau (Henry Morgenthau Jr., former treasury secretary) and some others and I kept no dictaphones in my desk—I'd like to put that in too."

Asked half way through the examination if he was well enough to proceed, Jones replied:

"Shoot right along. If I get tired, I'll holler. I feel tired but I won't holler yet."

Testimony on Note.

William Power Maloney, attorney for Moffett, asked about a note dated July 18, 1941, which read:

"Dear Jesse, will you tell the British I hope they can take care of the King of Saudi Arabia—this is a little far afield for us. F.D.R."

Jones said: "I scribbled the note during a cabinet meeting, handed it to the President and asked him to write it down in his own handwriting so I could let them know it was his decision as well as mine."

At the end of the testimony, the judge said he would entertain a motion to dismiss subpenas issued by both sides to Jones, calling for his appearance on Jan. 10, the date set for trying the case.

"I'd like to ask a question—off the record," said Jones.

"Go right ahead," said the judge.

"I've been given $195 by Mr. Maloney and $225 by the other side to come here in January to testify. I want to know whether I have to return the money because I think I ought to keep it," said Jones.

Judge Kaufman said, if a motion to dismiss the subpenas is made and granted, "you will have to return the money, Mr. Jones."

"Oh, don't do that, judge," said Jones.

FLEESON

No House Bloc Ready to Oust G.O.P. Leaders

In Senate, There Seems No Chance to Sidetrack Taft

By DORIS FLEESON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.

THE word being quietly passed among Republicans of the Eighty-first Congress is wait and see.

A Senate policy committee meeting originally scheduled for next Monday has been indefinitely postponed until Senator Taft, policy chairman, returns from Europe.

On the House side, Speaker Martin is telling his people that there is nothing they can or ought to say until they see what program President Truman sends to the Hill. The speaker is assuming that he will return to his old post as minority leader.

Actually all the House leadership will slip back, virtually unchanged, to the Seventy-ninth Congress setup with Representatives Rayburn and McCormack swapping jobs with Martin and Representative Halleck. But on the Democratic side the leaven of the election will be working in committees and on the floor where New Dealer Rayburn can look forward to the kind of support that began drifting away from him in '44.

Situation in House.

House Republicans present no such clear picture. They have had a body blow, as the repudiated Eightieth Congress was largely their work, and they are not minimizing the extent of their defeat. They can't; 75 incumbent Republicans were beaten, including Representative Knutson, the tax-cutter, and Representative Gearhart, who knifed the reciprocal trade agreements.

There does not exist, however, a body of liberal Republicans on the House side to capitalize on this situation. It can be said for Martin and Halleck that they did not lead their flock anywhere in the last two years that it did not want to go. A breakdown of House Republican voting records in the Eightieth Congress showed that only the merest handful failed to go along with the leadership on virtually every measure, great or small.

After Nov. 2 the substantial segment of liberal Republican Senators began calling for a change; the House simply cannot furnish a like group of equal stature.

Taft's Following.

Probably not until the roll calls start will it be possible to tell what the 173 House Republicans feel the election told them. And their most vigorous and articulate members remain the convinced conservatives.

As the G.O.P. Senators talk among themselves, no real prospect appears that Taft can be displaced from any post he really wants. He apparently has not confided in any of them what that is; perhaps he is waiting until he has seen the operations of the Marshall Plan in Europe.

Senate insiders calculate that there are a dozen to 15 Senators who will go down the line for Taft; they do not see a figure in the other camp who can rally any such strength. It is, of course, always a weakness of liberals that they are individualists who find teamwork hard; hence they often do not have an effectiveness comparable to their merits.

Some efforts have been made to interest congressional Republicans in a party conference but their general reaction has been skeptical. They seem to prefer to lick their wounds quietly, allow the personal resentments against Gov. Dewey's manner of campaigning to subside, and see if President Truman won't make some useful mistakes.

CANNON TO OFFER BILL FOR REVISION OF BUDGET SYSTEM

Law Requiring Congress to Set Limit on Spending Is Unworkable, He Says.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—Representative Cannon (Dem.), Missouri, the prospective chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said today Congress will practice "Spartan economy" on the Government budget.

Cannon said also that the system of fixing a definite congressional ceiling for federal spending just doesn't work. He plans to offer a bill to change it soon after the new Congress meets in January.

Cannon isn't ready to say whether Congress actually can make a substantial cut in the budget President Truman proposes the first of the year. That depends partly on how much will be needed for military expenses and to help other countries combat Communism.

Yet he is counting on whacking the spending program elsewhere, if necessary, in order to keep the Government out of the red and make some payments on the national debt.

The Appropriations Committee, he said, always has prided itself on being able to trim the budget. He said the budget usually is the asking figure and Government agencies don't expect to get as much as they request.

Present Plan "Unworkable."

Cannon wants to amend the Congressional Reorganization Act in order to get rid of the requirement that Congress fix its own limit on Government spending each year.

This law says that when the President sends up his budget for Government expenses every year, Congress must look it over, then work out its own figures on what federal income is likely to be and what the limits should be on appropriations and spending.

The figures are the "legislative budget." They are a target for Congress to shoot at. They are recommendations only, and not binding on Congress.

Cannon told reporters this plan has been "wholly ineffective" and has proved "unworkable and impractical."

Instead of having the Appropriations Committee and Congress put in the position of not complying with the law on that point, Cannon said the act should be amended. Most members of the Appropriations Committee, he said, apparently feel much the same way.

The present Congress is the first to operate under the reorganization law, which, among other things, reduced the number of committees.

Last Year's Experience.

Last year, Cannon recalled, Truman's budget estimated the Government costs of $37,700,000,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1947. The House, he said, voted to try to cut the total by six billion dollars. The Senate insisted on only a $4,500,000,000 slash.

Neither gave in, so there was no legislative budget for that year.

For the year beginning July 1, 1948, Truman proposed expenditures of $39,700,000,000. Cannon said that after he did some strong "needling" about ignoring the reorganization law, Congress finally agreed on a legislative budget that was $2,500,000,000 lower.

Thereafter, Cannon said, Congress "gave no heed or attention to it and entirely ignored it in the consideration of appropriation bills."

The legislative budget has produced plenty of arguments, with Democrats and Republicans accusing each other of using "phony" mathematics in figuring whether or not the presidential budget has been trimmed.

HEROIC PERFORMANCE BY VIOLINIST NEVEU

She and Orchestra Brilliant In Brahms Concerto—Repetition Tonight.

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN

Ginette Neveu, the young French violinist who appeared as soloist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra yesterday afternoon in Kiel Auditorium, placed herself in the fronk rank of living interpretive artists by her performance of the Brahms Concerto. What gave it greatness was its soaring breadth of line, its unremitting passion and its chiseled perfection of detail.

In some respects it was a performance of notable omissions. The yeasty Brahms, with a heart as big as all out-of-doors, was respected only to the extent that his lyrical expressiveness could be made a part of a monumental over-all design. There was no pathos for its own sake; Miss Neveu excluded most of those minute expansions and contractions of sound that stir the senses with or without reason. She played with a big tone but a fine one and relied for the success of her projection on making every part, however small, contribute to the logic and the architecture of the whole.

Bold Entry.

But whereas her playing was unsentimental it was always intense. From her first bold, incisive entry it was evident that her intentions were heroic and aristocratic and it was also evident that any wavering from this purpose would make what happened later seem commonplace if not weak. As it happened everything was kept up to this original point of tension and even the cantilena passage, while beautiful, limpid and fluent, was worked into a general purpose of making the concerto a dramatic poem.

So far as the technical elements of her playing were concerned Miss Neveu was immaculate. In color her tone had a prevailingly silver brilliance. Articulation was as clear as the lines of an etching and was consistently in tune. Attacks and release were sharp. And her strong rhythmic sense naturally played an important part in giving her performance its great vitality.

The orchestra under Conductor Vladimir Golschmann was beautifully co-ordinated with the soloist for the most part; it had a lustrous tone and an appropriate bigness of scale.

Tartini's Concerto.

Mr. Golschmann and the orchestra made a notable contribution to the high quality of the program with their performance of Tartini's Concerto in F Major (arranged by Bonell:) for strings, two obes and two horns. No music of the classic period, or any period, can show a more engaging combination of human warmth and formal elegance than this, and the orchestra delivered it with a precision, a radiance and an expressiveness that could hardly have been bettered anywhere.

Less compelling as music but well performed too was the "Poem for Flute and Orchestra" by the American composer Frederick Woltmann. The piece was quiet and poetic and revolved around a single mood of reflection. Albert Tipton, the first flutist, played the solo part gracefully and with a clean, rounded tone throughout the range employed.

The Sibelius Second Symphony, which balanced the Brahms Concerto so far as mass is concerned, was worked out with a great variety of contrasted detail. As it is a strange combination of effective originality and the most blatant bombast—in the third and final movements—its effect on the listener was necessarily mixed. The orchestra, however, tackled it with fervor and made a generally impressive showing.

Altogether it was the best concert of the season, even if one counts the Sibelius as more a loss than a gain. The concert will be repeated tonight beginning at 8:30.

MUSIC SPONSORS HOLD 4TH ANNUAL CONCERT

500 Take Part in Varied Program Professional in Quality.

(Pictures in Everyday Magazine)

More music festivals like the one put on last night by the Music Sponsors of Greater St. Louis are needed to bring attention to little-known but highly deserving musical organizations of this area. It was the Music Sponsors' fourth annual concert; the Thanksgiving theme was employed. Five hundred persons participated in the music-making; there were several hundred empty seats in Kiel Auditorium Opera House despite free admission.

The evening's variety ranged from a clarinet solo to folk songs, barbershop harmony and rousing Sousa marches. Performers might have been amateur, but the product was prodominantly professional. Among the better singing moments were Handel's "Where E'er You Walk," by the Southern Illinois Male Chorus (East St. Louis); "Rex Gloriad," by the Schubert Club, a women's chorus of East St. Louis; Sibellus's "Dear Land of Home," by the Eighth District Missouri Federation of Music Clubs Combined Choruses; "Ev'rytime I Feel the Spirit," by the Legend Singers, a Negro chorus; "Aura Lee," by the St. Louis and Clayton chapters of the Barbershoppers.

International spice was added by Carlos E. Camacho's Mexican-American Artistic Group, who sang and danced. Their "Jarbe Tapito" (Hat Dance) drew a big hand. They wore colorful costumes, as did the St. Louis Polish Falcons No. 45, who recreated a scene from a harvest festival in old Poland, complete with gay singing and dancing. These groups really helped leaven the program.

Other organizations participating were the precision-drilled drum and bugle corps of the Santiago-Argonne Post No. 1102, V.F.W., and the Christian Brothers College Concert Band. The band, excellently disciplined under the baton of John Sauter, played before the program, later did Noel Coward's "Bitter Sweet Overture" that included a most pleasing "Zigeuner" chorus, and added Sousa's "Washington Post March." On the latter, the bands' six-member sousaphone section climaxed an evening of excellent work.

The audience expressed favor for a clarinet solo by 18-year-old Gloria Van Skyke. Her tone and technique were equally brilliant on Von Weber's "Concertina." Miss Van Skyke, a sophomore at Harris Teachers College, is first clarinetist in the St. Louis Women's Symphony and aspires to play in the St. Louis Symphony. Hollywood may get her first, for her attractiveness matches her musicianship.

Bernard F. Dickmann, president of Music Sponsors, addressed the audience briefly. Bruce Hayward of KWK was narrator of the program. C.M.

JOHN A. LARKIN, EXECUTIVE OF CELANESE CORP., DIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—John A. Larkin, vice chairman of the board of directors of Celanese Corp. of America, died yesterday. He was 57 years old.

Larkin served as counsel in the formation of Celanese Corp. and was elected a vice president in 1928. He became vice chairman of its board of directors in 1946. His widow, Mrs. Henrietta Kleberg Larkin, is a sister of Robert Kleberg, owner of the famous King Ranch in Texas.

Tomorrow's Events

3 p.m.—Bob Hall, photographer, presents talk and color motion pictures on "Japan After Conquest," at Carondelet branch Y.M.C.A., 600 Loughborough avenue.

4 p.m.—David Nadien, violinist, appears with St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in Kiel Auditorium Opera House.

8:15 p.m.—The Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, S.J., talks on "China and the Pacific Islands" in Te Deum Forum lecture in Kiel Auditorium Opera House.

GALLUP TO TRY AGAIN

George Gallup is going to continue with his public opinion polls, but henceforth he will be more cautious when it comes to making his predictions. We agree that predicting the whims of people is a ticklish business and we are glad our kind of opinion poll is easier to take. NAVY SURPRISES FOOTBALL WORLD, PLAYS ARMY TO A TIE

SCORE 21-21; PRESIDENT AMONG 102,000 AT GAME; HAWKINS, GALIFFA STAR

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27 (AP)—A maligned and battered Navy football team struck with all its pent-up fury today to tie mighty Army, 21 to 21, in a game that kept President Truman and 102,000 other spectators on their feet most of the final quarter.

Each team got a touchdown in those final 15 minutes, when play was so exciting that the President stayed to the very end instead of leaving before the final gun as his custom.

It was Bill Hawkins, out for almost a month with a nerve injury in his left shoulder, who got the tying touchdown with less than five minutes remaining. Roger Drew came in and calmly kicked the extra point.

Thus Navy ended a string of defeats that had reached 13 and Army's row of all-winning games was stopped at nine.

Navy got its first touchdown in the very first quarter with Pete Williams contributing 59 yards in one jaunt.

Arnold Galiffa pitched two vital passes as the Cadets got two markers in the next period. Army's third touchdown came in the fourth period when the same Galiffa spun around his own right end for 10 yards and the pay-off.

The Middies' second touchdown came in the third stanza, when Hawkins went over from the three.

FIRST QUARTER.

Army kicked off and Bill Green took the ball on his 10 and brought it back to the 22. Navy gained only a yard in three tries and kicked to the Cadets, who took over on the 40 but had to punt from the 49 on fourth down.

The ball rolled dead on the 12 and Bill Hawkins squirmed through the center of the line for six yards and a first down on the 22. Three plays later Pete Williams fought his way 59 yards to the Army 12, after a lateral from Baysinger.

Navy sent its attack straight at the center of the Army line and Baysinger went over from the one on the fourth play. Roger Drew added the extra point and Navy led, 7 to 0, after six minutes and 43 seconds.

The Middie kickoff went through the end zone and Army took over on its 20. The Cadets were forced to kick and Rawer's wabbly punt went only to Army's 48.

Afterg an exchange of punts, a Baysinger to Green pass took Navy to Army's 29-yard line, a gain of 24 yards. It was only the second aerial attempt of the game, a previous Baysinger pass falling incomplete.

McCully came in for Williams and made a first down for Navy on the Army 17. Navy had battered its way to the 12 as the period ended with the Middies ahead, 7 to 0.

SECOND QUARTER.

Army repulsed the threat by throwing Navy for big losses on the next two plays, taking over the ball on its 34.

Scott ripped off 11 yards on the first play but then the Army attack bogged down and the Cadets kicked. Navy couldn't gain either, and the Middies had to punt back. Schultz made it a first down for Army on the Navy 44. Galiffa's pass, his first of the day, was caught by Parrish, who was pushed out of bounds on the Navy 6. On the second play, Schultz drove through the center of the line for a touchdown. Yoeman's kick was good, tying the score 7 to 7.

With neither team able to put on a sustained drive, the punters were the busiest men on the field. Rawers was doing the kicking for Army and Baysinger for Navy. Shultz made it a first down for Army on the Navy 43 and then Galiffa tossed once more to Parrish, who was downed on the three. Cosentino went inside Navy's left tackle for the touchdown and Yoeman again added the point to make it Army 14, Navy 7. The half ended with that score.

THIRD QUARTER.

McCully ran Army's kickoff back from his 10 to the Navy 33 and Williams banged through center for 13 yards on the first play. Then Horne completed to Ryan to Army's 41.

Williams went to the 37 in two blasts but Army held and the Middies had to punt. They exchanged punts and Army got the first break of the game when Kellum blocked Baysinger's fourth-down punt and the ball was downed on the Navy 39.

Neither Stuart nor Stephenson, Army's two biggest guns, played during the second period and the third period was half done before Stephenson made his second appearance. He combined with Shultz to carry the ball to the 19 where three consecutive Califfa passes fell incomplete.

Baysinger opened up the Army defense with short passes and Navy marched up the field to its 45. Then another pass was ruled complete on the Army 38.

Baysinger tossed another, this time to Carson for 10 yards before Powers went around his left end for 23 yards to the Army three. Hawkins smacked it over and Drew evened the score at 14-all with his second conversion.

Army brought the kickoff back to the 34 and in two plays moved to the Navy 40, Stephenson making 15 yards in one try. The Midshipmen in the stands began chanting "remember 1946" as the Sailors began pressing Army's passers and the third quarter ended with the score tied at 14-14.

FOURTH QUARTER.

Galiffa carried the ball in a surprise play and was run out of bounds on the 17. The Cadets moved the ball to the 10 before Galiffa again carried, skirting his right end for the touchdown. Yeoman converted again to make the score 21 to 14.

Navy worked the ball up to its 45 after the kickoff but couldn't keep its attack functioning and had to kick.

Navy took over on the midfield stripe after an Army punt and with Hawkins doing most of the work, marched to a first down on the Army 12. Green took it to the four and then on a delayed buck over his right tackle, Hawkins went over. There were less than five minutes of play remaining. Drew deadlocked the score with his third conversion, 21 to 21.

The game ended without further scoring.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS STADIUM, Nov. 27 — An expected flurry of touchdowns between two scoring teams failed to materialize as Beaumont and St. Louis U. High played to a scoreless first half in the sixth annual accident benefit football game here this afternoon.

Only one serious scoring threat was mounted as the teams battled for the mythical city championship before a crowd of about 9000. Late in the second quarter, Junior Billiken Ed Gaus crossed Beaumont's goal line, but the officials ruled Big Ed had stepped out at the 27.

Later a pass from Tim Dolan to Gaus moved the young Bills to the six. There a five-yard off-side penalty dulled the St. Louis attack and the Dauphins lost possession of the ball after John Schultz' place-kick from the 16 was blocked by Beaumont's captain, Ed Schaeffer.

Schultz is a brother of Joe Schultz, former pinch-hitting expert for the St. Louis Browns baseball team.

FIRST QUARTER.

St. Louis U. High received the opening kickoff and a 15-yard sprint by Bill Murphy gave the Junior Bills a first down at their 27. Then followed a series of fumbles, four of them coming in four minutes, Beaumont ultimately winding up with the ball at the St. Louis 39.

Play was kept in St. Louis territory throughout the period but the Junior Bills made an effort to move out after a punt by Delgaudio rolled out at the Dauphin three. From there St. Louis rolled up three first downs and reached its 40 as the first quarter ended. Score: Beaumont 0, St. Louis U. High 0.

SECOND QUARTER

Midway in the period Ed Gaus, St. Louis fullback, ran over the Beaumont goal line, a 46-yard gain, but the ball was called back because Gaus stepped out of bounds at the Beaumont 27. However, it gave the Dauphins their farthest advance in Bluejacket territory.

A screen pass play from Dolan to Gaus netted 23 yards and first down for St. Louis at the Beaumont six. The St. Louis drive crumbled when John Schultz's place-kick from the 16-yard line was blocked by Beaumont's Schaeffer. Beaumont took over at the Bluejacket 12.

As the half ended Beaumont had the ball on its 10-yard line. Score: Beaumont 0; St. Louis U. High 0.

St. Louis Table Tennis Team Off in Lead

Bill Price and Garrett Nash combined to give the St. Louis team a 3-0 lead over its first opponent, Detroit, in the national inter-city table tennis tournament which opened at the De Soto Hotel this afternoon.

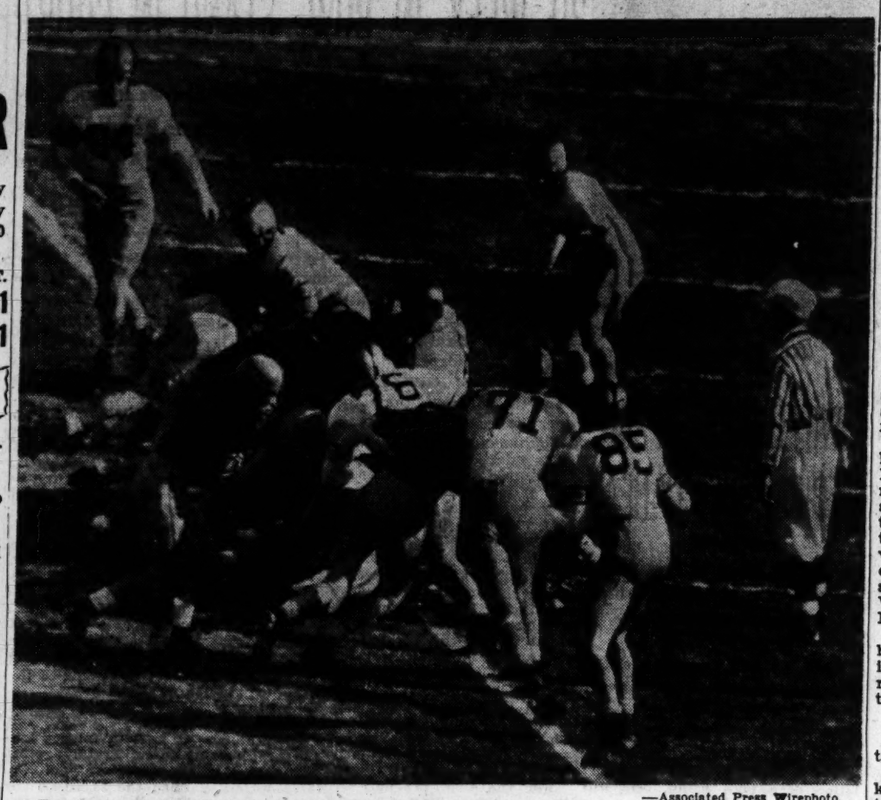

Each of the eight teams in the round-robin tourney plays the other a "tie," a set of best-of-nine individual matches. The tourney continues tonight and winds up with matches tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Price, captain of the United States team in the last world championships, defeated Glenn Whitcroft, 21-16, 21-11, and Lee Webb, 21-14, 21-12. Nash also downed Webb, 21-15, 21-11.

Columbus, O., won from Bridgeport, Conn., 5-0, and Chicago defeated Indiana, 5-1.

A picked team of players in the tourney will go to the world championships in Stockholm.

Mike Ghnouly to Be Ready for 'Gator Bowl Contest, Faurot Says

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 27 (AP)—The University of Missouri Tigers will begin practice for their New Year's day appearance in the 'Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., next Thursday, Coach Don Faurot said today.

Announcement of Missouri's acceptance of the post season bid was made last night by Prof. Sam B. Shirky, chairman of the University's Athletic Committee.

While 'Gator Bowl officials had not announced the Missouri opponent early today, it is generally understood the Tigers will meet Clemson. Missouri scout John Simmons was in Mobile, Ala., today to scout the South Carolina team against Auburn.

Clemson had scouted Missouri in its game with Nebraska two weeks ago.

The game will mark Missouri's fourth appearance in a bowl contest.

Missouri has lost its three bowl starts. The Tigers were beaten by Georgia Tech in the 1940 Orange Bowl, 21-7; by Fordham in the 1943 Sugar Bowl, 2-0, and by Texas in the 1946 Cotton Bowl, 40-27.

Faurot said he would work his squad twice weekly before leaving for Jacksonville Christmas night.

Sophomore halfback Mike Ghnouly, who sparkplugged Missouri's 20-14 victory over S.M.U. before suffering three fractured ribs in the Oklahoma game Nov. 6, is expected to be ready to play, Faurot said.

During the regular season Missouri lost only to Ohio State and Oklahoma, and defeated Navy, S.M.U., Colorado, St. Louis U., Iowa State, Kansas State, Nebraska and Kansas, each by a handy margin.

The Tigers set a new team scoring record of 308 points in winning eight of their 10 gmes.

'Duckiest Voice' Contest Is On, Prize $1000

STUTTGART, Ark., Nov. 27 (UP)—A hunter with a melodious quack in his larynx will be $1000 richer when he leaves this rice and duck center of the Mississippi valley tonight. But he won't need the money for medical attention unless his windpipe becomes unduly strained.

For, according to the rules, he will be the holder of the duckiest voice in America—the winner of the thirteenth annual national duck calling contest.

More than 75 Arkansas and out-of-state entrants had filed for the American Legion-sponsored event, including seven former champions.

A state contest in the afternoon preceded the national contest in the evening.

Like everything else these days, duck calling has progressed with the times. A good set of tonsils and plenty of soul won't do the trick without the aid of a mechanical caller.

In fact, only two men have won the championship without using the reed instrument. The first prize in 1936, a $6.60 hunting coat, went to Thomas E. Walsh of Greenville, Miss., who used only the instrument furnished by nature, his mouth. This accomplishment was repeated by another Greenville man, Herman Caillouet, in 1942.

But the remainder of the national champs have depended upon a mechanical caller. And for that particular item, the oldtimers specify a mouthpiece made of cedar and a reed made of rubber if the fine tonal quality which attracts the ducks is to be produced.

However, there is more to the contest than just making a racket.

M. T. McCollum of Stuttgart, the 1941 champ, says it is necessary to put a "grunt" into the caller to produce the proper sound. Merely blowing a caller, he says, results in anything except the sound of a duck call.

The contest isn't decided by the number of ducks a contestant is able to attract. Instead, a five-man team of judges will decide on the tonal quality of each contestant's efforts.

Each entrant is judged on three types of calls:

The long distance—or "hail call"—used to attract the ducks' attention as they approach the hunter;

The feed call—employed primarily in the rice fields and Pinoak Islands where the ducks feed;

And the mating call—which brings the ducks closer after they have alighted on the water near the hunter.

Judges who will grade the long, high-pitched sounds, the series of clucking noises and the succession of low-toned grunts this year are Edgar M. Queeny, St. Louis; Joseph Pulitzer of St. Louis; Frank Vestal, outdoor editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal; C. J. Reese of Detroit, and Gene Howe, publisher of the Amarillo Globe News, Amarillo, Tex.

Bombers Face Mikan and His Lakers Tonight

Big George Mikan, towering 6 ft. 10 in center of the Minneapolis Lakers, will lead his team tonight against the Bombers at the Arena in a game which should be one of the stiffest tests the Bombers have had to face so far this year. Mikan, considered one of the outstanding "big men" in the country is currently leading the B.B.A. in scoring with 312 points, which represents an average of 28.4 per game. Last year while the Lakers were still a member of the National League, Mikan shattered every scoring record aand totaled 1195 points in 56 games. Game time, 8:45 o'clock, with a preliminary at 7:15.

Going into tonight's game the Bombers are tied for second place in the Western Division, having gained a game on Chicago Thanksgiving night when they defeated the Providence Steamrollers in an overtime game, 84-82. The Bombers have a record of 6 victories and 2 defeats compared to the Lakers' current record of 7 victories against 4 setbacks. The Minneapolis team holds down fourth place in the B.B.A.'s western circuit.

In a preliminary game, starting at seven o'clock, the Meramec Caverns, trying for their fifth straight victory, will play the Joplin (Mo.) Tamkos.

Mikan Scores 18 Points As Lakers Defeat All-Stars Before 19,345

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers, with big George Mikan contributing 18 points in part-time service, smashed the College All-Star basketball hopefuls 60-42 last night in Chicago Stadium before a sell-out throng of 19,345.

It was the biggest winning margin ever piled up in the nine-year history of the all-star series. The previous largest edge was the Fort Wayne Zollners' 48-33 triumph in 1944.

The Stars, coached for the ninth time by Dutch Lonborg of Northwestern, entered the game with two successive triumphs. Although the defeat was unanimous, it left the Stars with a 6-3 victory advantage in the rivalry.

3402 by Milwaukee Rollers Tops Nation

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 27 (AP)—THE Milwaukee Karlls today laid claim to top spot in the 1948 national bowling honor roll with a whopping 3402 team score.

The Karlls squad, a member of the Greater All-Star League, replaced the Detroit Strohs who had led the nation with 3387.

In compiling their fat series, the Karlls had single games of 1036, 1190 and 1176. The score sheet showed 15 games over 200 and only two errors. Top individual was Erv (Dutch) Kaiser with 728 on games of 214, 258 and 256.

Jack Delaney Dies; Former Boxing Champion

KATONAH, N. Y., Nov. 27 (AP)—Jack Delaney, former light-heavyweight boxing champion of the world, died today at his home in a rural area near here.

The cause of Delaney's death was not announced but he had been ill for several months. He underwent an operation at Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York last spring.

Delaney, 48, won the light-heavy title by outpointing Paul Berlenbach at New York, July 17, 1926. He moved into the heavyweight ranks in 1927, declaring himself no longer able to make the 175-pound limit. In 1928 he retired.

Oregon Student Paper Calls for Changes in Coast Conference Set-up

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 27 (UP)—The Daily Emerald, student newspaper of the University of Oregon, suggested editorially yesterday that the Rose Bowl game this year be called the "Bud Bowl."

"Neither team (California and Northwestern) quite deserves the title of full-blossomed roses," the newspaper said.

An editorial said Oregon was not out-fought but "out-politicked" in Pacific Coast Conference balloting for the Rose Bowl selection.

"It won't happen again," the Daily Emerald said. "The conference will make some revolutionary changes in the rules, providing for playoffs if the conference is not shaved down to eight members.

"If it is shaved down, it will be Idaho and Montana who will get the boot and every other team in the league will play each other throughout the regular season."

235 for Virginia Penn.

Virginia Penn of Silver Seals had a high single of 235 and Lo Hull of South St. Louis Dairy shot a 616 series to take the individual honors last night in the Women's Major Scratch Bowling League at the Du-Bowl Lanes. Silver Seals had 990 and 2753 for team honors. All matches ended in 2-1 results with Say It With Flowers, Silver Seals, South St. Louis Dairy and W. & S. Bears Score 3 Times Against Louisville in The Second Quarter

By Robert Morrison

FRANCIS FIELD, Nov. 27—A 56-yard touchdown drive and quick capitalization on two Louisville fumbles enabled the Washington University Bears to take a 20-0 halftime lead over the Cardinals in the season-closing football game here this afternoon.

Stopping an early thrust by the visitors, who raced to the Bear two-yard line after the opening kickoff, the Bears came right back with a line bucking attack that drove through for the first second period touchdown. It was scored by Bob Buhrmaster on a five-yard plunge.

Then Louisville fumbled and lost the ball on its 35 and the Bears scored again. Hank Christmann, apparently not too much affected by a painful ailment, led the drive and scored the second touchdown. Immediately afterward Louisville lost the ball again on a fumble at the Cardinal 23 and Rawlings passed to Charles Winner for 15 yards and a third Bear touchdown.

A crowd of about 6000 was on hand for the Bears' final effort in a season which has produced more victories than any other at the Hilltop.

FIRST QUARTER.

Louisville won the toss and chose to receive.

Louisville's Lucia returned Belt's kick from the Cardinal goal line to the 17. Louisville's speed showed immediately when Brewer broke away for 43 yards, but the gain was called back when Louisville was penalized for holding.

But the Cardinals struck right back, starting from their 10. Lucia hit the line to the 17. Brewer went through center to the 26. Lucia bucked for a first down at the 27. After one more play, Lucia reversed his field and ran 45 yards to the Washington 28.

In three more plays, Louisville was on the Bear 12. Shelton made the biggest gain of that series, a 14-yard run around right end. Brewer hit through right guard to the seven and again to the three. Day made first down on the Washington two.

But Louisville was offside on the next play. Gitschier fumbled once but recovered and then Day fumbled on the next play and Christmann recovered on the Washington 10 to stop the threat.

The undaunted Bears marched right back. Two plays made five, then Winner went off tackle for a first on the Bear 21. Gerstung ran right end to the 29, then Christmann broke through on a delayed buck for 15 yards and a first down at the Washington 44.

Gerstung and Clodfelter alternated as the Bears got another first on the Louisville 45. But three more running plays were three yards short of the necessary distance and Gerstung punted out of bounds on the Louisville 17.

Louisville, losing some of steam, was forced to punt back Rawlings taking the kick and being nailed on the Washington 44. Three plays lost two yards as the quarter ended. Score: Washington 0; Louisville 0.

SECOND QUARTER.

Clodfelter used only two plays to get two first downs, the second one at the Louisville 29. Christmann, Gerstung and Clodfelter hit the line for another first on the Cardinal 18. Winner's famous reverse failed, but Clodfelter and Christmann bucked to the 10. An offside penalty on the Cardinals gave the Bears first down on the Louisville five.

Christmann failed to gain, but then Buhrmaster hit off left tackle for five yards and the touchdown. Belt converted. Score: Washington 7, Louisville 0.

Belt's kickoff was returned to the Louisville 35. On the first play Brewer fumbled and Reynolds recovered for the Bears on the Cardinal 35.

Another off-side penalty on Louisville helped the Bears, moving them to the Louisville 26, then Clodfelter swung around right end for a first down on the Cardinal 21. Christmann, carrying on five of seven plays, did most of the work as the Bears punched over for another touchdown. Belt's place kick was wide. Score: Washington 13, Louisville 0.

After the Bear kickoff, Ewbank's men again capitalized on a Louisville fumble. Lucia's bobble was recovered by Deutsch and Reynolds on the Louisville 23, and in four plays the Bears scored for the third time. The last 15 yards came on a pass from Rawlings to Winner, who was in the clear and ran only a few yards to score. Belt converted. Score: Washington 20, Louisville 0.

On the conversion play, the Nunn got into a fight and were banished from the game. Washington was penalized 15 yards and the Bears kicked off from their 25-yard line. Louisville opened up with passes, starting on the Cardinal 30, and moved to the Washington 32 as the half ended. Score: Washington 20, Louisville 0.

THIRD QUARTER.

Brewer kicked off to Winner, who returned 15 yards to the Washington 24. For 44 seconds and three plays, including the kickoff, Louisville had at least 12 men on the field. The officials were slow to realize it. Various Louisville substitutions had 13 or 14 men standing around on the field between plays. But then Referee Renald Gibbs finally called a five-yard penalty and the Bears, despite a five-yard penalty against them for backs in motion, finally picked up a first down on the Washington 35. It was easier going for the Bears with just 11 Cardinals in action.

The Bears then were forced to punt, but on the kick, Louisville was penalized for holding and the Bears, thanks ot the 15-yard penalty, had first down at midfield. Clodfelter carried twice and Winner once for another first on the Louisville 37. Gerstung and Christmann ran for another at the Louisville 27. Then, on the third down, Rawlings, with no pass protection to speak of, tossed directly to Louisville's Day, who raced 80 yards on the interception for a touchdown. Lewiski's kick was wide. Score: Washington 20, Louisville 6.

Cleveland Wins Over Washington

Graziano Suspended in All Territory of N. B. A.

PATERSON, N.J., Nov. 27 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, former middleweight champion, has been suspended indefinitely from boxing in all parts of the world under N.B.A. supervision.

The ruling on the Brooklyn (N.Y.) boxer was announced yesterday by Abe J. Greene, president of the NBA and followed similar action by the California State Boxing Commission.

The California Commission acted, Joe Genshlea, its secretary, said, as a result of Graziano's "running out" on a fight Dec. 1 in Oakland, Calif., with Fred Apostoli.

Greene said the NBA action was automatic. The NBA, he said, always concurs with any action taken by any member commission.

Graziano will be given a "chance to straighten the matter out," if he desires at a hearing Dec. 18 in Los Angeles. If the California Commission decides to lift the ban, the NBA also will reinstate Graziano, Greene said.

The suspension covers most states in America and most parts of the world, including Great Britain, the European Boxing Federation, Cuba, Mexico and Canada, Greene said.

Graziano has been unable to fight for almost two years in New York, where his license was suspended for failure to report an alleged bribe attempt.

New York and Massachusetts are the only states where boxing is conducted which are not members of the NBA.

Sam Flaksman of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission said in Boston that Graziano never had applied for a license in that state.

St. Bonaventure Rejects Cigar Bowl Invitation

OLEAN, N.Y., Nov. 27 (AP)—St. Bonaventure, beaten only once and tied once in nine football games, will not play a bowl game.

Rejection of a bid from the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Fla., was announced last night by the Rev. Silas Rooney, O.F.M., athletics director. He explained college authorities felt any bowl game would mean "too much lost time" for the players.

5 Sooners Named on Big Seven

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 27 (AP) — The University of Oklahoma Sooners, a mighty champion, gained seven berths on the Associated Press's first and second Big Seven Conference all star football team announced today.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners, who won the title by a landslide over their five league opponents, placed five men on the first mythical team and two on the second.

The coaches and writers who co-operated in the selections were unanimous in their opinion of Oklahoma's Paul (Buddy) Burris, 220-pound guard, and elusive Jack Mitchell, 180-pound quarterback.

Missouri, another powerhouse until it met Oklahoma, landed four first team spots, and Kansas two.

Burris, who as a freshman played on Tulsa's 1943 Sugar Bowl team, was hailed by experts as the most brutal tackler and blocker the Big Seven had seen in years. A senior from Muskogee, Okla., Burris put in 34 months overseas with the Army Engineers.

Entsminger in Backfield.

Mitchell, claimed as a citizen by Ponca City, Okla., but who played high school football at Arkansas City, Kan., was one of the nation's top punt returners and a great field general. He scored nine touchdowns in the first nine games, picked up 431 yards rushing and ran back 21 punts for 504 yards.

Harold (Bus Entsminger, of Missouri; George (Junior) Thomas, of Oklahoma, and Richard (Dick) Gilman, of Kansas round out the backfield although the Kansan got a hot scrap from three others.

Entsminger was the leading pass and rush man in the conference. The St. Joseph (Mo.) boy connected on approximately 50 per cent of his tosses, gained better than 1000 yards rushing and passing.

Thomas, a junior from Fairland, Okla., led the conference in yards gained rushing (782 for the first nine games) and had 10 touchdowns.

Gilman, a third string halfback on Kansas co-champions last year, passed for or setup, the winning touchdown in six of the Jayhawks' seven successive victories. Some contended his teammate, Forrest Griffith, was a better back, but Gilman's 14 touchdown throws in nine games couldn't be overlooked.

Melbourne Sheehan, 209, Missouri senior, from Normandy, Mo., and James Owens, 200, Oklahoma junior from Oklahoma City, captured the first team ends. Each was a good pass receiver, excellent blocker and defender.

Fritz at Tackle.

The fifth Oklahoman making the grade was senior Homer Paine, 225, of Enid, Okla., who teamed at the tackles with Chester Fritz of Missouri, a 204-pound senior from Fulton, Mo. Fritz nosed out Oklahoma's Wade Walker, 1947 all-star, and Hugh Johnson, of Kansas.

Richard (Dick) Tomlinson, 200-pound Kansas junior from Dodge City, Kan., got the other guard slot.

Robert (Bob) Fuchs, of Missouri, a junior from St. Louis, won the center job in a close race with Dick Monroe, of Kansas, Pete Tillman, of Oklahoma, and Thomas Novak, of Missouri.

An all-star back in 1946 and a repeater as a lineman last season, Novak worked at both fullback and center this fall. He was injured much of the season.

Repeaters from 1947 were Mitchell, Sheehan, Fritz and Entsminger. Each is a senior student.

Colorado made strong bids with end Ed Pudlik and Harry Narcisian, a triple-threater.

Gil Dobie, Former Football Coach, Ill

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 27 (AP) — Gilmour Dobie, famous football coach whose record for turning out undefeated teams never has been equaled, is critically ill in the Institute of Living here.

Known to generations of fans as "Gloomy Gil" because of his doleful, seldom-fulfilled predictions of disaster for his teams, the 68-year-old Dobie has been a patient at the Institute, a private hospital for nervous disorders, for the past three months.

The Institute declined to comment on Dobie's condition. But at Putnam, where he had made his home for the past four or five years, his personal physician, Dr. David Bates, said that the famed gridiron mentor was gravely ill.

Hickey to Talk at Basketball Clinic

Ed Hickey, St. Louis University basketball coach, was to talk on the fast break at the Normandy basketball clinic today at the County High School's gymnasium. Duster Thomas, Pinckneyville (Ill.) high school coach was to talk on defense against the fast break.

Some 30 coaches from local and outstate schools attended yesterday's sessions in which Tom Stanton, Beaumont High School coach and Blair Gullion, Washington University coach, spoke.

SHORT WAVES

Frankie Parker.

JAROSLAV DROBNY, Czech tennis player, said only FRANKIE PARKER, among American tennis stars, knows how to play on clay courts. "If the 10 best Americans came to Europe and played the 10 best Europeans on clay, the Americans would score one victory," he said. . . . EDWARD POPEK, Clifton, N.J., former second baseman of the New London Colonial League baseball club, was awarded $2500 yesterday for an injury suffered playing ball, July 20, 1947, at Poughkeepsie, N.Y. . . . PETE DURHAM, 20-year-old defenseman, was acquired by the Tulsa club from Hershey. . . . GEORGE MYATT has been renamed manager of the Chattanooga Lookouts, last-place club of the Southern Association last season. . . . TOM BONGIOVANI, 31-year-old outfielder, has been named manager of the Stockton club of the California League.

SARGON ORAHAM, an outfielder with the Illinois University team last year, has been signed by the White Sox. . . . They also signed BILL BEST, Illinois State Normal at Bloomington. . . . Mountain Grove and Greenfield (Mo.) high school teams were invited to play in the Ozark Bowl game at Springifeld, Mo., Dec. 3. . . . BILL MAUZY, former athletic director at Sioux Falls College, said he has been appointed basketball coach at McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill. . . . TOMMY BELL, who was knocked out by FRANKIE FERNANDEZ in Honolulu, Nov. 24, suffered no unusual injuries in the bout nor was he sent to a hospital. After a routine examination, he started for his home in Youngstown, O. . . . The University of Utah Redskins are available to play in the Delta Bowl, Jan. 1, if wanted. The members of the squad reversed their decision to refuse a bowl bid and are now willin'. . . . Dayton University's athletic director has recommended that DON C. MILLS be banned from all school athletics for striking an official at the Dayton-Chattanooga football game. . . . CARL SMOLINSKI, Chicago, 18-year-old left-handed pitcher, has been signed by Brooklyn. . . . The world championship of the International Ice Hockey Federation will be held in Stockholm, Feb. 12 to 20. . . . Eastern Oklahoma A. and M. Junior College will be host team for the Papoose Bowl game in Oklahoma City, Dec. 3. Their opponent has not been selected.

Five Bowling Meets Over the Weekend

St. Louis bowlers will be kept busy over the weekend participating in five tournaments. A four-game women's tourney takes place today and tomorrow at the Du-Bowl Lanes, entries being accepted for all squads, and the annual five-man tourney is slated for tomorrow at the Perkins Pladium lanes in East St. Louis.

F. Keris has 927 to lead in the Bowl-A-Way men's tourney on East Side. N. Karnegas's 953 and Floyd Touchette's 931 are the top scores in the Stumhofer event, also on the East Side. June Nieters and C. Krus have a combined tally of 1196 to set the mixed doubles pace at the Bowling Grand lanes. These three tourneys will be completed with sessions today and tomorrow. Entries are still being accepted.

Marie Laschke Rolls 263 In St. Anthony League

Marie Laschke, member of the H. A. Stockmann team in the Friday Night Ladies' League, rolled a high single game of 263 last night at St. Anthony Bowling Lanes. It is the third highest game posted so far this season. A 159-average bowler, Miss Laschke had games of 186, 263, 180 for a 629 series. Helen Geldmeier, a teammate, had 233 and 554. The Stockmanns won three from the Melene five.

Southside Classic.

The Griesedieck bowlers, formerly known as the Little Foxes, scored the lone shutout last night in the Southside Classic League at Du-Bowl Lanes, defeating the Andy Burgers. In the other matches, decided 2 to 1, Hartmann beat Shur-Start, Commonwealth won from Hendrix and Chippewa defeated the Ideals. Hartmanns had 1072 and 2918 for team honors. Bob Erxleben of Shur-Start had 255 and 665 for individual laurels.

Hoc-Soc Results.

Club Dodier scored an upset victory over the Indians, 2-1, in the Neighborhood Association's senior Hoc-Soc League last night. The Cubs and the Leo club played a draw 2-2 while in an intermediate game the Deuces won from Natacs, 3-1.

Hole-in-One.

Tom Erikson made a hole-in-one on the 144-yard sixth hole at Crystal Lake. He used a No. 7 iron.

HERTENSTEIN'S APPEAL FROM FIRING ARGUED

Judge Takes Case Under Submission, Allows Time for Filing of Briefs.

Charles Hertenstein's appeal to circuit court from the action of the Civil Service Commission, dismissing him from the office of administrative assistant to the Mayor, was under submission with Judge Harry F. Russell today. An unspecified time has been allowed for filing of briefs by Hertenstein's counsel and counsel for the commission, following the hearing of arguments in court yesterday.

Two main points were stated by Judge Russell as the issues in the case, as viewed by him:

1. Has the Civil Service Commission the right to dismiss Hertenstein?

2. Was a fair hearing given in the case?

No Notice Given, Says Lawyer.

Hertenstein's attorney, State Senator David E. Horn, told the court yesterday that Hertenstein was summoned to a Civil Service Commission hearing last May 27 as a witness. Without prior notice, he added, Hertenstein became the defendant, when at the opening of the commission hearing, he was told that charges of political activity were made against him.

The commission then heard the charges, which related to the alleged attempt on the part of Hertenstein to bring out a candidate for committeewoman in one ward. The commission found him guilty and ordered his dismissal. The order, however, was stayed pending the outcome of his appeal to the circuit court.

Thomas F. McDonald, who was employed as attorney for the commission after the case was taken to the courts, argued yesterday that in administrative procedure the same degree of formality of notice as in criminal and civil cases is not required. He said that Hertenstein had had notice of the fact that an investigation was being made of his alleged political activities by reason of newspaper articles, which appeared last April 29. These articles concerned the taking of a deposition from Hertenstein by City Personnel Director R. Elliott Scearce.

Judge's Comment.

Judge Russell, commenting on the action of the commission, said, "I don't understand the commission's action in denying counsel for the defendant time to marshal his defense. Nor do I understand how a man summoned as a witness could then and there become defendant."

In yesterday's editions of the Post-Dispatch, an erroneous impression was created that McDonald was counsel for the commission at its hearing on the Hertenstein matter. Also it was erroneously stated that Judge Russell commented unfavorably on the action of the commission and its counsel. This was not the case, since McDonald was not counsel for the commission during the nine-day period covered by the Hertenstein hearings last May and June.

FUNERAL TONIGHT FOR SWEDISH CLARINETIST KILLED IN CRASH

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 27 (AP)—Funeral services will be held tonight for Stan Hasselgard, 27-year-old Swedish clarinetis, who was killed Tuesday in an automobile crash near Hammond, Ill., east of here.

After services at an undertaking establishment here, arranged by the AFL American Federation of Musicians' Decatur local, the body will be sent to St. Louis for cremation. Hasselgard's ashes will be sent to Sweden for burial.

The musician, who real first name was Ake, was a protege of Benny Goodman, dance band leader. Hasselgard was thrown from the rear seat of an automobile when it struck a bridge abutment. Two friends who were riding with him suffered minor injuries.

KNETZER CREDITORS TO MEET DEC. 10 IN EDWARDSVILLE

Creditors of Robert L. Knetzer, bankrupt automobile dealer, will hold their first meeting Dec. 10 in the Madison county courthouse in Edwardsville.

Bankruptcy Referee Thomas Williamson will preside. Creditors of the Knetzer Motor Sales Co. will hold their first meeting next Friday. Both meetings will start at 10 a.m. in the courthouse.

In his bankruptcy schedule, Knetzer listed liabilities totaling $2,444,570 and assets of $181,299. His alfalfa field auto sales agent in Jerseyville, Arthur F. Kramer, also bankrupt, listed his liabilities at $2,387,065.

A. A. D. RAHN, MINNEAPOLIS LUMBER CO. EXECUTIVE, DIES

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 27 (AP) —A. A. D. (Andy) Rahn, veteran Minneapolis lumberman, and former Imperial Potentate of the Shriners, died yesterday at his nearby Lake Minnetonka home. He was 71 years old.

He had been associated with lumbering firms here since 1905 and at the time of his death was vice president of Shevlin-McCloud Lumber Co.

He formerly was Imperial Captain of the Guard of the Shrine and was elected Imperial Potentate June 9, 1938, serving until June 29, 1939.

MAN FALLS FROM DREDGE AND APPARENTLY DROWNS

Clint Bottoms, 4925A Highland avenue, fell from a dredging barge and apparently drowned in the Missouri river last night just west of Daniel Boone bridge. He was 39 years old.

Efforts to find the body were hampered last night because of fog. He was employed by the LaCross Dredging Co. of Minneapolis. The firm is making preparations for the laying of a pipeline across the river.

5th Person Connected With Case Of Doomed Man Dies; Hex Recalled

Judge, Attorney, Under Sheriff, Court Clerk and Detective All Heart Attack Victims Since Sentencing.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 27 (AP) —"All you guys who had anything to do with this case are going to die before I do."

That was what Jake Bird, itinerant Negro, said after he was condemned to death last November.

As though fulfilling what is now known as the Jake Bird hex the fifth person associated with the case died yesterday.

He was J. W. Selden, 75 years old, the lawyer who defended Bird. Like all the others, he was a victime of a heart attack.

Informed of the death in the Pierce county jail, Jake observed: "The Bible say rejoice when anyone dies, feel bad when anyone is born."

Selden represented Bird in his original trial until the death sentence was pronounced, Dec. 6, 1947. He had asked to be relieved of Bird's defense, but the court ordered him to finish the trial.

"My heart does not beat in sympathy for this man, who fixes his life as more important than that of others," Selden said of Bird at the time.

Others connected with the case who have died included: Judge E. D. Hodge, who died a month after reading the death sentence; Under Sheriff Joe Karpach, who died in January after questioning Bird concerning some murders in the Midwest; Chief Deputy Court Clerk Ray Scott, who died in mid-January and Detective-Lieut. Lyons who died Sept. 28.

Bird stalled off death with an appeal to the State Supreme Court. He lost the appeal and is now awaiting the Supreme Court's order for his re-sentence.

Bird was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Bertha Kludt, who with her 17-year-old daughter was found here a year ago bludgeoned to death with an ax. Later, authorities said, Bird admitted taking part in or knowing of the killing of 44 persons.

2 COUPLES KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES IN RAIN

Private Craft Carrying Chicagoans Falls at Sikeston, Mo.

SIKESTON, Mo., Nov. 27 (AP)—Two Illinois couples were killed yesterday afternoon when their two-engine plane crashed in a blinding rain at the southeast edge of Sikeston.

They were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Joh Arthur Munfield of Hillside, a Chicago suburb, and Mr. and Mrs. Myron T. Monsen Jr. of Chicago. Monsen was the owner and pilot of the plane. The four were en route to New Orleans on a pleasure trip.

Munfield, 36 years old, was manager for Maxon, Inc., an advertising agency. His wife, Estella, was 35. Monsen, head of a typographical company, was 35. His wife, Phyllis, was 32. Each couple leaves three children.

Just six minutes before the crash, which occurred near the Sikeston airport and about 100 yards from some homes, they were in touch with an airways weather station by radio and reported they were in trouble but would try to make Memphis, Tenn.

The plane, an Army surplus training ship, smashed into the ground with the throttles wide open, witnesses said.

The men were thrown clear of the burning wreck. The women were not, and it was long after the crash when their bodies were found.

Three Killed When Plane Crashes Near Bonnerdale, Ark.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 27 (AP)—Three flying brick masons were killed when their light plane crashed near Bonnerdale, about 20 miles west of Hot Springs, today.

They were Arville L. Neighbors, 28 years old; Ed Stephens, 35, and Charles A. James, 30, all of Hot Springs.

John Stover, operator of a Hot Springs flying service, identified the men as brick masons. He said they rented a plane, saying they were going to Arkadelphia, Ark., to see about a job. Neighbors was the pilot, Stover said. The scene of the crash is not on a direct route between Hot Springs and Arkadelphia.

Riley Long of Bonnerdale said he saw the plane looping above a highway. The crash occurred when it did not pull out of a loop, he said.

T.W.A. Plane Fire Laid to Landing Trouble.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—A Civil Aeronautics Board spokesman said yesterday preliminary reports showed no fire occurred in a Trans-World Air Constellation prior to its landing in a heavy fog at Los Angeles Thursday. The plane was destroyed. Eighteen passengers and a crew of five had left it safely.

The preliminary report indicates an unusually heavy landing which ruptured the fuel system and resulted in a fire, the official said.

DRIVER DIES AT WHEEL OF AUTO, MACHINE HITS HOUSE

Joseph A. Mendica Jr., a supervisor for the Lincoln Engineering Co., collapsed and died at the wheel of his automobile yesterday, while driving in Spring avenue near Kingsland court.

The machine went out of control as he attempted to drive into a filling station, jumped the curb and crashed into the side of the brick residence of Herman Schmid at 3851 Kingsland. The side door of the house and its storm door were smashed and the wall damaged.

Mrs. Florence Mendica, who was riding with her husband, was not injured. She said her husband, 40 years old, had been under treatment for heart disease. The Mendica home is at 3838 Bingham avenue.

Adm. Horthy Going to Argentina.

MUNICH, Nov. 27 (UP)—Adm. Nicholas Horthy, former regent of Hungary, is prepared to leave Germany for Argentina within two weeks, it was reported today. The report said Horthy would join his son in Argentina.

LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION OPENS RUN AT CHICAGO

Estimated $5,000,000 Worth of Cattle, Horses, Sheep, Swine at Show.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—An estimated $5,000,000 worth of cattle, horses, sheep and swine were assembled under a single roof today as the International Livestock Exposition opened for its forty-ninth annual eight-day run.

From 42 states and five Canadian provinces, exhibitors brought more than 12,500 head of livestock and almost 3000 samples of nearly perfect grains to compete in this agricultural world's fair.

Exhibitors, both junior and senior, will pocket more than $100,000 in prize money, in addition to receipts from sale of their prize stock, before the exposition closes next Saturday. Stock sold at the show a year ago netted the owners a total of about $2,000,000.

Farm boys and girls dominated the opening day of the exposition, parading their beautifully primped animals before judges in the junior livestock feeding contest.

The junior exhibitors brought 811 baby beeves to the exposition. These, however, were reduced to about 400 yesterday when animals that failed to meet the high standards of the contest were eliminated. The youngster whose steer is adjudged the junior grand champion will go on to compete against adult exhibitors in the open classes.

Stockmen show keen interest in the junior events, because a junior champion steer has won the exposition's most coveted award, grand champion steer of the show, 10 times since the international started in 1900.

Claude Milwee, the 19-year-old farm youth from Fort Cobb, Okla., who won the grand championship last year, is back again and hopes to repeat his accomplishment. His prize steer, Big Boy, netted him a total of $8800 at the 1948 show. His entry this year is named Big Boy II.

STORE OWNER INJURED BY HOLDUP PAIR, $40 TAKEN

Sam Stoler, 6266 Enright avenue, University City, was held up in his store this morning at 2202 Clark avenue by a Negro man and woman.

He told police the pair entered his store and ordered some groceries. While he was getting the merchandise the woman picked up a can of foodstuff and threw it at him, hitting him in the head. The Negro man then held him at the point of a knife while the woman emptied the cash register, taking $40.

Stoler was taken to City Hospital with a lacerated scalp and other possible head injuries.

What, No Dot?

SUPERIOR, Wis. — Donald Campbell, secretary-treasurer of a local foundry, places a dot after his name.

District Attorney Andy Borg said a foundry employe apparently didn't notice this when he affixed Campbell's name to 18 checks he made out with the company's perforating machine after office hours Nov. 18.

A bank employe noticed the dot was missing. That's why Joseph Liska of Cloquet, Minn., pleaded guilty to a charge of passing $2300 in forged checks. He was ordered held for sentencing.

Ditto, No FF?

WATERLOO, Ia. — Dale Gregory, 29 years old, was a construction worker employed by John Rooff & Sons, who are particular that their name be spelled with two Fs.

District Judge William T. Evans sentenced Gregory to 10 years in State's Prison on a forgery charge. County Attorney Blair Wood said Gregory forged seven checks totaling $340, using his employer's name on four of them. He spelled Rooff with one F.

26-Year Sleep.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—Fire Chief Leo Urbanski asked the city counselor's office to draw up a new ordinance defining the duties of firemen. The existing regulation requires the men to rise at 6 a.m. to "bed, feed and water the horses." The department hasn't owned a horse in 26 years.

No Ordinary Duck.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Three-year-old George McLaurine Jr. and his pet duck came to a parting of the ways because people wouldn't let them alone. Neighbors wanted to see and share the pet, which has four legs. Now the four-legged duck is on display at a zoo and George is looking around for another pet.

CLOSER BONDS URGED BETWEEN U.S., BRITAIN

Former Lord Mayor of Birmingham Discusses Affairs in England.

If there were a "European explosion" tomorrow, England would stand up to it as in 1914 and 1939, Norman Tiptaft, former Lord Mayor of Birmingham, said last night before the St. Louis branch of the English-speaking Union at a dinner at the University Club.

"The picture of an England down and out, whose only hope of survival is the kind-hearted charity of those who can afford to give to beggars, is not a true picture of Britain," he said.

"We shall get on our feet. It is to our interest to do so as quickly as possible. After all we are not far from Russia.

"In 1938 we got caught on a policy of appeasement. We don't suppose anybody would like to fight us now, but we're getting ready just in case."

Urging a closer relationship between England and the United States, Tiptaft stated: "given your tremendous production capacity and our bases spread all over the world, your nation and mine are capable of maintaining a perfect peace and handing on to those who are to come a finer world than that which has been our world to live."

The speaker expressed gratitude for American assistance to his country, saying "there was never a time when we more urgently needed help to stand on our own feet." He told how the English people were living with shortages of food, many items of which are rationed; clothing and housing.

"Transport is not alway easy," he said. "Labor is short; tires are not always obtainable; petrol is severely rationed.

"But Britain is at work. Our production is greater than in the prewar years; exports are 40 per cent above 1939; we will ship out more than 20 million tons of coal this year."

Tiptaft, Lord Mayor of England's second largest city in 1941 and 1942, is a retired industrialist. He is making a lecture tour as a private citizen, not as a representaive of the British Government.

ARSON SUSPECT QUESTIONED IN FIRE IN COUNTY HOME

An investigation was being made today by St. Louis county deputy sheriffs to determine if a fire at the home of Elbert Stewart 3339 Rex avenue, St. Louis county, Thursday night was incendiary in origin. A man was arrested for questioning this morning.

The blaze was discovered by neighbors of the Stewarts in a rear bedroom of the home, and extinguished before major damage occurred. The Stewart family was away from home at the time.

Deputies reported they found evidence that a window of the bedroom had been forced open and the fire apparently started by a burning rag being tossed into a child's crib in the room.

IRISH DAIL APPROVES ACT TO CUT TIES WITH BRITAIN

DUBLIN, Eire, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Irish Dail approved last night the cutting of the last legal tie with Britain and King George.

Sean MacBride, external affairs minister, said preparations are being made to celebrate independence day on Jan. 21, the day the "Republic of Ireland" bill goes into effect. The date is the thirty-second anniversary of the declaration of the Irish republic by the first Dail in 1917.

The Dail approved the measure —repealing the External Relations Act—on the decisive second reading without a record vote. It now goes to a committee for a prefunctory review and then a routine third reading.

WELDON SPRING TRACT TRANSFER APPROVED

Details of Use by U. of Missouri Receive OK of School and FCA.

Details of formal transfer of about 7900 acres of the old Weldon Spring TNT plant to the University of Missouri have been approved by the university and the Farm Credit Administration, which now holds title to the land, it was announced today.

The university exercised an option on the land in May 1947, acquiring the area for use as an agricultural experimental station, but details of the transaction were not worked out at that time.

The land, which cost the United States Government $1,151,333, will be transferred to the university for only $8200 appraisal fees, if the university uses the tract for 20 years for research and educational purposes. The university can use the land for any purpose after that 20-year period has expired.

If the University of Missouri wishes to obtain unrestricted title before 1968, it can do so by paying a purchase price of $253,250 less $12,662 for each year it has used the land for research and educational purposes. The United States Government can take over the area in the event of a national emergency.

Area included in the deal is virtually all the TNT plant land south and east of Missouri Highway 94. On the site the university plans to conduct experiments in water management, soil conservation, terracing, pond building, soil and crop management, pasture management, cattle breeding and forestry.

The administration area of the TNT plant, including 34.9 acres and 10 buildings, is being transferred to Consolidated School District No. 2 of St. Charles county, it was announced yesterday. Total original cost to the Government of land, buildings and equipment which the school district is getting for nothing was $634,000.

Arrangements now have been made for disposal of all of the original 17,239 acres in the plant site, with the exception of the industrial area, which will be held in stand-by status by the Federal Works Administration, and a 200-foot strip bordering the entire project along United States Highway 40, which is being reserved for sale to the State Highway Commission. The Missouri State Conservation Commission acquired 6935 acres for $225,750. Original cost of the land, buildings and equipment in the entire site was about $65,000,000.

OFFICERS OF A.V.C. WIN FIRST TEST IN FIGHT ON REDS

Convention Approves Suspension of 13 Chapters in New York City.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27 (AP) — Successful in their first showdown fight, administration forces were confident of pushing through a Communist purge resolution today at the Americans Veterans Committee convention.

The administration group last night won convention approval of action by the organization's National Planning Committee in suspending 13 New York City chapters and denying them delegate seats.

Suspension of the chapters resulted when Richard Crohn was seated as a delegate in a Metropolitan area A.V.C. council meeting last September. Crohn previously had been suspended by the planning committee for lending A.V.C.'s name to partisan political activity by appearing at a Wallace-for-President rally.

The convention approved also the planning committee's charter revocation of the Ernie Pyle chapter of New York and the expulsion of Morris Pottish, New York attorney who presided at the Metropolitan Area Council meeting. Crohn was a member of the Ernie Pyle chapter.

Administration leaders said they were confident of having the Communist resolution adopted. It declares the "totalitarian principles and destructive practices of the American Communist party are inconsistent with the democratic principles and constructive program of A.V.C. . . ."

KOREAN REDS PLAN TO INVADE SOUTH, EX-OFFICIAL WARNS

SEOUL, Nov. 27 (UP)—The North Korean People's Army will start marching into South Korea on the day the United Nations General Assembly in Paris is concluded, provided Soviet troops have finished their withdrawal from the north, a former official of the North Korean puppet government warned today.

Chung Sang Chin, former Vice Minister of Agriculture in the Soviet - sponsored government, wrote in a letter to South Korean Premier Lee Bum Suk that events are shaping toward an invasion by the Communist army. He did not say whether the presence of United States forces in South Korea would affect the alleged plan.

Chung, who escaped to South Korea because he was dissatisfied with the new northern government, told Lee 200,000 Communist troops, mostly Koreans, had returned to North Korea from the Manchurian Communist campaign and are taking the place of the withdrawing Soviet occupation troops.

RATE RISE RECOMMENDED FOR EXPRESS IN EAST, SOUTH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (UP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner yesterday recommended a uniform rate scale for the Railway Express Agency which would increase shippers' costs in the East and South from six to 99 cents a hundred pounds.

The agency estimated the proposed rates, which must be considered by the commission itself, would increase its revenues next year by $6,847,000, but still would not eliminate a deficit.

Under the proposal by Examiner Leonard Way, rates in the so-called Western district would be applied to the whole country. The Western district, the area west of the Mississippi river, would not be affected. Way said that on the basis of present operations, the costs of express service would still run about $51,000,000 a year more than revenues—even after the recommended increase in charges.

192 OLD CASES CLEARED FROM EAST SIDE CRIMINAL DOCKET

The criminal docket in St. Clair County Circuit Court was cleared yesterday of 192 old cases, some of which had been on the books for five years. State's Attorney Louis P. Zerweck explained that the action cleared the record for his successor, Richard T. Carter, who takes office next week.

Fifty-seven cases were second or third counts in crimes for which defendants were convicted. In 41 cases the witnesses had not been found, or had refused to testify; 33 charges had been disposed of, but had remained on the docket; 27 defendants were not found; 17 defendants had jumped bond; nine defendants had been convicted elsewhere on similar evidence; four defendants had died and four had been sent to mental institutions. Judge Ralph L. Maxwell entered dismissals on the State's Attorney's motion.

$10,000 VERDICT FOR WOMAN SEARCHED IN KROGER STORE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 27 (AP) —A search for a nine-cent bar of soap resulted in a jury verdict of $10,000 against the Kroger Grocery & Baking Co. in United States District Court here yesterday. The jury awarded the damages to Mrs. Paralee Hood, Louisville housewife.

Leonard C. Miles, department manager in a Kroger store, testified he thought he saw Mrs. Hood take the bar of soap during an afternoon rush hour last March.

Mrs. Hood filed suit, charging she was "treated pretty rough." Testimony showed she was halted at the store door. She testified a close examination was made in an effort to find the soap, but it wasn't found.

3 TRUANT BOYS ADMIT KILLING MICHIGAN HUNTER FOR SPITE

GAYLORD, Mich., Nov. 27 (AP) —Three boys last night admitted killing a Michigan deer hunter, 66-year-old Arthur King of Vanderbilt, Mich., while they were truants from school, police reported.

The boys were Richard Raymond Damer, 13, and his brother, Harry Lawrence Damer, 10, and Robert Lester Black, 12, all of Vanderbilt. The body of King was found Nov. 21.

The three boys at the time were playing truant from school, police said, and fired in spite at King when he refused their request to cut down a tree so it would fall across a power line to cut off electricity so they wouldn't have to go to school.

WINNER MATCHING SILVER DOLLARS GOES TO HOSPITAL

Drops Into Restaurant for Sandwich, Gets Into Game, Beaten by Loser.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 27 (AP) — Good luck in a game of matching silver dollars with strangers ended in a beating for a Dayton (O.) industrialist, he told authorities yesterday.

St. Vincent's Hospital listed Frank Welling, 41-year-old vice president and comptroller of the Univis Lens Co. in Dayton, O., in serious condition after he was beaten outside an East Side restaurant. His injuries: A broken nose, brain concussion, possible skull fracture, face cuts and several missing teeth.

Welling's concern had a violent strike last August but police said they found no connection between that and the beating.

Police said Welling entered a restaurant, alone, for coffee and a sandwich. In a booth, a restaurant employe was matching silver dollars with a man and Welling got into the game.

Welling won three straight times and at that point the man in the booth challenged the outcome and hit him in the face. Welling hit back, then headed for a phone booth to call police.

Another scuffle started and they were ordered outside by the employe. Once there, a second man joined the stranger and the two jumped Welling and thrashed him.

Gene Reynolds, 22 years old, Toledo amateur boxer, was found guilty today by Municipal Judge Edgar W. Norris of assault and battery in connection with the beating. He was sentenced to 25 days in jail.

23 STRIKE PICKETS ARRESTED, OVERTURNED WORKER'S AUTO

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27 (AP)—Twenty-three strike pickets were jailed today after a returning worker's automobile was overturned at the American Zinc Oxide Co. plant.

Those jailed included Robert Hollowwa and Ralph Locke, international representatives of the CIO Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union. The union has been conducting a strike at the plant since Aug. 13, and the common pleas court recently issued an order limiting the number of pickets at the main gate to five.

A company spokesman said 15 pickets accosted Carl Buckenberger, a machinist, when he arrived at the gate. An argument developed and his car was overturned.

Two special deputy sheriffs called the sheriff's office for assistance. Regular deputies rushed to the scene and took 23 pickets to jail. No charges were filed against them immediately.

GREEK STEAMSHIP AGROUND, SENDS URGENT DISTRESS CALL

SEATTLE, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Westport (Wash.) Coast Guard station reported picking up an "urgent" distress call today from the 7176-ton Greek steamship Mariam saying it was aground on Morant Cays about 20 miles southeast of Jamaica, in the Atlantic.

The Coast Guard said the call, which was relayed by another vessel, was confirmed by the Miami (Fla.) Coast Guard station.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (UP)—Search for the missing British ship Hopestar was abandoned today, the Coast Guard reported. The 37 crewmen aboard were given up for dead. The 5267-ton freighter was last heard from Nov. 14, 500 miles east of Newfoundland in the North Atlantic shipping lane when it reported "heavy storm damage."

FIRMS SEEK REORGANIZATION OF TUCKER AUTO COMPANY

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP) — A suit seeking reorganization of the Tucker Corp. under the federal bankruptcy laws was filed yesterday in United State District Court by five Chicago area firms. They claim Tucker owes them a total of $5461.

They alleged that Tucker, manufacturer of an as yet unmarketed rear-engine automobile, has had $10,000,000 in losses in the last two years, and is unable to pay its debts.

Last Monday an involuntary bankruptcy suit against Tucker was filed by three companies claiming $3068 owed.

GOV. MON WALLGREN THROUGH RUNNING FOR OFFICE, HE SAYS

SEATTLE, Nov. 27 (UP) — Washington Gov. Mon C. Wallgren said yesterday that after 16 years of politics he was through running for office and not a bit sorry. Wallgren has just returned from Washington, D.C., after a two-week visit with President Truman there and at Key West, Fla.

"I'm all through running for office, and I'm not one bit sorry," he said. "After 16 years—that's all."

Wallgren said he would be going back to Washington immediately after Republican Gov.-Elect Arthur B. Landlie takes office Jan. 12.

WOMEN SHOPPERS TO BE BARRED

COMPTON, Calif., Nov. 27 (AP) —Merchants here have enlisted Compton College football players to help protect the weaker sex from women Christmas shoppers.

So men can shop without endangering life and limb, no women customers will be allowed in Compton stores the night of Dec. 6. The football players will stand in front of the shops to give the ladies the straight-arm.

Stalled Driver Ignores Train Toots

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 27 (AP)—Aaron D. Richards, 27 years old, apparently doesn't give a hoot for a toot. Police found Richards sitting calmly in his stalled automobile on a railroad crossing early today. Six trains were held up. Richards, said police, just ignored the angry whistles. He was booked on a charge of public drunkenness.

Pope Receives Congressmen.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Nov. 27 (AP)—Pope Pius received members of the United States House Armed Services Committee today. The group includes Congressmen Short (Rep.), Missouri, chairman; Bishop (Rep.), Illinois, and Price (Dem.), Illinois.

STOCKS QUIET, STEADY, CHANGES ARE MIXED

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—The stock market finished another losing week on a steady note today. In the usual slow Saturday trading gains and losses just about offset each other. Changes either way were mostly in fractions.

Sales were 340,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks as well as all three individual groups closed unchanged.

Of 741 issues traded 283 closed down, 218 up, 240 unchanged.

Even small declines, though, were enough to put some issues at new lows for the year or longer. Chrysler and Chesapeake & Ohio, for instance, at one time hit bottom for 1948.

On Wednesday the market dropped to the lowest average level since mid-March. Since then there has been considerable fluctuation among individual issues but not much change in the overall picture.

Today's market was largely professional. Tax selling was probably the biggest drag on the price level. In addition a little switching and investment demand appeared.

Business news, including another batch of highly favorable railroad operating results for October, was largely ignored.

Ahead in the curb were Babcock & Wilcox, Humble Oil, Imperial Oil, Pantepec Oil, Reed Roller Bit, and American Light & Traction. Trimmed a bit were Canadian Marconi, Glen Alden Coal, Pancoastal Oil, United Shoe Machinery and Kaiser-Frazer.

HOG AND CATTLE PRICES SHOW ADVANCES FOR WEEK

ST. LOUIS LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE, Nov. 27—Hog receipts 700; butcher hogs 50c higher; practical top $24; one load $24.25; packing sows 25c higher; top $21.75. Cattle receipts 225, calves 50, carried over for Monday. Sheep receipts none.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Nov. 27—(USDA)—Weekly review of the livestock market. Slaughter steers and heifers closed the week steady to 50 cents higher, cows mostly 25 to 50 cents higher, bulls fully steady, vealers $1.00 to $3.00 higher and relacement stock about steady. Low choice steers topped at $33.00 with some high good $31.50. Otherwise good steers sold at $26.00 to $29.50, common and medium at $20.00 to $25.50. Odd lots of choice mixed yearlings reached $31.00, practical top $28.00, with most good heifers and mixed yearlings at $25.50 to $27.00, common and medium $19.00 to $24.50. MOTHER, STEPFATHER HELD IN FATAL BEATING OF CHILD

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 27 (UP)—A 22-year-old farm laborer was held on a murder charge yesterday in the death of his 23-months-old stepson, and the child's mother was held as a material witness.

Prosecutor Hugh M. Couch said that James Edwards admitted beating and shaking the baby, Victor Brummet. The child died of a broken neck in a hospital last Monday night.

Couch said Edwards first insisted the child fell off a step at the family's home. Yesterday, confronted with evidence of an Indiana state police lie detector test that Couch said was "in some degree successful," Edwards admitted harming the baby, according to Couch.

Couch said that foul play was suspected by Coroner E. F. Harvey when he found that death was due to a broken neck. There also was evidence of a cerebral hemorrhage and the boy's body was covered with bruises and cuts, Harvey said.

Bulgaria Recognizes Israel.

SOFIA, Nov. 27 (UP)—Bulgaria has decided to establish diplomatic relations with the Korean peoples republic (Communist government in Soviet occupation zone) and with Israel, it was announced today.

WHEAT LEADS RALLY AFTER GRAINS DROP

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—Grains rallied today after suffering a sinking spell during early dealings. Wheat led the late upturn, which pushed prices above the previous close, on buying which came in part from houses with southwestern connections. There also was a good deal of shortcovering prior to the weekend.

The initial sell-off, which hit corn hardest, was in response to developments in the maritime strike. Overnight 2000 Brooklyn longshoremen rejected an agreement to settle this dispute. This raised the possibility the entire union membership might turn down the settlement, thereby prolonging the strike.

A steamer from Fort William, Canada, was reported unloading 195,000 bushels of Canadian rye here today. It was also said another steamer with a larger carge was on the way here.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (AP)—The bond market was mixed and extremely narrow today. A few rails moved either way around a point but otherwise there were few changes beyond small fractions and numerous trades were completed at unchanged levels.

Railroad earnings for October and the first 10 months appeared to stimulate some interest in carrier obligations. Central Railroad of New Jersey 5s were up a point at 74. Frisco 4s were up ¼ at 82¼ at one time.

Bing's Other Show

Crooning Financier Peddles His Wares

By John Crosby

MORNING RADIO, which is becoming surprisingly literate these days, has been further enriched by a new 15-minute transcribed Bing Crosby show (8:45 a.m. E.S.T. Mondays through Fridays). The housewife, if she's nimble enough with the dial, can pick up Crosby at 8:45, jump over to Fred Waring at 9, latch on to Anna and Eleanor Roosevelt at 9:45, and thus get through about half of her chores without running into a single soap opera.

BING . . . HE OWNS STOCK IN THE COMPANY.

Since Crosby's voice is heard roughly 24 hours a day on radios and jukeboxes, the addition of a new Crosby program seems a little unnecessary but this one deserves mention if only for its financial implications. All news stories about Crosby these days dwell heavily on the financial angles. Having been exploited beyond the realm of further exploitation as the greatest entertainer of his day, Crosby is now regarded with some justification as one of the great wizards of finance and may yet go down in history as the Hetty Green of his era.

CROSBY, WHOSE income has already passed reasonable limits, was lured into this daytime program on a stock deal which may or may not become a basis for future deals. He acquired 20,000 shares of Vacuum Foods Corp., which puts out Minute Maid orange juice, the product he's sponsoring, and was also made a director of the corporation in a deal engineered by John Hay Whitney, who controls Vacuum Foods. His immediate paper profit, according to "Time" magazine, was $138,000.

However, if the stock rises—and that's exactly what the program is designed to do—Crosby is in on the ground floor of a very good thing. (Capital gains tax is 25 per cent, as opposed to income tax of around 77 per cent.) He also, of course, draws down a salary for this task. Some years back, as I recall, large fears were expressed that women were gradually taking over ownership of the country. I submit the Crosby business dealings as a possible indication the entertainers are making a bid to take it away from the women.

★ ★ ★

LET'S GET AWAY from this gross talk about money. "This is Bing Crosby" is a pleasant 15 minutes of old and new Crosby records introduced by the Groaner himself. On his first program Crosby offered his old "I Don't Stand a Ghost of a Chance With You" and a fairly new "160 Acres in the Valley" in partnership with the Andrews Sisters, who are never far away from Crosby. One Ella Fitzgerald record crept in there, too, so I guess the show won't be confined entirely to Crosby.

Between records—and you get just three—Crosby delivered one commercial after another. For a 15-minute program there was an awful lot of talk about orange juice. Crosby, of course, has chatted in the past about his sponsors, Kraft and Philco, but never with such vehement enthusiasm as this. Well, I don't suppose he owned 20,000 shares of those other companies. In the middle of the show, Dorothy Kirsten walked in and I rather hoped she'd sing a song. She didn't. She just dropped in to bum a can of orange juice. Crosby didn't have one on him so she sprinted right out again to the nearest grocery store.

★ ★ ★

KEN CARPENTER, Crosby's perennial announcer, is with him on this one, mainly, I guess, to keep him company. Since the singer handles both commercials and song introductions, there isn't much for Carpenter to do. Incidentally, a recent article in the magazine "Advertising and Selling" comments on the great sales impact "of a few words from a guy like Crosby." This being so, the theory, I suppose, is that a great many words from a guy like Crosby will have an even greater sales impact.

Art and commerce have never been linked so inextricably as in this one. And despite all this sordid money-making, it's a nice morning show. I just hope the great financier gets around to playing some of those splendid old songs—"Please," "Thanks," "Just One More Chance," "Moonlight Becomes You," "Shine"—made way back when singing was his paramount interest in life.

The Lost Rules

By Christopher Billopp

RULES are written instructions on how a game should be played. They are printed in a pamphlet that comes along with the game.

But the pamphlet has a way of disappearing, so that when it is wanted it can't be found. Then the players are thrown back on their memories. No two memories are ever the same.

Experience shows that each player's memory tends to emphasize rules which allow him to do things that are to his advantage. On the contrary, it emphasizes rules which forbid an opposing player doing things which are to his advantage.

★ ★ ★

CONSEQUENTLY, NO PLAYER will accept the rules as another player remembers or interprets them. If he did, he might as well admit defeat then and there.

To protect his chances of winning he must convince the other player of the faultiness of his memory. He must point out that "we have always played it that way." The opposing player, in sheer self-defense, will insist just as strongly that they have always played it the other way. None too politely he will charge the other player with consistently quoting rules to his advantage.

★ ★ ★

IF ONE PLAYER AT last is persuaded to yield, from then on he will complain bitterly of the handicap and the impossibility of his ever winning. The more he loses the more he will blame the situation on th rules as his opponent states them.

More often, however, he will leave the table in a huff, declaring that if that is the way they are going to do it he just won't play. He will return only if his opponent makes valuable concessions.

What Am I Saying!

AS my good friend, Jimmy Durante, has proved, a man may pay through the nose, but he can also get paid through his nose. A nose, I've always felt, is an organ that should be seen and not heard. Long experience in the care of the nose has taught me that there are two ways to keep it from turning red: 1. Avoid sunshine. 2. Avoid moonshine. FRANK MORGAN.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM age 39 and was going with a man the same age. We were planning to marry. Through his brother he met a widow. This woman has money and property so he turned me down and married her. Three months later he came and looked me up. He cried and told me he still loved me. He said he would stay with her till he could get possession of her money, then leave her and marry me. He came over another time, she found out where he was and came and got him. He said he would come back or phone me, but he never has. Now he is back in town, brought her with him, has a new car and everything and hasn't even looked me up. Will he enjoy money he gets this way and have any luck or do you think he will get paid back for treating me so dirty? I live for the day when he pays for what he has done to me. His wife is 47. I wrote her and told her what he was, that he doesn't love her, is only after her money, but I got no answer to my letter. Do you think that in time they will separate? V. K.

I fail to see how you can have any respect for a man who will not only throw you over for a woman who has more money than you, but who will weep and carry on and act so thoroughly despicable about it afterward. You acted pretty despicably in your own turn when you agreed to date another woman's husband, and later when you stooped so low as to write the letter you mention. The thing for you to do is remember that no one has the right to break up another person's marriage. This man made his own choice. Now let him work it out without interference on your part. As to his ever being paid back, if it is any consolation to you, anyone who marries merely for money usually earns that money forever after the hard way.

Dear Martha Carr:

MY GIRL FRIEND and I, [illegible] 14, recently went out with two boys we have known a long time. They are of a different faith than ours and attend a religious school, whereas we go to high school. They have asked us to go with them to a dance at their school. Our mothers have said we may go out with them just this once more then not again. Mine only agreed to let me go because the other girl's mother said she could and she knew how disappointed I would be. Do you think we should go to the dance, and do you think we should manage somehow to date these boys later on, in spite of our mothers? Or how can we get them to agree? C. B. C.

Since your mothers have agreed that you may attend the dance, go and have a good time. But if that is to be the last time, by maternal decree, then look on it as the last and don't attempt to deceive your mothers by seeing these boys at any other time. That would result in your parents' loss of faith in you and would end in the loss of some of the privileges you now enjoy. Of course you can always try to win them over to withdrawing the ban. But if your families prefer that you go out only with boys of your own religious affiliation, then make friends with those who are members of your own church. You'll find plenty of nice boys there I am sure. Now don't write me an irate letter telling me that all the parents in town have Martha bamboozled because I always agree that parents should be minded. No one has me bamboozled. I simply know from observation and experience that the majority of parents try conscientiously to do what is best for their children and parental discipline should be upheld.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A QUESTION that is not unusual in my pre-holiday mail is this one: "Can you help us? We've been married almost two years and are practically at our wits end because we find the problem of gift-giving ever increasing. My husband's family is extremely large and growing. It is customary for gifts to be given on Christmas, birthdays, wedding anniversaries, Mother's and Father's day, new arrivals, etc. We, who are the least well off, have been trying to conform, although giving less and less expensive presents. Even so, the expense mounts up. With Christmas ahead, I wonder if there is a solution. Being an 'outsider,' I don't know how I might break with this family tradition."

If you can't become expert enough with your fingers (or haven't the time) to make little gifts instead of buying them, then it is really up to your husband to explain the situation to his own family.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: Since we move around every few months because of my husband's business, how would you suggest that we have our writing paper marked so we both can use it? May it be Anthony and Louise Doe?

Answer: It is very unusual for a man and his wife, unless they are partners in a business, to have their names engraved jointly on their stationery. However, there is no rule against it and it does not matter which name comes first. The best thing I can think of would be to have a colorless hand stamp made that will emboss your address on the paper. When you move, merely have your new address put on the stamp. This will cost very little money and also will save wasting leftover paper.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: When a wedding reception is given several months after the marriage took place, should a present be sent if we are invited to the reception? Should it be sent to the house or to the scene of the reception, which is in an hotel?

Answer: It is not necessary to give a present unless you are especially interested in the bride or bridegroom. The present should be sent to their house.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: What is meant by clearing the table?.

Answer: It means that the salt and pepper pots are taken off as well as the salad plate. All the places are left plateless while the crumbs are brushed from the table. The dessert plates then are brought in.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: In a restaurant lately, the place was set with two knives, one rounded and of medium size and the other larger and with a pointed end. What are the names of these knives?

Answer: The larger knife was a meat knife and the smaller knife was for fish or salad—or perhaps butter.

★ ★ ★

DEAR MRS. POST: When a bride is being married in church but is not wearing white bridal clothes, may the men in the wedding still wear white boutonnieres and should the altar have white flowers?

Answer: Yes, certainly, but it is not necessary.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

My Day

-o-

By Eleanor Roosevelt

PARIS, Friday.

I MANAGED to get away from the wordy confusion that is the United Nations General Assembly and the Human Rights commission for a while yesterday. It was my first real break in many days and I was glad to have the opportunity to accomplish a few personal things.

I looked around for Christmas gifts to take home with me, but Paris seems to be only for little girls. I can get all sorts of things for the female species, but it is very difficult to find anything for little boys.

Franklin Junior and his business partner joined me. Their aerial business trip around Europe had been interrupted by bad weather, so they passed the time with me until flights were resumed and they could continue on.

* * *

AFTER THIS brief respite, I plunged back into the session arguing over the very important Article 27 of the Declaration of Human Rights. This is the article in which the duties of individuals to their neighbors and their communities are set forth.

We were, however, permitted to leave before the session's end—mainly because, I think, the chairman was appalled at the number of speeches scheduled for debate on this article. He undoubtedly thought it would be better if all of us retired for a short rest and started over again the next morning.

His judgment, if it was such, paid off, for the next day article 27 was voted on and passed without incident.

It reads:

"Everyone has duties to the community in which the free and full development of his personality is possible.

"In exercise of his rights and freedoms everyone shall be subject only to such limitations as are prescribed by law solely for purposes of securing due recognition and the respect for the rights of others and just requirements of morality, public order and general welfare in democratic society.

"These rights and freedoms can in no case be exercised contrary to purposes and principles of the United Nations."

The American delegation suggested inclusion of the words "rights and freedoms" in the second paragraph because it has been used so frequently in the declaration it was felt it also should be included in this paragraph for consistency.

Another change, a rather extensive one, also was made in this paragraph by the delegate from Uruguay. He suggested the original words "necessary to secure" be replaced with "prescribed by law solely for the purpose of securing. . . ."

Though this was accepted, it troubled many of the commission members, for they felt that this article should have moral and spiritual force behind it and that to limit it to "prescribed by law" was a mistake.

* * *

THE ARTICLE, incidentally, is very important, for it conditions practically every other article in the declaration of human rights. The USSR, of course, had wanted to say in this article—as well as in every other one—that the law of the individual country must govern rights that were declared or that these rights could only be obtained in measure in which laws of the country permitted them to be obtained.

In this point, the committee as a whole has not agreed. Since this is a declaration of the rights of the individual human being and since we are setting standards toward which all nations of the world shall strive, it does not seem wise to drag in legal points of the many different legal systems as represented in some 58 countries.

In some cases, however, religious differences and customs of the various countries will have to be considered. You can be sure that careful consideration will be given when the declaration is translated into five different languages.

It's an Idea

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

SWEET POTATOES have always been a Dixieland favorite, but in the north too many families see this vegetable only at holiday time. Don't overlook sweet potatoes in your day-to-day food planning for they should be served regularly from late fall to early spring. Not only are they economical, but they're richer in food value than white potatoes. About equal in iron content, the sweet variety has more calories and calcium than the white. One medium sized sweet potato contains more than our daily requirement of vitamin A, and more than one fourth our daily need of vitamin C.

Research shows that pressure cooking retains more vitamin C (about 83 per cent) than any other method, and that candying sweet potatoes is excellent for 74 per cent of the vitamin C is retained. Boiling is less advantageous.

There are many different ways to serve sweet potatoes as an alternate to the white ones—baked, boiled, broiled, candied, French fried, plain fried and mashed. They're good in cold or hot potato salad, and are used to make custard and soup. Mashed sweet potatoes can be substituted for pumpkin in making pie, too.

Other research on sweet potatoes indicates that practically all discoloration that occurs when peeling raw potatoes is prevented when the washed, unpeeled potatoes are kept in a water bath at a temperature of 125 degrees to 140 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes prior to peeling. Try this the next time you prepare them, checking the water temperature with your cooking thermometer.

Jiffy Candied Sweet Potatoes.

Two pounds sweet potatoes, one-third cup butter, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half cup light corn syrup.

Wash and peel potatoes; cut crosswise in one-half inch slices. Place immediately in melted butter in a skillet, cover, and cook over low heat for about 10 minutes, turning after about five minutes of cooking. When slices have browned delicately, add salt and pour corn syrup over them. Continue cooking slowly for five to 10 minutes longer until potatoes are tender and almost transparent in appearance. Serve hot with a light sprinkling of nutmeg or a squeeze of lemon juice if desired. Five servings.

Pineapple Sweet Potato Puff.

Mash five medium sized cooked sweet potatoes, adding one-half cup of pineapple syrup drained from canned sliced pineapple. Season with one tablespoon butter, three-fourths teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Brush five slices pineapple with butter and pile each slice with mashed potato mixtures. Top with butter and place under broiler until pineapple is warm and potatoes slightly browned. Five servings.

LOW COST MENUS SATURDAY.

BREAKFAST: Prune juice, fried cornmeal mush with butter and hot syrup. Pan broiled bacon strips.

LUNCHEON: Spanish eggs on toast (deviled eggs on toast with hot tomato sauce poured over grated cheese sprinkled over all, and baked in 375 degrees Fahrenheit oven until cheese melts); radishes, left-over chocolate cookies, canned Queen Anne cherries.

DINNER: Pan-fried ham slices, jiffy candied sweet potatoes, buttered white onions, grapefruit and lettuce salad, bread and butter cocoa bread pudding.

For adequate nutrition milk used daily in cooking and served as a beverage should total one quart for each child and one pint for each adult.

My Neighbor Says:

In making coconut cream pie, add some of the coconut to the filling and save some to sprinkle over the top.

Use quick-frozen fruits as soon as possible after defrosting.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

IN RECENT years some experts have substantially reduced their requirements for takeout doubles, in order to bring this valuable device into greater service. Undoubtedly, this is a worthwhile objective, but there is grave question whether the attendant risk is not prohibitive. Here is an example from actual play:

East, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠743 ♥Q106 ♦972 ♣AJ53
♠KJ962 ♥953 ♦KQ54 ♣Q		NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠5 ♥AKJ84 ♦A3 ♣10972
	♠AQ10 ♥72 ♦J1086 ♣K864

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1♥	Double(!)	Red'ble	Pass
Pass	1♠	Double	Pass
Pass	1N.T.	Pass	Pass
Double	2♣	Pass	Pass
Double	2♦	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

It will be seen that once South made his risky takeout double of one heart, he had to pursue (or thought he had to) a tortuous course, trying one escape bid after another, but landing, as so often happens, in almost the worst suit. When he added bad play to bad bidding, the outcome was a 900-point penalty!

West opened his top heart; East captured dummy's ten with the jack and returned his top spade. Declarer played the ten; West won and shifted back to hearts. For reasons best known to himself, declarer conceded both the king and ace of hearts to East, discarding the spade queen instead of ruffing. (Perhaps he feared that East had started with six hearts, but the bidding strongly suggested otherwise.)

East now led his last spade. South's blank ace won—and he now completed a miserable performance. Instead of leading the king and another club, and forcing West, he led a low trump. West ducking, East won and returned the suit. West took out still another round of trumps, then led a good spade, and South could make only his trump (for his second trick) and one club (for his third and last trick).

Take My Word for It

Readers' Corner.

LOS ANGELES: Your explanation that a fourflusher is a player who tries to win the pot by bluffing with a four-card flush is incomplete. Actually, the fourflusher shows his hand with the fifth card partly concealed and dishonestly claims the pot. From this poker expression we have the general meaning of fourflusher: One who makes petty and dishonest pretensions; hence, a phony or humbug.—J.B.T.

Answer: Thanks. I confess to a very scant knowledge of poker. But I bow to no man when it comes to old maid or casino.

San Fernando: Recently you gave the pronunciation of paraplegic as "par-uh-PLEDGE-ik." During my six months at Birmingham Hospital, where there are more than 100 paraplegics, I never heard your pronunciation. Everyone says "par-uh-PLEE-jiks." —W.M.R.

Answer: G.M.B., a registered nurse of Milwaukee, also tells me that nurses, doctors and patients always say "par-uh-PLEE-jik." If that pronunciation prevails in medical usage, it must, of course, be recognized as best usage.

However, let me point out that "par-uh-PLEDGE-ik" is the only pronunciation listed by Dorland's Medical Dictionary. Also, "par-uh-PLEDGE-ik" is the first choice of Merriam-Webster's, New Century, and the American College Dictionary. The word paraplegic is not listed in several other dictionaries. But Funk and Wagnalls list "par-uh-PLEE-jik" as only choice.

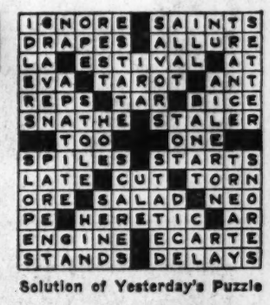

Visali: That "long" word you ran recently — transmagnificantibobantialy—is almost monosyllabic compared to this one: Papilliocartigeniusnigrescensalbaliniaropeextremitatibusalarium. It's the name of a small black butterfly. —G.L.M.
